FREE MILLING ORE OF GREAT VALUE AT OGLE CREEK.
 Ledge Discovered that Will Go From $1000 to $3000 Per Ton—Local People Interested.
 News reached Oregon City Tuesday evening that a ledge of free milling ore going from $1000 to $3000 per ton was encountered a few days ago at Ogle Creek mine, in the southeastern part of the county. This immensely rich ledge, extending four feet in width and eighteen inches thick, was discovered while making raise from lower tunnel to upper tunnel, the lower tunnel penetrating the mountain between 400 and 500 feet.
 The exact extent of the ledge is not known, but miners have turned out much ore that goes from $50 to $300 per ton and this awaits starting of stamp mill which will be placed in operation as soon as an ore chute can be constructed.
 The news of the rich find was brought to this city Tuesday night by I. W. Rivers, who arrived direct from the mines, bringing convincing samples of ore. There is much interest locally in the news since the stockholders of the company owning the mine consist largely of Oregon City and Portland people.
 A press dispatch from Condon under date of the 19th inst., has the following concerning an early resident of Oregon City: "William Cornett, who died at his home in this city March 16, crossed the plains from Missouri in 1853, acting as captain of the train which he accompanied. Born in Jackson county, Missouri, in 1821, he first settled at Oregon City, after crossing the plains, and later removed to Polk county, and in 1880 to Gilliam county, where he has resided ever since."

 At a meeting of the City Council Wednesday night the matter of finally deciding as to the purchase of a new hook and ladder truck was deferred until a special meeting to be called for that purpose. The matter of the improvement of Twelfth street was also postponed until that time. In this proposed improvement the number of petitioners is exceeded by the number of remonstrators, the number of lots involved, being considered. Max Bollack reported that he had examined the records of the city for the last ten years and had found them properly kept. He recommended that a new system of records be adopted by the city and this matter was referred to the finance committee.

H. M. CAKE FOR SENATOR.

Oregon Needs Such a Man in the United States Senate.
 Oregon needs a man like H. M. Cake to represent her interests in the United States Senate.
 Mr. Cake has demonstrated what he can do by the leading part he took in the movement to organize this state along lines for greater activity in development. He was one of the leading factors in the great exploitation work which contributed so much to the magnificent success of the Lewis and Clarke Exposition.
 Mr. Cake gave his time and energy to this movement without expectation of personal reward. He is a firm believer in the policy of electing United States Senators by the direct vote of the people and says that if he is elected to the Senate, he will make every possible effort to bring about an amendment to the Federal constitution taking this power out of the hands of the legislatures and placing it with the people.
 He is a strong friend of the workingman of this country and is vigorously opposed to any modification of the Chinese Exclusion Law that will lay down the bars to the pauper labor of China.***

STATE PRINTING OFFICE

"All the Law Allows" Versus "A Square Deal for the State"

There is, perhaps, no office to be filled at the coming election which is so important to the state from a financial point of view as that of State Printer. The average voter never gives the office a thought, and yet it is the one office of all the state offices where thousands of dollars may be squandered or saved to the state according to the desire of the incumbent of that office.
 The present incumbent, Mr. Whitney, in conducting his campaign for a re-nomination, justifies his record by saying that he has taken no more than the law allows, and has printed nothing except such as was ordered printed by the Legislature. This plea looks plausible upon its face, but to those who know the inner workings of the office and the lobbying that has been done to induce the Legislature to order large quantities of work which is of no value to the state, simply to fatten the emoluments of the State Printer, it is known to be a sham and evasive plea, set up to fool the people.
 Mr. Whitney does not promise any reform in methods should he receive the nomination and election, and it is fair to presume that he will continue to "take all the law allows," and to see that the law allows everything possible in the way of printing. That is what he conceives to be his right and privilege—that is what he is there for—and he promises no change for the future.
 That being the case, it becomes the part of wisdom for the people of the state to see that a man who will promise reform in those methods which have cost the state so much shall be nominated and elected. They have the chance and probably will take advantage of it. Mr. Willis Dunway, a printer of unquestioned ability, a Republican whose party fealty has never wavered, a man whose integrity is above reproach, is asking the people for the nomination for the office of State Printer. He promises that no jobs shall be worked through the Legislature to fatten the fees of his office. He promises a new deal and a square deal to the people, and he should be and probably will be given a chance to show the difference between "all the law allows" and an economical administration of this important office.

CLACKAMAS FARMER DISAPPEARS

Mind Becoming Unbalanced, Leaves His Home.
 Imagining that some one was pursuing him for the purpose of taking his life, John Heinrich, a farmer aged 52 years, residing near Clackamas, rose at 2 o'clock Monday morning and after bidding the members of his family farewell, left his home and disappeared. Not the slightest tract of the missing man has been found, although the north end of the county has been thoroughly searched.
 Heinrich's mind first became unbalanced Sunday and in addition to imagining that his own life was in danger he at times threatened self-destruction.
