A week ago I fell and sprained my ankle badly. I paid no attention to it for a week until it was in a very critical condition, my limb being swollen and discolored to the knee. After three treatments by Marion C. George, the magnetic healer, I consider myself cured. He advertises himself as a healer of rheumatism and kidney trouble but I find he can do more.

W. A. Holmes, proprietor of the Parkplace Cash Store, this week issued a catalogue and price list that is a creditable piece of work. Mr. Holmes is an enterprising business man and if you don't think he does the business, just drop into his store any day. So large is his trade that he turns his stock several times each year, enabling him to keep a strictly up-to-date line of goods. He is offering some exceptional bargains for the holiday trade this year and if you have not received one of his catalogues you find it to your advantage to ask for one.

An eccentric tramp created something of an excitement among the people of Canemah Wednesday by representing himself to be a railroad surveyor and insisting that his survey for the proposed road would necessitate the removal of the general store belonging to Mr. Stokes. The stranger represented that the route of his railroad passed directly through the store building. Finding that his demands for an immediate vacation of the premises by Mr. Stokes were not going to be immediately complied with the fellow continued his way southward.

Watches that others have failed to make run properly especially solicited by R. F. Canfield, watchmaker and jeweler, opposite Huntley Bros., Main street, Oregon City. All work guaranteed.

In attempting to hold-up and rob Miss Physackley, of Canemah, early Wednesday evening, a lone highwayman was frustrated by the interference of a watch dog. The attempted robbery was perpetrated at the entrance to Canemah Park, the bandit demanding that the young woman hand over to him her purse and its contents. Miss Physackley hesitated to comply with the demand at once when the fellow seized her shopping bag and was in the act of wresting it from her grasp when the family watch dog that was the woman's sole companion, sprang between his mistress and the robber who lost little time in escaping in the darkness.

THE XMAS SEASON

HOW THE ANNIVERSARY WILL BE OBSERVED.

Numerous Cantatas, Sacred Concerts and Entertainments by the Different Churches.

The Christmas season will be generally observed as usual this year by the various churches of the city. The festivities will be inaugurated this Friday evening with a beautiful cantata by the First Congregational church Sunday School and the exercises incident to the anniversary will not be concluded until the following Monday evening. A brief mention of the exercises that will be held at the different churches follows:

Presbyterian.
After an appropriate programme has been rendered at the Presbyterian church this Friday evening, Santa Claus is scheduled to arrive and distribute gifts among the children, and others, from a large tree that has been beautifully decorated.

Methodist.
A Christmas cantata and other exercises appropriate to the season will be the program to be given by the Sunday School at the church tomorrow, Saturday evening.

Baptist.
On Saturday evening at the church the children of the Sunday School will give a cantata for which they have been practicing under the direction of Mesdames Miller, Andresen and Loder for some time. The usual presentation of candies and nuts will be made the little ones. There will be no tree.

Episcopal.
This church will hold exercises at Willamette Hall Saturday afternoon, a good programme having been prepared.

Catholic.
Monday, Christmas Day, will be regularly observed with special services lasting throughout the day. At Low Mass at 8 o'clock, Father Hildebrand will preach an English sermon and at a similar service an hour later will speak in German. Solemn High Mass will be celebrated at 10:30 a. m., with special music. In the evening the vesper service will be held.

Congregational.
The church is making the usual extensive preparation for the Christmas services. The Sunday School has been practicing an exceedingly delightful Cantata, entitled "Santa Claus Dream." About 60 children with 15 adults are taking part. This will be rendered on Friday evening with the usual treat given to the school. A mammoth Christmas tree will add to the pleasure of this occasion.

The choir has been rehearsing some excellent music for the Christmas services. The following is the programme:

A Few New Things in Dentistry

Have you seen the new filling material, Porcelain Inlaid Filling? They are the same color as the natural teeth, and they last longer than gold. We insert gold fillings without the rubber dam.

We make those combination metal plates for artificial teeth. They never crack or break like rubber. We make bridges of porcelain, removable bridges, bridges that you can replace a tooth easily if broken without removing the bridge.

We have a new and perfectly safe method of extracting teeth without hurting you in the least.

Call and see some specimens of the new work. Dr. Hirstel, of Portland, is with us. He is an expert in all gold and porcelain work.

Fruit Inspector Reid Orders Destruction of an Orchard.

Neglecting to spray his fruit trees as directed by James H. Reid, fruit inspector for Clackamas and Multnomah counties, E. F. Riley, a wealthy resident of Portland, was today ordered to cut down and destroy an orchard on some property that he owns at Milwaukie. This is the first instance since his appointment that Inspector Reid has been compelled to order the destruction of trees as a preventative of the further spread of the San Jose Scale or other fruit pests.

Inspector Reid is conducting a vigorous campaign in both counties in the interest of better fruit and the extermination of vermin of all kinds. He announces that he will conduct meetings with illustrated views showing the great danger to the fruit industries from horticultural pests, at every school house in the county when the residents of such localities manifest a sufficient interest in the situation to make of him such a request.
