The editorial in last week's Enterprise suggesting that property owners promptly remove cord wood from the street when it had been sawed, has borne fruit already. On Wednesday, Pete Nehren, the obliging janitor at the court house, had sawed five cords of wood at his home on Main street. He was promptness itself and had the wood stored in his woodshed almost before the woodsaw men had abandoned the premises. Not only was the wood all removed from the street, but the refuse was all cleaned away and the street was as clean and tidy as does Mr. Nehren keep the court house building and grounds.

The municipal election will be held in Milwaukie the first Monday in December, and nominations of candidates will be made at a mass meeting which will take place in the Town Hall next Wednesday evening, says the Oregonian. Mayor William Schindler and Councilman Arthur Webster, according to the new charter, hold office for another year, leaving three Councilmen, Marshal, Recorder and Treasurer to elect. Change in the charter was made at the last Legislature so that hereafter there will not be an entirely new Council, but there will always be two old members. A meeting will be called early next week and all will be given a chance to get a nomination at this meeting.

New supply monthly report cards just printed at the Enterprise office. The attention of Clackamas county teachers is respectfully called to this announcement. Orders by mail, when accompanied by necessary postage, will receive prompt attention.

The "Carnation Club," a new social organization of this city, has had printed cards announcing a grand masquerade ball to be given at the Armory Hall in this city, Thanksgiving night, Thursday, November 30. Fox's orchestra, of Portland, has been engaged to furnish the music and the party promises to be one of the most successful of the Winter season. Four valuable prizes are offered, as follows: One each to the best dressed gentleman, the best dressed lady, the most comically dressed gentleman and the most comically dressed lady. The grand march will take place promptly at 8:30 p. m., and there will be a late car to Portland. The price of tickets will be: Gentlemen in mask, 75 cents; ladies in mask, free; gentleman spectators, 50 cents; lady spectators, 25 cents.

To Whom It May Concern. Notice is hereby given that I will not be responsible for any bills contracted by my husband or any other person other than myself.

IN THE CIRCUIT COURT

MILWAUKIE COUNTRY CLUB PROPRIETORS ARE INDICTED.

Youthful Horse Thief Committed To State Reformatory—Minor Matters.

Indictments charging Isaac Gratton and M. G. Nease, proprietors of the Milwaukie Country Club, with violating the state laws relating to pool rooms, were returned Monday afternoon by the Clackamas county Grand Jury. Another information charging Mr. Gratton with conducting a gambling house in violation of the statutes, was also returned. Senator Brownell, appearing for the defendants, stated that the two defendants would appear in court and plead at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning.

In the information by which Gratton and Nease were indicted jointly, they were charged with operating a pool room in violation of law relating to the maintaining of a public nuisance. The indictment was identical to that under which Nease was prosecuted in Multnomah county, the Supreme Court sustaining the judgment of the trial court in the trial of the case.

A second indictment was returned against Mr. Gratton who was charged with gambling. The two defendants were arrested on the charges with which they have been indicted, early last summer, and, awaiting examination in the justice court at Milwaukie, were held to the Circuit Court.

A not true bill was returned Monday by the grand jury against John Lauderman and Henry Schuler, who were charged with enticing two young girls, minors, from their homes in this city, and detaining them at a shack near Sellwood.

Judge McBride Monday afternoon granted a decree of divorce in the suit of Grace I. Jones against W. E. Jones. An order was made transferring to the United States District Court at Portland the $10,000 damage suit of Chas. L. Miller against the Willamette Pulp & Paper Company, of this city. Miller is suing to recover for injuries alleged to have been sustained by reason of the negligence of the defendant company by which he was employed.

Being arraigned in the Circuit Court Monday afternoon, Wm. H. Dark, of the Seattle Ind. who stole a horse and buggy in this city three weeks ago, pleaded guilty to a charge of larceny by baillee. Dark explained to the court that he is but 15 years and four months of age, whereupon his case was transferred from the criminal department and referred to County Judge Ryan, who ordered the lad committed to the State Reform School.

Tuesday. T. M. Allison, of Boring, pleaded guilty in the circuit court today to a charge of selling liquor without a license. He was fined $200.

Isaac Gratton and M. G. Nease, proprietors of the Milwaukie Country Club and indicted for conducting a pool room and gambling, have been given until Wednesday in which to plead.

Judge McBride today granted C. A. Hoffman a divorce from Clarence A. Hoffman.

Wednesday.

Pleading guilty in the Circuit Court today to an indictment charging them with committing an act that disturbs the public peace, Isaac Gratton and M. G. Nease, proprietors of the Milwaukie Country Club, were fined $100 which was paid. Mr. Gratton against whom an indictment charging gambling was returned, also pleaded guilty and paid the fine of $100 that was imposed.

Wm. Cunningham and M. C. Adkinson, saloon men of Estacada, pleaded guilty to charges of maintaining nickel-in-the-slot machines in their respective places of business, and, being assessed fines of $20 each, paid the same.

Judge McBride today granted a decree of divorce in the suit of Caroline Kuetmyer against W. A. Kuetmyer.

Judge McBride this afternoon granted an injunction restraining the Boring Junction Lumber Company and its employees from in any way interfering with the plaintiff's rights or trespassing on the premises during the pendency of the several suits against the defendant company in the circuit court.

The suit of E. C. Herren against Sarah E. and John Marks, being a proceeding to cancel a lease to a hop yard because of an alleged non-performance of the terms of the contract by the defendants, was today dismissed in the circuit court on motion of the plaintiff for a non-suit.

Thursday, Nov. 9. Judge McBride has arranged the following calendar of cases for trial: Friday, November 10—Eilers vs. Schear; November 13—Stubbe vs. Warner; November 15—Horren vs. Marks; November 16—State vs. Olds; and State vs. Higgins; November 18—Eagle Creek appeal; November 24—Zimmerman vs. Hawkins.

J. M. Olds and Edward Higgins, against whom the grand jury last night returned true bills charging them with assault with a dangerous weapon and simple assault, respectively, were arraigned in the circuit court this morning and their cases were set for trial next Thursday. The weapon with which Olds committed the alleged assault was a rolling pin. The arrest of these men on criminal charges is the result of a family quarrel as a result of which both were arrested, and, being found guilty in the justice court of assault and battery, were fined $50 each from which judgment they appealed their cases to the circuit court.

Judge McBride today granted Nancy L. McKune a divorce from Walter McKune. Sareptia McDowell, of this city filed suit for divorce from L. E. McDowell, to whom she was married in Coos county in 1880. Cruel and inhuman treatment and failure to provide for her are alleged. In this case Howard F. Latourette, a young attorney of this city, is the attorney for the plaintiff. This is Howard's maiden case and he may be assured of a good audience when the case comes up for trial.
