TERSELY-TOLD TALES OF THE WEEK'S DOINGS.

Ex-Commissioner Bail—Cornelius Bair, former County Commissioner of Clackamas county, and a pioneer resident of this section, died Sunday at his home at Canby after a long illness. The deceased was aged about 85 years and is survived by three sons and one daughter.

Grocery and Saloon Attached—The grocery store and saloon business of A. R. McWilliams at Oswego, was attached Friday by Constable Trombath on an action brought by R. L. Sabth, representing Portland creditors, who seek to recover judgment for claims aggregating $1467.

Oregon City Wan—A basket ball team from this city Saturday night at Woodburn defeated the Business Men's team of that city by a score of 19 to 17. The players from this city were: Ed Williams, center; A. Williams and Blanchard, forwards; O. Roberts and Telford, guards.

Eastern Star Entertains—Last Friday night at the A. O. U. W. hall on Seventh street, the members of Pioneer Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star entertained the Masons and their wives with a clever program of much interest, a farce being included among the numbers. During the evening whist was played, the prizes being won by Mrs. H. Meldrum and Ted Osmund. Refreshments were served.

The January Number—of the Pacific Monthly creates a new era in magazine publishing on the Pacific Coast. Nothing of the kind has ever been attempted before. The half-tones were the finest possible, and were reproduced on the finest paper. The articles were by leading men, such as William Winter, dramatic editor of the New York Tribune; Doctor David Starr Jordan, president of Leland Stanford, Jr. University, and Julian Hawthorne.

Divorce in Short Order—But a very few minutes elapsed in the state circuit court here last Thursday from the time of the filing of the complaint until Judge McBride rendered a decree granting Katherine Hamilton, of Portland, a divorce from Ernest Hamilton. Other divorce decrees were returned the same day by Judge McBride as follows: Bistell Smith against George F. Smith; Victor Pirard against Bessie Pirard. The divorce suit of E. L. Wyatt against Bessie Wyatt was dismissed.

Church Holds Annual Meeting—Thursday evening the members of the First Congregational church to the number of about 100 assembled at the church, the occasion being the annual roll-call of the church. During the evening various reports were read showing the condition of the church and that of its auxiliary societies to be in good shape. Rev. C. F. Clapp, of Forest Grove, was present and made an address reviewing the progress of the church at the conclusion of which refreshments were served.

Fond of Satchels—J. A. Niles, who claims to be of Marion county, was arrested here Saturday night by Chief of Police Burns for the larceny of a satchel from Chas. R. Archard, a commercial traveler of Portland. The theft was committed on the northbound California overland just before the train reached this city. The stolen property was recovered but Niles had transferred practically all of the contents of the stolen grip into the contents of the satchel grip to stored. Archard declined to appear against Niles, who was released.

Apples Any Old Time—B. R. Thompson exhibited some green fruit in his office a few days ago that was certainly out of the ordinary even for Oregon—land of wonders, that she is. An apple tree standing in Mr. Thompson's dooryard bloomed last fall and Mr. Thompson has watched patiently to see what the result would be. Little apples was the result and some were showed to us. They have attained the size of marbles. If Mr. Thompson or anybody else can assure us fresh apples in March the problem of apple dunnings for spring is solved.—Corvallis Gazette.

Died of Heart Failure—William Robinson, aged 78 years, 6 months and 15 days died Sunday morning of heart failure at the home of his son, William Robinson, in West Oregon City. The deceased was born in northern Ireland but passed the greater part of his life in Canada, near Toronto. He lived in Oregon City for about five years. Besides a wife, he is survived by three sons and five daughters. With the exception of Francis C. Robinson, of Salt Lake City, and Wm. Robinson, of this city, the children reside near Toronto, Canada. Burial services were held at the home of Wm. Robinson on the West Side Monday morning, Rev. P. K. Hammond, officiating. Interment followed at Mountain View Cemetery.

Receiver Lawrence Was Confirmed—J. M. Lawrence, whose nomination to be receiver of public moneys at Roseburg was confirmed by the senate last Monday, was born at Flintville, near Green Bay, Wisconsin, 42 years ago this month. His early life was spent on a farm, and his schooling was obtained in the "little red schoolhouse" and the State Normal school at Oshkosh. He taught school two winters, and at 19 began new-

THE SECRET OF SUCCESS

"No, Sir! You cannot palm off any substitute on me. I've been using August Flower since I was a boy, and I'll have no other."

Forty million bottles of August Flower sold in the United States alone since its introduction! And the demand for it is still growing. Isn't that a fine showing of success? Don't it prove that August Flower has had unflinching success in the cure of indigestion and dyspepsia—the worst enemies of health and happiness? Does it not afford the best evidence that August Flower is a sure specific for all stomach and intestinal disorders—that it is the best of all liver regulators? August Flower has a matchless record of over 35 years in curing the ailing millions of these distressing complaints. 6 Two sizes, 25c and 75c. All druggists.

Monday evening, February 5, with a banquet. The occasion is in the nature of a return courtesy, as last year the Redmen gave a banquet for the Eagles, shortly after the organization of the latter order. The banquet is also in commemoration of the first anniversary of the organization of the Eagles' Lodge in this city. A. M. Sinnott, P. Flucaene, Frank Newton, H. W. Baker and T. Murphy compose the Eagles' committee on arrangements for the banquet. Dr. W. E. Carl will officiate as toastmaster. Vocal solos will be rendered, G. B. Dimick will deliver the address of welcome, and Charles W. Kelly will respond for the Red Men. Henry Pusey will act as accompanist, and informal speeches will be made by several of the members of the two lodges.

Receiver Lawrence Was Confirmed—J. M. Lawrence, whose nomination to be receiver of public moneys at Roseburg was confirmed by the senate last Monday, was born at Flintville, near Green Bay, Wisconsin, 42 years ago this month. His early life was spent on a farm, and his schooling was obtained in the "little red schoolhouse" and the State Normal school at Oshkosh. He taught school two winters, and at 19 began new-paper work as reporter on the Green Bay Daily Gazette. In 1888, he came to Oregon, and was for two years identified with the West Shore magazine, then for several years in newspaper work in Oregon City and Salem, and for more than five years on the staff of the Portland Oregonian. In the spring of 1903 he went to Bend as U. S. Commissioner, and after weathering the trying conditions there and seeing the advent of a new era, he is transferred to the Roseburg Land Office. In 1893 he married Miss Grace Williams, daughter of the late C. O. T. Williams, of Oregon City, and they have a ten-year-old daughter.—Umpqua Valley News. (Roseburg.)

Panorama of Finance and the Markets—As one would expect of a great metropolitan newspaper having the facilities of The Chicago Record-Herald, that paper always covers the markets and financial and commercial intelligence generally on a scale of exceptional fulness, covering two entire pages of each issue. The quotations on live stock, grain and provisions, stocks and bonds, and in fact every commercial and financial market in which the people of the Northwest are interested, are thoroughly complete and satisfactory. Special cables tell the story of finance abroad. The "Speculative Gossip," "Wall Street Talks" and "LaSalle Street Notes" are features of the Record-Herald market page that interest speculators from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast. They tell of the undercurrents in the grain and security markets. They relate personal gossip of the pits in its way as important as the humdrum and routine part of the day's story of speculation. The Wall Street letter of John Chambers summarizes the daily history of Gotham's money market in a most entertaining and instructive fashion. Examine the market page of any issue and see for yourself!

The Giltner-Forrester Nuptials—Edmund C. Giltner, the popular secretary of the Portland Chamber of Commerce, and Miss Zora Mae Forrester, of Gresham, were married, yesterday afternoon, at the home of the bride's parents, says Saturday's Oregonian. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Bruce Wolverton, pastor of the Christian Church in Portland, who went down for the occasion. Thirteen persons made up the bridal party. Miss Georgia Giltner, sister of the groom, and Miss Forrester, sister of the bride, served as bridesmaids, and Pinkerton C. Patterson, of Portland, the fiance of Miss Giltner, was best man. The others in the party were: B. E. Giltner, of Portland; Mr. and Mrs. Forrester, their two young sons and two aunts of the bride. The ceremony was performed under a huge bell of flowers, and the house was simply and tastefully decorated with greens and cut flowers. Promptly at 5 o'clock the marriage service was read, Mr and Mrs. Giltner came into Portland and here took the train for the South, heading for the honeymoon trail" to California. They planned to go to San Francisco and Los Angeles, but the illness of ex-Senator George Mc Bride, who is an uncle of Mr. Giltner, forms an occasion for their stopping off at Sacramento. Mr. and Mrs. Giltner will be at home after February 4 at 686 Everett street, pending the completion of their new home on Johnson street.

DANGER IN DELAY.

Prompt Action Must Be Taken To Preserve Health.

Kidney troubles are dangerous because they creep on so stealthily that they get a firm grip on the victim before he is aware of it. They manifest themselves in such varied forms that they are easily mistaken for other diseases.

Make no mistake. Do not delay. Treat the kidney now. The kidneys are sick and will not get well unless you use a kidney medicine. Doan's Kidney Pills is the certain, safe and prompt remedy for the kidneys only. It cures.

G. S. Cooper, farmer, living three miles northeast of Salem, Ore., on the Garden road, says: "I very often lifted heavy weights, but have since regretted having done so, as the result was that I strained my back and ever after had more or less trouble from dull, aching pains across my loins and other symptoms of kidney complaint. In some way Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my notice and the first time I went to town I dropped into a drug store and inquired about them. I was told they were highly recommended and advised to give them a trial. I did so. And while I did not follow the treatment as regularly as I should have done, being a poor hand to take any kind of medicine, the benefit I derived from their use stamps them as a remedy which acts fully up to the representations made for it." Plenty more proof like this from Oregon City people. Call at Huntley Bros' drug store and ask what their customers report.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

WHO SHE WAS

SKETCH OF THE LIFE OF LYDIA E. PINKHAM

And a True Story of How the Vegetable Compound Had Its Birth and How the "Panic of '73" Caused it to be Offered for Public Sale in Drug Stores.

This remarkable woman, whose maiden name was Estes, was born in Lynn, Mass., February 9th, 1819, coming from a good old Quaker family. For some years she taught school, and became known as a woman of an alert restored the family fortune. They argued that the medicine which was so good for their woman friends and neighbors was equally good for the women of the whole world.

The Pinkhams had no money, and little credit. Their first laboratory was the kitchen, where roots and herbs were steeped on the stove, gradually filling a gross of bottles. Then came the question of selling it, for always before they had given it away freely. They hired a job printer to run off some pamphlets setting forth the merits of the medicine, now called Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and these were distributed by the Pinkhams sons in Boston, New York, and Brooklyn.

The wonderful curative properties of the medicine were, to a great extent, self-advertising, for whoever used it recommended it to others, and the demand gradually increased. In 1877, by combined efforts the family had saved enough money to commence newspaper advertising and from that time the growth and success of the enterprise were assured, until today Lydia E. Pinkham and her Vegetable Compound have become household words everywhere, and many tons of roots and herbs are used annually in its manufacture.

Lydia E. Pinkham herself did not live to see the great success of this work. She passed to her reward years ago, but not till she had provided means for continuing her work as effectively as she could have done it herself. During her long and eventful experience she was ever methodical in her work and she was always careful to preserve a record of every case that came to her attention. The case of every sick woman who applied to her for advice—and there were thousands—received careful study, and the details, including symptoms, treatment and results were recorded for future reference, and to-day these records, together with hundreds of thousands made since, are available to sick women the world over, and represent a vast collaboration of information regarding the treatment of woman's ills, which for authenticity and accuracy can hardly be equalled in any library in the world.

With Lydia E. Pinkham worked her daughter-in-law, the present Mrs. Pinkham. She was carefully instructed in all her hard-won knowledge, and for years she assisted her in her vast correspondence. To her hands naturally fell the direction of the work when its originator passed away. For nearly twenty-five years she has continued it, and nothing in the work shows when the first Lydia E. Pinkham dropped her pen, and the present Mrs. Pinkham, now the mother of a large family, took it up. With women assistants, some as capable as herself, the present Mrs. Pinkham continues this great work, and probably from the office of no other person have so many women been advised how to regain health. Sick women, this advice is "Yours for Health" freely given if you only write to ask for it.

Such is the history of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound; made from simple roots and herbs; the one great medicine for women's ailments, and the fitting monument to the noble woman whose name it bears.
