BIG EVENTS AT PORTLAND FAIR.

Final Month of the Exposition Arouses Increased Interest.

PORTLAND, Or., Sept. 21.—The officials of the Lewis and Clark Exposition have decided to hold the closing exercises on Saturday, October 14. With nearly a month still to run, the Exposition is now at its height. Interest has been increasing from week to week and the final rush of attendance has begun. Last week Spokane, Washington was largely in evidence, several thousand people from that city being present to participate in the days assigned to them.

This week the big horse and cattle show has begun, to run until September 25. Many specimens of horseflesh and cattle, sheep and hogs are here and livestock men from all quarters of the country are in attendance. The show is held on the neck of the Government peninsula, just east of Uncle Sam's big buildings. Spacious stock barns were built for this show and the exhibition tracks and grandstands are well arranged for the occasion. Society has turned out in force to see the fancy horses. Great interest is taken in the prize competitions for the various classes of animals.

An increasing attendance of the prosperous farmers and their families, from the "Inland Empire" county is noted. The eastern visitors also are here in large numbers. Nearly 50,000 tourists' tickets have been validated in Portland this summer, showing the greatest volume of travel from the East ever enjoyed by the railroads.

One of the big days of last week was Thursday—Missouri day. Governor Joseph W. Folk, of Missouri, with his military staff, arrived Wednesday and spent two days at the Exposition. President Goode gave a dinner in honor of the governor Wednesday evening, and the Missouri commissioners honored their governor with a grand banquet at the American Inn Thursday evening. Former Missourians in large numbers flocked to the fair to take part in the Missouri day exercises and to meet the famous young man who now occupies the gubernatorial chair. Governor Folk was highly pleased with the exposition.

An additional reduction of railroad rates from all California points, beginning September 25 and running until the close of the fair, has been announced by the Southern Pacific railroad. It is believed that this will bring thousands of Californians to Portland for the closing weeks.

With special reduced rates from Oregon, Washington and Idaho points, the people are pouring into Portland. They realize that the time is short and that this is the opportunity of a lifetime to see a great exposition at a reasonable cost. Portland is still able to take care of all the visitors, and there is no complaint of "mouging" or extortion from the hotel and boarding house people.

STRAWBERRIES FOR NINE MONTHS.

Refrigerator Makes Possible to Ship Fruit From California to New York.

PORTLAND, Or., Sept. 21.—A new refrigerator chest, made especially for the purpose, will make it possible for people in New York City to eat strawberries on Christmas day. The very rich have been able to enjoy this luxury for some years, but now the comparatively poor can afford it.

The new chest was used from Wilsonville, Cal., to the Lewis & Clark Exposition, a three days' journey, and the berries attracted great interest, as did also the chest, the one because of the season, the other because it appears to be something new under the sun. Both were exhibited in California's handsome state building.

The refrigerator chest looks like a small ice box. The ice receptacle occupies perhaps one-fifth of the space, and is located in the upper part of the box. Beneath it is a space arranged like an oven, with small cleats on which, the berry boxes rest. There is room in the chest for 60 quarts of strawberries.

More strawberries are raised in the Paljaro Valley, in the vicinity of Wilsonville, than in any other locality in the world. There are 1000 acres of this fertile valley devoted to the fruit, and the crops are enormous. The harvest begins early in the Spring and lasts until along in January, when the heavy rains make the fruit unfit for shipment. The shipments in 1904 aggregated 700 car loads, equal to 100,000 chests, or 10,000,000 quarts.

One of the most interesting outside attractions for Lewis and Clark Exposition visitors is the Macleay Park and canon, which begins just outside one of the entrances to the Fair. There is no other park in the world like this. A narrow trail, just wide enough for one person at a time, leads up the slope on one side of the canon, gradually descending to the bottom, along which runs a purling brook. For a mile or more the trail leads through the deep canon, with great fir trees rising on each side and ferns as tall as a man, grow thickly. Then at the upper end, the sightseer climbs the narrow trail up the slope and along the mountain side, coming out at City Park, a beautiful place of landscape gardening. Macleay Park is left just as nature made it, excepting that the one narrow path has been cut through.

Strange Doings of Tight Places.

"The wind played a strange act last evening," said a well-known lady of this city. "You know how hard the wind blew last night? Well, it caused such a great suction that it made a moaning sound and kept the whole household awake. Our house is very tightly put together, too, but the suction knew no obstacles and the TIGHT PLACES THROUGH WHICH THE WIND WENT MADE THE NOISE.—Exchange.
