Geo. A. Brown, of Maple Lane, has a good four-year old cow, also a three and 1/2 months old calf for sale, or will exchange for hay. It is rumored here that an Independent newspaper will be launched in this city about February 1, in the interest of Walter L. Tooze, candidate for the Republican nomination for Congressman in this District, and to further the candidacy of several candidates for the state legislature and for County offices. It is said the prospective publication will be published daily or at least semi-weekly until after the June election. These facts have leaked out from a meeting that was held by the interested promoters a few days ago.—Oregon City item in Oregonian.

Dr. L. L. Pickens, having just returned from the East, has opened in the Weinhard building one of the best equipped dental offices in the Northwest, with all the new appliances for doing dental work as it is done in the large cities, like New York and Chicago. Among the notable features of the Argonaut for December 25th, are, "The Heir of Christmas Flat," by Rufus Steele, a powerful story of mining-town life up Shasta way where-in is related how Judge Lynch officiated as Santa Claus; the famine in London, described in detail by the London Correspondent; Maeter Linck's powerful drama, "Monna Vanna," as the subject of a most interesting article; the question of Chinese exclusion, treated in an able and timely editorial; a review of the performance of "The Merchant of Venice," by society amateurs, with Richard M. Hotelling in the role of Shylock.

There is being taken much interest in the football game that is to be played at Willamette Falls Monday afternoon between the Barclay High School eleven and the Alumni of the same school. While the Alumni players outweigh by ten pounds to the man their opponents, the plucky high school team may be expected to put up a speedy game that will keep the older players guessing. The line-up in the game will be as follows: B.H.S. Position Alumni Canfield Center M. Mack Grace l g r O. Welsh Harding -g l V. Welsh Green r t l Sleight Woods l e r J. Ganong Roberts r e l Nehren Calif f J. Canfield Cole l h r C. Ganong Telford r h l C. Simmons Latourette g Miller Substitutes—Alumni, H. F. Latourette and Wilkinson; B. H. UNCLE JOSH TELLS OF MACHINE Says the Brownell Ball-Bearing Car is in Very Bad Disorder.

FROG POND, Dec. 28.—Editor Enterprise.—The Brownell machine has been getting some rude jolts during the past year and today it little resembles the ball-bearing affair of a few years ago. Today it creaks and grinds when it used to go without a jar, greased by the golden oil of corporation brand. Some of his ablest machinists quit him some time ago while others are on a strike. His loss of men has nearly prevented the starting of the machine at all. In years past his ante-rooms were crowded with applicants to help run the car, now he is advertising for help. The steering gear has been giving him no little trouble as he promised his backers that he had matters so perfected that he could take two roads at the same time and promises to aspirants for political jobs could be made to all even if some lived on Prohibition Avenue while others lived on Weinhard Lane. In proof of this he gives his course in the last Legislature on the Jayne bill. The wind has mostly escaped from the tires but he has satisfied his faint hearted co-workers that he has a large supply of air, properly heated, constantly on hand. As the air is of the promise brand, he has all their fears quieted. The cushions of his car used to be of the softest so that when it was once started all fears were allayed and forgotten and when George told his followers that he could hold up a railroad company, the state legislature, or be elected United States Senator they never questioned him. They especially believed him when he said he would divide with them. While none of them ever got anything they said he was a good fellow and that they liked hot air and no matter what he did he was not cold like some people that could be mentioned. Not long ago he told his followers that he was the biggest man in the United States and that he could and would run over Uncle Sam, himself. He and the machine tried it and landed in the ditch and while he crawled out with a big land fraud sliver in him, he says he was never touched. This hallucination is probably due to the fact that force of the blow landed on his cheek. This jolt has so staggered his followers that he is devising a new expedient and his followers say that he will have a newspaper to run during the campaign. The hope is that with a newspaper to "whoop it up" the boys can be won back and the machine run as in the days of yore. But there are people who do not care for machine politics, promises that are not to be kept, dishonesty and graft. And these people should and will mark for their political displeasure not only the boss, but his followers and strikers who sanction his course and act under his leadership. Their tale of woe will not be helped by the expedient of a newspaper run in the interests of the machine. UNCLE JOSH. SPRINGWATER.

Christmas has come and gone. The Christmas tree and entertainment given by the Sunday School was well patronized and was an enjoyable affair. Quite a number of presents were given and the little folks performed nicely both in recitations and songs especially the latter, under the management of Miss Emma Shibley. Three dollars worth of candy and nuts made the little folks happy. The Springwater Grange, P. of H., at their last meeting, held their annual election with the following results: Master, Rex Garden; overseer, Cary Cramer; steward, Abbe Stomer; assistant steward, Wm. Cleasner; chaplain, A. M. Shibley; treasurer, Esal Shibley; secretary, Emma Shibley; gate keeper, Ed Clossner; Pomona, Minnie Kandle; Ceres, Mary Shibley; Flora, Anna Stomer; lady assistant steward, Lora Stirmer. The weather has been quite changeable here of late mostly rain. Mr. Al Cary is quite ill. Miss Mary Courthers is on a visit to her aunt, Mrs. Ada Smith. Rex Gordon and Earl Shibley have gone to southern Oregon to enjoy their Christmas.
