Brief Hits of Gossip From All Parts of the County.

ONE "PLEASANT HILL" ENOUGH.

Eagle Creek, Or., Feb. 27, 1906.
Editor Enterprise:

About once a year some correspondent attempts to give this part of Eagle Creek the name of "Pleasant Hill." People throughout the County are aware of the fact that there is a part of the county already named Pleasant Hill and that whenever some person in this neighborhood attempts to name this place Pleasant Hill, there would be a kick from some one in the real Pleasant Hill neighborhood. This place has often been termed "Bunker Hill," and "Pleaty Ridge." This place is about three miles from Eagle Creek postoffice.

The early settlers were Howlett, Douglass, Pankey and Gibson. Bert Douglass, the blacksmith of Stevenson, Washington, visited with his parents and brothers of this place the first of the week. Bert started for his Washington home Tuesday morning. He will soon move to Lincoln county.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Cook of Damascus, visited Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Douglass, Sunday, staying over night at J. W. Douglass'. Mrs. J. W. Douglass and Mrs. Cook are sisters.

Mr. Rudolph, of Dover, visited at H. S. Gibson's Monday. H. S. is baching on Piety Ridge.

Mr. North, of Highland, was in the neighborhood last week buying cattle. J. W. Douglass sold him six steers.

R. B. Gibson and wife visited at Barton last Sunday.

William Douglass and wife went to Barton Saturday.

Bina Douglass visited with Dora Gibson of Barton, Friday and Saturday. Dora came home with Bina and visited until Sunday. How well some like to visit.

Our teacher Mr. Karr, has not shown up yet. It was learned Monday that he was sick and would not finish his term. He went home more than a week ago.

The following Monday the pupils gathered at the school house and the teacher did not arrive, so the boys

Our old friends C. Koehler and Dave Yoder are setting on easy street waiting for good weather.

The Needy Justice of the Peace has been busy the past week holding court and dealing out justice to that gang of Needy toughs, and the end is not yet, as some of those toughs will hope to stand trial before Judge McBride at Oregon City in April. Let the good work go on and perhaps in the distant future a decent and respectable dance can be had at Needy.

What's the matter with Percy R.? he ought not keep his Without girl waiting for two hours and then go and spend the evening with an engaged young lady of Needy. (Cum tux.)

The speaking at Needy last Friday evening by Dimick and Schuebel was well received. A large attendance of voters were present, and Mr. Dimick was cheered for his bold stand against party bosses. That the Republicans will carry Needy, Barlow and Macksburg precincts is a sure thing, at least the registration so indicates.

About the last hops in this vicinity were sold Saturday at ten cents per pound. Just what was offered for them in November.

MOLALLA.

Prof. W. C. Hawley at the head of the Republican ticket, with unquestionable honesty, competency and inclination to serve his state in the capacity of congressman, is a matter of importance for all Republicans to earnestly consider on the 20th day of April at the primaries, for the first Congressional District; that we may Bright's Disease and Diabetes News.

Facts That Caused us to Take the Agency for the Fulton Compounds, the First Known Cure for Bright's Disease and Diabetes.

First, let it be distinctly understood that every one of the cases below had been diagnosed by one or more physicians as Bright's Disease or Diabetes and chronic and incurable; second, note the certainty of the results as shown by the recovery also of the friends they told who were similarly afflicted.

N. W. Spaulding, President Spaulding Saw Co., San Francisco, had a recovery in his own family and told several others who recovered.

Adolph Weske, capitalist, San Francisco, recovered himself and told two friends, who recovered.

Dr. Carl D. Zelle, pioneer druggist, 522 Pacific street, San Francisco, recovered himself and gave it to more than a dozen patients who recovered.

Chas. Engelke editor of the German paper, San Francisco, recovered himself and told it to a number who recovered, one of them being Charles F. Wacker, the Sixth street merchant.

R. M. Wood, editor Wine and Spirit Review, recovered himself and sold it to several who recovered, among them being an old-school physician.

Edward Short of the San Francisco Call recovered, also three of his friends, viz.: William Martin, Captain Hubbard of the Honolulu route and William Hawkins of the U. S. Quartermaster's Department, San Francisco.

John A. Phelps of the Hotel Repeller, San Francisco, recovered himself and sold it to several who recovered, one of them being leaving the German Hospital to go on the treatment.

And hundreds of others. Bright's Disease and Diabetes, heretofore incurable, are now positively curable and in nearly nine-tenths of all cases. STAFFORD.

We noticed in the Enterprise a few weeks ago some one thought the country correspondents ought to tell of farm products, how they were grown, who had made a success in any line, etc. and thereby lead their readers to an educational line of thought, instead of chronicling the small doings of the neighborhood, or words to that effect, while another felt moved to excuse the short-comings of said correspondents, because they were likely all girls, or women who had not much personal interest in the growing of crops. To the first cavalier one might say, if the correspondent's corner contained only statistics of the crops and no news, or one might call it harmless gossip of the neighborhood there would soon be a falling off in the subscription list. And it is strange too, when a county paper comes, two thirds of the readers turn first to the items from their neighborhood. A man said, for instance: "I had not heard of such and such things right here until I read it in my neighbor's paper. I must subscribe right off to find out what my neighbors are doing and keep posted." And he did subscribe.

And as to the excuse made by the second writer, that does not hold good, as to my personal knowledge some of the most gossipy and interesting writers for the county papers are of the sterner sex. My wife says it is a slam; and the unkindest cut of all, the editor seemed to agree with both of them. Ah, well! "such is life." What is one man's food is another man's poison.

We have had some inches of rain and would now enjoy some sunshine.

The neighborhood is quiet and not much sickness.

Mr. Wahelie, who caught cold, and was threatened with pneumonia, we are glad to say is better.

Some sneak thief entered the henhouse of Mrs. Barbara Moser, a widow and stole nearly all her chickens. Mr. Moser, the father, lost some saur kraut and three hens. A certain person is strongly suspected of being the guilty party and if caught in some of the traps set, will be dealt with according to their just deserts.

Gus Gebhart has been so rushed with outside work he has not had time to finish his barn.

Stafford has had quite a variety of teachers this year, a new one every quarter. The present one is a lady from Oregon City.

Mr. Weisenborn is talking of having an auction and going to California for his health. He has already sold his place.

The homeseekers do not seem to find our little valley. However there are not many ready to sell out. All seem quite content.

PARKPLACE.

Mrs. Ed. Natchen has gone to eastern Oregon for a visit with relatives. She hasn't been home for three years, so her friends will welcome her return.

Miss Aemilia Schwaebaur is going to learn the millinery trade. She expects to commence work in the Red Front store next week.

W. E. Johnson has been confined to the house for the past two weeks, caused by having teeth extracted. Dr. Strickland is in attendance.

Captain Apperson attended Grange meeting Saturday. We hope he will continue to improve in health and will soon be able to be about again!

Miss Effie Morris came home from her school last Friday to see her aunt, Mrs. W. S. Smith, who is still very low with rheumatism.

Charlie Smith has accepted a position on the railroad, weighing mail. His run is from Portland to Pocatello, Idaho.

Miss Mabel Kennedy gave a Washington party for her sixth grade pupils last Friday evening, which was a very pleasant affair. Gail Hamilton won one of the prizes, a nicely bound book of the Life of Washington. Miss Kennedy presented all the pupils with a nicely mounted picture of Washington as a souvenir.

Mr. Pierson and family have moved into the Louie Hemler house.

The young men of Parkplace have started a skating rink in Al. Richardson's building and the Parkplaceites are lulled to sleep every night by the beating of the drum and other such soothing sounds.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

LOGAN.

Oregon is her old self once more, rain and plenty of it.

Everybody had a good time at Logan Thursday night, some a better time, and some few the best time.

Miss Elsie Fallert starts for Olympia, Washington today to remain indefinitely.

Miss Lydia Steinman of Currinsville is visiting relatives and friends in Logan this week.

W. P. Kirchem is looking after creamery interests along the Molalla route this week.

The annual stockholders meeting of the Clear Creek Creamery patrons, will be held on March 19, 1906, third Monday in March. Don't forget the date.

One patron who milks four cows says they averaged eight dollars per cow last month and seems well satisfied.

I wonder how many farmers have read or will read "co-operation on the farm" in the Oregonian of Monday, February 27? All farmers in Oregon better read it and ponder a little, especially Grangers. How little farmers realize the benefits of co-operation and thorough organization. The writer in the beginning of his article says, "A common saying today is that co-operation is in the air. Almost equally common is the broad statement that "it stops short of the farm for farmers cannot and will not combine." He says "it is to some extent true, as otherwise Granges would be numbered by thousands instead of tens in each state, and the co-operative powers and provisions be more generally tested and developed." Such are my sentiments, the Granges could accomplish more of the real work of the order if the members only tried harder. Yet farmers are chronic kickers about this and that state of affairs. Then why not try to do more through the Grange? If not satisfied with chronic office-seeking candidates for offices, why not elect an honest farmer? One lawyer says the County Judge should be a lawyer, but that is only his opinion. There is a candidate for said office who is both a farmer and a Granger, now let us see which will be successful.
