TERSILY-TOLD TALES OF THE WEEK'S DOINGS.

Wants a Divorce—

Frank Manning has filed divorce proceedings against Marcella A. Manning whom he married at Cathlamet, Washington, in August, 1903. Desertion is alleged.

Death of Charles Ford—

Chas. Ford died last Thursday at his home at Willamette. Consumption was the cause of death. Ford was a native of Clackamas county. He was aged 48 years and is survived by a wife and four children. Funeral services were held Friday afternoon and interment took place in the Oswego cemetery.

Settled for $100—

R. W. Porter has accepted from Clackamas county $100 in full settlement of all claims against the county for damages received a few months ago while in the county's employ in the construction of the South End Road. By the explosion of a box of dynamite saps Porter sustained severe injuries and narrowly escaped with his life.

Roots Wins Suit—

Circuit Judge McBride has returned a decree in the celebrated and complicated suit of J. W. Roots against the Boring Junction Lumber Company, involving valuable timber rights. Plaintiff is awarded damages in the sum of $350 and the defendants are perpetually restrained from further removing timber from the greater part of the premises involved in the controversy.

Had No Funds in Bank—

A warrant issued from the Oregon City Justice Court Friday afternoon for the arrest of A. Fay on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. Fay succeeded in having a check cashed for $2.50 on the Commercial Bank in which he had no funds deposited. Fay left the city for Portland, but has since been located at McMinnville. He will probably be returned to this city.

Tooze Canvassing Clackamas—

Walter L. Tooze, of Woodburn, candidate for Congress from the First Congressional District, was in the city last Friday night and attended a meeting of the Woodmen. Saturday Mr. Tooze went to Logan where he addressed another meeting in the interest of his candidacy. Mr. Tooze is making a vigorous canvass of this county. While neither Hawley nor Huston, the two other candidates for this nomination, have addressed a meeting in Clackamas county, both have strong and influential friends here who are doing effective work.

Died at Redland—

Charles Benn, aged 42 years, died Sunday of dropsy at his home at Redland. Deceased is survived by a wife. He came to this state one year ago from Clark county, Wisconsin. Funeral services were held at the late home at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday and interment followed at the Redland cemetery. The deceased was a member of the Modern Woodmen of America.

Carter Files Petition—

E. P. Carter, of Gladstone, on Monday filed his petition for nomination as one of the three candidates for Representative on the Republican ticket in this county. Besides agreeing to vote for the people's choice for United States Senator, Mr. Carter says he will advocate the abolishing of railroad passes, oppose political graft and machine politics, favors taxing corporations in the same proportion as private individuals and the same standard of morality and honesty in public as in private life.

Milwaukie is Growing—

The pioneer town of Milwaukie has taken on new life and is now growing slowly but substantially. John Wetzler is completing two new cottages. A. Walker also is erecting a dwelling and F. H. Lochler is completing a handsome dwelling. The city will put up a handsome City Hall costing from $2000 to $3000 this year. Mayor Shindler is conservative, and wants the money on hand before the work is started, and does not want a debt on the municipality. He says that by July the city will be in a position to take definite steps toward the erection of a City Hall, but that he is opposed to starting before that time.—Oregonian.

Kruse Announces Platform—

Hon. J. L. Kruse, of Stafford, who served the people of Clackamas county in the House of Representatives during the session of 1901, has filed his petition with the County Clerk announcing that he will be a candidate for nomination as one of the three Representatives on the Republican ticket. Mr. Kruse subscribes to Statement No. 1, of the Direct Primary Law, and pledges himself at all times to vote for the people's choice for United States Senator. Mr. Kruse will endeavor to have repealed the present law regulating the burning of slushings and will work for a state banking law.

CONSUMPTION'S WARNING

Inside facts soon become evident in outside symptoms.—Dr. G. D. GREEN.

The aid of scientific inventions is not needed to determine whether your lungs are affected. The first symptoms can be readily noted by anyone of average intelligence.

There is no disease known that gives so many plain warnings of its approach as consumption, and no serious disease that can be so quickly reached and checked, if the medicine used is Dr. Boschee's German Syrup, which is made to cure consumption.

It is in the early stages that German Syrup should be taken, when warnings are given in the cough that won't quit, the congestion of the bronchial tubes and the gradual weakening of the lungs, accompanied by frequent expectoration.

But no matter how deep-seated your cough, even if dread consumption has already attacked your lungs, German Syrup will surely effect a cure—as it has done before in thousands of apparently hopeless cases of lung trouble.

BURNED IN SLEEP

FOUR PERSONS LOSE LIVES—MANY INJURED.

Mrs. Cochran, Formerly of Needy, One of Victims in Fire at Portland.

PORTLAND, Or., Feb. 13. — Four persons lost their lives in a fire of unknown origin that burned for five hours, wiping out rows of frame buildings on both sides of East Morrison, from Water street to the river yesterday. It was at first feared that the fatalities would be more appalling, but last night at 8 o'clock Deputy Coroner Arthur L. Finley announced that, in all probability, all bodies of the dead had been taken from the ruins. There is a possibility that there may be more buried under the great mass of debris.

For reasons believed to be sound, it is thought that the body of the woman, taken from the ruins after daybreak, is that of Mrs. Cochran, grandmother of Harry Cochran. The latter was a partner in the White Front saloon, under the rooming-house where the woman met her death. If the woman is in reality Mrs. Cochran, her death stands out as one of the most pathetic and thrilling features of the fatal fire. According to Mrs. Carrie Cooper, landlady of the house, the aged woman was the first to be aroused by the flames. She was up instantly, flying from room to room awakening those in peril. She succeeded in warning all the sleepers, started down the front stairs herself, but turned back upon remembering her pet canary.

"I heard Mrs. Cochran cry out that she could not bear to leave her canary to die," said Mrs. Cooper. "She turned and entered the building, which was enveloped in flames, I never saw her afterwards, and am convinced that her body now lies at the morgue. She had often told me that she would never part with her canary without making an effort to save its life. This occurred at times when we would hear the fire alarms."

The property loss approximates $50,000 with $30,000 insurance. The fire exceeded in the loss of lives of white persons any conflagration in the history of Portland.

The Dead.

Nathaniel P. Young, aged 35 years, cremated in East Side Transfer Company's barn. Edward Dalley, aged 8 years, cremated in rooms at 295 East Morrison street. Woman believed to be Mrs. Cochran, aged 65 years, cremated in rooming house at 287 1/2 East Morrison street. Unidentified man, taken from ruins of Alpine House.

Mrs. Cochran, who is mentioned in the foregoing report as being one of the victims of the fire, is a former resident of Clackamas county, having lived at Needy until a year ago when she sold her large farm and removed to Portland that her grandson might engage in the saloon business.

LINCOLN DAY CELEBRATED.

Woman Suffragists Hold Interesting Exercises at Oregon City.

For years it has been said, "The women of Oregon can vote whenever they show that they want to." From present indications the women want to. Altogether not less than 700 women of Oregon City, to say nothing of several hundred voters, personally met and listened to Miss Gail Laughlin Monday at the magnificent reception at the home of Mrs. Sarah Chase in the afternoon and at the Baptist church in the evening where a splendid programme of patriotic music and addresses was effectively rendered.

Mrs. Chase was assisted in receiving by her daughters: Mrs. G. L. Hedges and Mrs. L. Adams; Mrs. J. E. Hedges, Mrs. C. D. Latourette, Mrs. C. H. Caulfield, Mrs. G. A. Harding, Mrs. C. H. Dye and Mrs. C. W. Evans. No speaker that ever came to the Chautauqua platform at Gladstone Park ever left a better impression than did Miss Laughlin in Oregon City, Monday, where she modestly became spokesman for the women who cannot speak for themselves. Her arguments that the franchise for women was right, was just, was expedient and the next step in the development of individual liberty were received with applause and approbation.

"I always believed that," said many a pioneer mother, who had faced Indians, fought the wilderness and helped to make a home in the newest west. As Oregon City was the first Capital of Oregon and the Mecca of overland emigration, as might have been expected a large proportion of the women present were of the old pioneer stock honored in the history of the state and representatives of influential families.

Mrs. Sarah A. Chase, whose stately home like a castle on the bluffs overlooks Oregon City, is the daughter of John Stevenson, a personal friend of Abraham Lincoln, who served with him as fellow delegate to conventions at Springfield, Illinois, in 1853 with his family crossed the Plains to Oregon, settling at Springwater in Clackamas county. Inheriting much of her father's ability and energy, Mrs. Chase has become a financier, buys and sells and looks personally after extensive property interests, leaving her husband free to attend to his individual line of business.

On the platform with Miss Laughlin in the evening, besides Mrs. Chase, were Mrs. G. A. Harding, state president of the Women's Relief Corps, and granddaughter of the famous Samuel K. Barlow, who in 1846 built the first road over the Cascade mountains into Western Oregon; Miss Addie Clark, the accomplished and efficient superintendent of the Oregon City schools; Miss Laura Gregg, of Kansas, National organizer now managing the Suffrage campaign in Oregon; Mrs. Ida Porter Boyer, of Pennsylvania, Suffrage press representative, and Mrs. Eva Emery Dye, who presided. Mrs. R. C. Ganong, the popular Oregon City soloist, who bears the name of another honored pioneer of 1852, sang with effect "The Star Spangled Banner" and "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean," with chorus accompaniment by the choir. The stage decorations of flags, greenery and the portrait of Lincoln, gave an effective background to Miss Laughlin's text from Lincoln: "I go for all sharing the privileges of the government who assist in bearing its burdens, by no means excluding women."

A TRULY IDEAL WIFE

HER HUSBAND'S BEST HELPER

Vigorous Health Is the Great Source of Power to Inspire and Encourage—All Women Should Seek It.

One of the most noted, successful and richest men of this century, in a recent article, has said, "Whatever I am and whatever success I have attained in this world I owe all to my wife. From the day I first knew her she has been an inspiration, and the greatest help-mate of my life."

Mrs. Bessie Ainsley

To be such a successful wife, to retain the love and admiration of her husband, to inspire him to make the most of himself, should be a woman's constant study.

If a woman finds that her energies are flagging, that she gets easily tired, dark shadows appear under her eyes, she has backache, headaches, bearing-down pains, nervousness, irregularities or the blues, she should start at once to build up her system by a tonic with specific powers, such as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Following we publish by request a letter from a young wife:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham: Ever since my child was born I have suffered, as I hope few women ever have, with inflammation, female weakness, bearing-down pains, backache and wretched headaches. It affected my stomach so I could not enjoy my meals, and half my time was spent in bed.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me a well woman, and I feel so grateful that I am glad to write and tell you of my marvelous recovery. It brought me health, new life and vitality."—Mrs. Bessie Ainsley, 611 South 10th Street, Tacoma, Wash.

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Ainsley it will do for every sick and ailing woman.

If you have symptoms you don't understand write to Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free and always helpful.

Deserves Your Patronage.

The growth of a community and the success of its local institutions depends entirely on the loyalty of its people. It is well enough to preach "patronize home industry" but except the service given at a home institution equals that of out-of-town enterprises, this argument carries no weight and is entirely disregarded, as it should be. But with Oregon City people it is different. A few months ago E. L. Johnson established the Cascade Laundry. It is equipped with the latest improved machinery and is daily turning out work that is equal to any and superior to much of the laundry work that is being done in Portland. Being a home institution and furnishing employment for many Oregon City people it is enjoying an immense patronage. The high standard of the work being done commends it to the general public. Laundry left at the O. K. barber shop will be promptly called for and delivered to any part of the city. Telephone 1204. E. L. Johnson, proprietor.
