HOW TO CURE CORNS AND BUNIONS.

First, soak the corn or bunion in luke warm water to soften it; then pare it down as closely as possible without drawing blood and apply Chamberlain's Pain Balm twice daily, rubbing vigorously for five minutes at each application. A corn plaster should be worn a few days to protect it from the shoe. As a general liniment for sprains, bruises, lameness and rheumatism, Pain Balm is unequalled. For sale by Geo. A. Harding.

PARKPLACE.

Mrs. George Hamilton and son, Worth, were called to Portland Thursday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Hamilton's uncle, Mr. John Kenworthy, who died at his home, 568 E. Pine St., Portland, on Monday morning, at 9 o'clock.

Mr. Kenworthy was an old pioneer, and for over 25 years was steward of the Hawthorn Asylum in East Portland. He leaves a wife and one daughter and a number of relatives and friends who mourn his demise.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Brayton, from Clear Lake, Iowa, came last Thursday to visit Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Brayton of Parkplace. The two brothers have been separated for thirty-three years and it was a happy meeting for the old gentlemen. They attended the Lewis and Clark Exposition and were delighted with the scenic grounds and the fine exhibits at the Fair. They intend spending a year in the West before returning to Iowa.

Mrs. J. H. Jones has returned to her home in Oakland, California. Charles Cahill has returned to east-

It is being whispered around that wedding bells are soon to ring again in Parkplace.

The cold weather is causing a great demand for wool, and Captain Smith and Mr. Cummings are kept busy supplying the demands of the people and trying to keep the housewives good natured, with good wool.

SOME SEASONABLE ADVICE.

It may be a piece of superfluous advice to urge people at this season of the year to lay in a supply of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is almost sure to be needed before winter is over, and much more prompt and satisfactory results are obtained when taken as soon as a cold is contracted and before it has become settled in the system, which can only be done by keeping the remedy at hand. This remedy is so widely known and so altogether good that no one should hesitate about buying it in preference to any other. It is for sale by Geo. A. Harding.

MT. PLEASANT.

Mrs. Chas. Welton left last Monday night for Los Angeles, California, to attend the National W. C. T. U. Convention to be held there next week.

Mrs. J. H. Jones, Mrs. W. H. Jones and Mrs. T. C. Thomas called on Mr. and Mrs. Humphrey last Wednesday.

COUNTERFEITING THE GENUINE.

Foley & Co., Chicago, originated Honey and Tar as a throat and lung remedy, and on account of the great merit and popularity of Foley's Honey and Tar many imitations are offered for the genuine. These worthless imitations have similar sounding names. Beware of them. The genuine Foley's Honey and Tar is in a yellow package Ask for it and refuse any substitute. It is the best remedy for coughs and colds.

VIOLA.

Charles Hinchbotham, who is employed at Dubois' sawmill near Estacada, was a visitor at Mr. Sevier's Sunday and Monday.

Mrs. Sevier made a trip to the metropolis during the week. She returned with a fine new organ.

Mrs. Martin, of Forest Grove, is taking care of the new boy at the parsonage. Mrs. Patton and the newcomer are doing well.

A general wood-cutting and hauling bee was well attended for the sick folks Monday.

Dr. Mount, of Oregon City, still makes a trip to see the fever patients every alternate day. His patients are doing well thus far.

W. D. Brown is suffering with a sprained knee.

Harve Mattson is hauling lumber to improve his new farm which he bought of Mr. Rutherford.

NEW CURE FOR CANCER.

All surface cancers are now known to be curable, by Bucklen's Arnica Salve. Jas. Walters, of Duffield, Va., writes: "I had a cancer on my lip for years, that seemed incurable, till Bucklen's Arnica Salve healed it, and now it is perfectly well." Guaranteed cure for cuts and burns. 25 cents at Howell & Jones' drug store.

CARUS.

A CARD.

This is to certify that all druggists are authorized to refund your money if Foley's Honey and Tar fails to cure your cough or cold. It stops the cough, heals the lungs and prevents pneumonia and consumption. Contains no opiates. The genuine is in a yellow package. Refuse substitutes.

EAGLE CREEK.

Oct. 17.—The weather for the last month has been so rainy that the farmers have not been able to dig their potatoes or gather much of the fruit.

J. P. Woodie, who has been laid up for nearly two weeks with a sore hand, is able to commence work again. He goes to Damascus today to resume work on Mr. Mattuar's house.

There were several people from this section who attended the fair the past two weeks.

Mrs. Dr. Roberts has had her house moved back near the middle of the lot and a new kitchen built. Also a new fire-place, but on account of the rainy weather, the workmen have not been able to complete the work.

Grandma Sutor is quite well again.

Mr. H. J. Douglas has returned to Eagle Creek from Dufur, where she has been for several months attending her sick mother who died during the summer.

Mr. Edward Chapman of Umatilla county, is visiting friends here now.

A JUDICIOUS INQUIRY.

A well known traveling man who visits the drug trade says he has often heard druggists inquire of customers who asked for a cough medicine, whether it was wanted for a child or for an adult, and if for a child they almost invariably recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The reason for this is that they know there is no danger from it and that it always cures. There is no less danger in giving it, and for coughs, colds and croup it is unsurpassed. For sale by Geo. A. Harding.

HARMONY.

Oct. 17.—The farmers are waiting on the weather to become dry to dig their potatoes. There is quite an acreage of the tubers.

Mr. George Clarke, of this place, and Miss Habberlatch, of Clackamas, were married on Sunday of last week.

Rev. H. O. Henderson, officiated. The writer joins in wishing them success and a long and happy life.

Mr. Frank Hall, a student in the State Agricultural College, was calling on friends here last week.

Miss Etta Hall, a student in the State Agricultural College, was visiting with friends here this week, returning to Corvallis today.

Dryel Chapman is here from his ranch in Washington county. Mr. Chapman has rented three hundred acres of that county's choicest land.

Miss Jennie Johnson has returned to McMinnville after a few days visit with relatives here.

FULL OF TRAGIC MEANING.

Are these lines from J. H. Simmons of Casey, Ia. Think what might have resulted from his terrible cough if he had not taken the medicine about which he writes: "I had a fearful cough, that disturbed my night's rest. I tried everything, but nothing would relieve it, until I took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds, which completely cured me." Instantly relieves and permanently cures all throat and lung diseases; prevents grip and pneumonia. At Howell & Jones, druggists; guaranteed; 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

CANBY.

Mr. and Mrs. Pike and Mrs. Olson from Illinois, have been visiting for a few days with Mr. A. J. Burdette and family.

The Epworth League of the M. E. Church held their monthly business meeting at the home of the President, Mrs. Ella Kocher, on Tuesday evening.

Refreshments were served, and an enjoyable evening was spent.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. Church met at the parsonage on Wednesday afternoon.

An ice cream social, under the auspices of the Christian church, was held on Wednesday evening in the Knight's Hall.

Canby was well represented at the Fair, nearly every day for the past week.

Andrew Kocher and wife spent a day at the Metropolis last week.

Mrs. Boroughs and daughters and Miss Mae Cleme, were in Portland to witness the closing of the Fair. They report having a good time.

Mrs. Henrietta Cummings left for Omaha, to spend the winter and to visit her mother, whom she has not seen for several years. We wish her a pleasant visit.

MONEY IN SMALL POULTRY FARM

The question is often asked, does poultry pay Can a man or a family make a living on a small farm devoted to poultry? I would answer in the affirmative most assuredly and yet would not advise one to confine his whole attention to poultry alone. Small fruits and bees should be combined with the poultry and a splendid living made.

In poultry I would advise both the market and fancy breeds for in this way a person can dispose of the culls to a good advantage on the market as well as devote a part of the trade to fancy fowls. There is a good deal to learn about this caring for fowls and for this reason a person should not go in too steep at the start. Situated near a good town with ten acres of ground a person could have half of this in small fruits such as strawberries, raspberries and blackberries. These three ripen in such a time that one does not conflict with the other and all can be cared for in their respective seasons. On the rest of the ground there could be kept a cow and a few hogs, enough for home consumption as well as the yards for the fowls. On such a farm I would advise the rearing of chickens alone. Ducks might be reared in a part of the inclosure by themselves, but I would confine the business to poultry alone. On such a plant there could be kept from three to five hundred hens and their eggs together with the young stock raised both for the fancy and market would furnish a neat income. This added to the income from the fruits would make a handsome living. Added to this could be the income from judging fowls if one was gifted in that direction. All these things combined would assist the business. The fowls and young chicks could be turned in to the berry patches to a great advantage at different times of the year and especially during the summer and fall and in fact at any time when the ripe fruit was not on the vines. From the strawberry beds and other shrubbery could be sold plants and all combined there could be a good living off the ten acre farm. As a person prospered there could be additions to the farm and the business. On such a plant a person could handle poultry supplies and all kinds of foods, incubators, brooders, louse killers and everything that is used in the business among his neighbors and friends. Add to this a fresh egg trade and supply hotels and commission houses with strictly fresh eggs and work up a trade in this department. There are numerous ways in which money can be made even on a small place. The rule with farmers is to keep in is never known as they are an adjunct to the other interests. System in everything is what makes the business pay. Some men have become rich manufacturing louse killers and others have made a success on wind, for that seems to be about all they have to deal in. Of the latter class we have no word of commendation, but for the useful citizen the world over, who gives full value for money received, we have all the time and praise possible. Suppose now that on such a farm as we have described, we place three hundred hens. From each of these hens, if from a fair laying strain, there should be gathered one hundred and fifty eggs. This would make a total of 45,000 eggs. Taking out 3000 for hatching purposes and table use it would leave 42,000 to be turned onto the market and at as low a price as 15 cents a dozen these would bring an income of $630 besides having the surplus stock to sell. Of these at least 200 could be sold and of the larger breeds should average seven pounds apiece (this is low) and at 10 cents per pound would bring $140. The young stock sold on the market and for the fancy trade would bring in at least $500 more and as much more as the energy and good sense of the operator would add. The income from the fruits should be at least $200 per acre and allowing an acre for each kind of fruit mentioned above there would be $600 to add to the poultry business making a total of $1765 for the year and we are working on a low estimate all through. The work could be done by a family of ordinary strength and half a hundred colonies of bees, which have not been figured in, would pay the expenses of feeding fowls while the cow and swine would pay for themselves. The expense of keeping a horse and the family keep must be deducted and when it is, where is there a farmer on 160 acres of good land making more money than could be made on such a farm? Of course every body is not going into such business, but there is plenty of room for a great many more than there are at present. If a man was a reputable judge he could add from $500 to $1000 more each year and not neglect his own business either. Private scoring has become a business of itself and you can scarcely sell a good bird any more without a score card or at least it expedites the sale of birds to have a score card with each. In fact it is much better than the old way for both buyer and seller. This is the poultry business on paper, the real thing will bring many problems that we have not told you, but not more than will be found in any other business. There is cholera among hogs, blackleg and kindred diseases among cattle as well as the diseases of sheep or any other stock and these must be taken into consideration as well in the poultry business.—Farmer and Breeder.
