ADAMS BROS.

OREGON CITY, OREGON

OREGON CITY'S BIG CASH STORE

Sensational Innovation!

The Big Cash Store adopts its own system of giving Premium Trading Stamps, which are accepted in exchange for many valuable presents. One free with each 10 cents you spend. Collect 300 and you can fill one book. It's the most generous permanent plan ever conceived of awarding those who concentrate their trading at ADAMS BROS. The public helps us by keeping all of our shopping facilities active. We help the public by bestowing, without one cent of expense, these profit-saving stamps. They are rapidly collected.

Explanation

In order to give our trade the same benefits of cash discounts that are offered us by the wholesalers, and to increase our cash sales, we have arranged to offer our customers a line of premiums that embrace every desirable article, from silverware to furniture and rugs. As the most attractive and easiest way to distribute these premiums we have provided a special system as follows:

To all customers trading at our store and paying cash will be given ONE PREMIUM TRADING STAMP for each 10 cents spent. As obtained, stamps are to be pasted in the blank squares on the pages of a book we will give you. When all are covered, bring the book to our store and select from our assortment of premiums the article you like best. It becomes yours absolutely free of charge.

In using this system we feel that we have adopted a means of advertising that will pay us and accordingly are willing to offer splendid values. The prices on our goods are in no way affected by the system—you simply get additional value in return for cash.

Some people grow old rapidly, others carry their age well. But there is still another reason why some people never grow old, and that is the infrequency of birthday anniversaries. This is the case with Charles Albright who has a birthday but once every four years. He was born February 29 and although he informally observes March 1 as his birthday three out of the four years, still he adds but one year to his age for every four year period that he lives.

Preliminary work has been started on the erection of shops and car barns for the O. W. P. Company on the grounds south of East Clay street, where the power plant is located, says the Oregonian. When completed the cars that have been repaired and housed at Milwaukie ever since the Oregon City line was built will be housed in the new terminal grounds. Milwaukie is found too far from the city for housing and repairing cars. There are 70 cars to be provided quarters for.

N. F. Nelson, of Harding Precinct, independent candidate for State Senator, returned yesterday from a tour of the southern part of the county. He reports that crops of all kinds are looking exceedingly well and the farmers are prosperous and contented. Tuesday afternoon at Soda Springs, Mr. Nelson says a man from Salem, whose name he did not learn, had a fit and at last accounts was not expected to live. Regarding the political outlook, Mr. Nelson says he considers his prospects very bright.

"A strictly closed season will be maintained on the Columbia river this year," said Deputy Fish Warden H. A. Webster who left Wednesday for the Lower Columbia. The closed season begins on the 15th inst and continues for a month and in order that all illegal fishing may be prevented the authorities of Washington and Oregon will co-operate and maintain a thorough patrol of the river. Oregon this year has two patrol boats and Washington has one, and all three will do service on the Columbia. Numerous balliffs will see that the fishing laws are enforced on the Willamette and Clackamas rivers.

ARE YOU A FARMER?

If you are, then you need a good farm paper. The Enterprise has a splendid offer. We will furnish the Enterprise and the Oregon Agriculturist and Rural Northwest, the best agricultural paper in the large section it serves, both one year for only $1.50—the price of the Enterprise alone. This farm paper is highly recommended by the leading experts on farming, stock raising and fruit growing. This offer is a snap. Call at the office or mail us your subscription.

Born, Saturday, March 3, to Mr. and Mrs. Otto Ashbaugh, an 11-pound son.

P. A. Cochran, of Woodburn, Democratic candidate for nomination as Congressman in the First Congressional district, was in the city Tuesday interviewing the leading members of his party in Clackamas county. Cochran, who in his platform says he is an "American citizen and then a Democrat" and declares that he is "with Roosevelt and Henry in ferretting out graft," is very sanguine of the result of the primary election and says he will surely land his party nomination over his opponent, Charles Galloway, of Yamhill county.

Dropping the broom with which he was working on the streets of the city, Joe Aron, a city prisoner Tuesday afternoon took to his heels, and, although closely pursued for some distance by Street Superintendent Marley, dashed across the suspension bridge, winded his pursuer and escaped. Aron is a professional beggar and was recently run out of Portland. He came to this city to ply his vocation only to be arrested and sentenced to 50 days' imprisonment in the city jail with work on the streets. Aron made an unsuccessful attempt to run away Monday but was overtaken by his guard and made to return to work.

W. A. DIMICK, Recorder. 3-16.

At a well attended meeting at Canby Monday night the details of the Direct Primary law were explained by C. Schuebel and addresses were delivered by a number of the candidates for nomination on the county and legislative tickets. Those speaking were: G. B. Dimick, for Judge, Geo. Randall, for Representative; W. M. Shank, coroner; John Lewellen, commissioner; O. A. Cheney and J. A. Tufts, treasurer.

In reporting a recent meeting of the Gresham Development League, the Record of that city says: "H. E. Cross, a prominent attorney and business man of Oregon City, was present and gave the League a good practical talk on the benefits to be derived from co-operation and urged all present to permit no dissensions to arise between them, but to work together as one family for the benefit of the town and country. 'Develop the resources at hand rather than seek fortune elsewhere' was his advice."
