The 2-months-old infant of Mr. and Mrs. John Marks, residing on a farm near here, met with a mysterious death yesterday, says a dispatch in Thursday's Oregonian from Canby. Mrs. Marks put the child to sleep in the baby carriage and left her 2-year-old son to look after it while she went into the garden to work. After an absence of half an hour Mrs. Marks returned to find her child bleeding profusely at the mouth and nose. A physician was telephoned for, but the child died before he arrived. Two theories are advanced as to the cause of the child's death. The first is that the little brother drove the baby carriage against the wall of the house, causing the baby's head to strike violently against the side of the carriage; the other is that the child was in some mysterious manner smothered.

DRAWING TO A CLOSE.

and he and his friends contend that he is entitled to the second term that is generally conceded a faithful officer. Mr. Maddock is making an effective campaign and makes friends wherever he goes. He should and will receive the full republican vote.

Clerk.

If efficiency and competency count for anything, County Clerk Fred W. Greenman will be elected by a tremendous vote. Mr. Greenman, without a single exception, has made one of the best clerks Clackamas county ever had. The records of the Clerk's office are a testimonial to his efficiency while it is known that the expense to the taxpayers of conducting this office was never less than it has been under the administration of Mr. Greenman in the year that he has been in charge of this department under appointment by the County Court. Mr. Greenman is qualified for the place as he has demonstrated. Besides, he is entitled to the office and is deserving of the vote of every elector irrespective of party who can consider tion. Mr. Ramsby is especially fitted for the office he seeks, having for nearly four years served as a deputy in that department, during which time he has become thoroughly acquainted with every detail of the work. Mr. Ramsby will receive a magnificent endorsement at the hands of the voters of the county June 4th.

Treasurer.

And there's "Old Man Paddock," of Clackamas. J. C. Paddock, the old veteran from the north end of the county, who will fill the office of Treasurer for the next two years, has a host of friends throughout the county who will with pleasure testify to their appreciation of his services in the 60's by dropping a vote for him in the June election.

Coroner and Surveyor.

In the four years that Coroner R. L. Holman has served the people of Clackamas county in that capacity, the expense to the taxpayers has been kept at a minimum. Inquests have been held only when the circumstances warranted and at no time have needless witness bills been incurred. Voters who appreciate such an administration of this office, which can be made a source of great expense to the county, will do the proper thing by supporting Mr. Holman. Having no opposition, S. A. D. Hungate, of Molalla, will be elected surveyor.
