GREATER OREGON CITY HAS 7000 POPULATION

SCHOOL CENSUS SHOWS 2142 PERSONS OF SCHOOL AGE—POPULOUS SUBURBS.

County Superintendent of Schools Zinsler has completed the totalings of the school census taken last February and reported last month. The figures show there are 8490 persons in the county between the ages of four and twenty years, and the county will receive school money on that number for the school year beginning next October.

The smallest number of persons of school age reported from any one district is eight. The number in the Oregon City district is 1247. This indicates a population of 4053 in the city at the time the census was taken.

Those figures are misleading to those unacquainted with the situation for this city has a number of suburbs adjoining the municipal limits that are to all intents and purposes a part of the city. The suburbanites work in our factories, do business here or trade here.

Counting within a two mile limit there are at least 7000 people. This is proven by the school census of the following: West Oregon City 191, Parkplace 346, Mt. Pleasant 69, Canemah 148, Willamette 141, or a total of 2142 children of school age.

On the same basis the population of the county last February was 27,590, a number certainly within bounds. Of the 8490 children enumerated, 4412 were male and 4078 female.

Superintendent Zinsler is very busy getting out his annual report, the magnitude of which one can appreciate when one knows that over 800 separate items are carried out in many columned detail.
