CHAUATUQUA.

Now that the political campaign is over, Clackamas county citizens, and LOOKING BACKWARD AND FORin fact the people of the entire state, can well afford to turn their attention to the Willamette Valley Chautauqua rare advantages that are offered in such a creditable programme.

NOW, KEEP CLEAN.

Wednesday was "cleaning-up day' with Oregon City people. The improved appearance of the city's streets business property and many private residences bears testimony that the day was very generally observed. Mayor Caufield's proclamation, urging a cordial response on the part of the citizens, was complied with. The result is that the general appearance of the city has been improved, sanitary conditions have been benefitted, and the danger from fire on account of innumerable rubbish heaps has largely disappeared with their removal.

Now that the city has been placed in a presentable condition and can pass inspection of the many tourists who visit this historic city every year, citizens should strive to keep the place as attractive as it now is. It will be an easy matter to keep yards and streets reasonably clean if a little effort is made and by doing so the necessity for setting aside another day a year hence for "cleaning-up" will be obviated.

Next Wednesday we celebrate an tirely dispense with the firing of crackers and other explosives, neither would we muzzle the patriotic celebrator. But let's observe the day after a reasonably sane manner. The anniversary and what it means can be commemorated without the indiscriminate use of giant bombs to the danger of life and property. If you must be boisterous, purchase your fire crackers, proceed to a side street and shoot them off to your heart's delight, but don't assemble where the throng is the largest and disturb and annoy those who prefer a more quiet demonstration. There is a city ordinance that prohibits the sale and exploding of fire crackers other than the small and comparatively harmless size, within the city limits. This ordinance should be strictly enforced.
