Welcomed the Falke-

Ex-Captain A. Knapp, of the German army and a member of the Oregon City Council, returned the first of the week from Astoria, where as official representative of the German population of this city, he formally received and welcomed the German man of war, Falke, which reached Astoria Sunday afternoon en route to Portland. Mr. Knapp went over the bar and successfully brought the vessel in, demonstrating thereby a valuable knowledge of bars generally. This information was received Sunday evening by John Vigelius in a wireless telegraph message from Astoria. The same dispatch stated that while awaiting the arrival of the German vessel, Mr. Knapp amused himself with a tug-of-war contest with a large shark that is generally believed to be responsible for the loss. recently by Ernest Matthies, of the digit from his left foot.

Too Heavy to Weigh-

J. Klofenstine, who had arranged to pick his hops this season by weight, changed his plans after a few days pickar was robbed last Wednesday noon ing and had new tickets made with which to supply the pickers during the remainwaiting for lunch, and the burglar got der of the harvest. He says the hops weighed on an average of four pounds per box over measure, and he preferred to pick by measure in as much as the pickers were just as well satisfied. We have heard others raise the same objection. Out of the many who favored the method of picking by weight, when it was first suggested, are A Wolf & Son. among the largest growers in this vicinity, and it is understood that they are picking this season by measure. G. D. Bowen. Peter Cox, Haberlys and many others of the large growers are using the old method and it seems to give better satisfaction to the picker, so far as we are able to learn. Some of the growers in this vicinity are picking by measscales could not be obtained, and from all reports we judge that two-thirds of the growers in this part of the country did not adopt the method of picking hops by weight, notwithstanding all the talk in favor of that method of gathering the crop.—Silverton Appeal.

Governor Chamberlain Tries Innovation-Governor Chamberlain has adopted the practice of holding "court" at the State Prison once each month, for the purpose of hearing any grievances the prisoners may have or any petitions they wish to make. If any prisoner thinks he has been unfairly treated by the prison managenent he has an opportunity to make complaint to the Governor without the presnce of prison officials. Once a week the Governor visits the Penitentiary, and once month he holds a "levee" or court. when each prisoner who wishes may talk with him. The Governor ordered, early n his administration, that every letter addressed by a prisoner to him should be delivered just as written.
