Joehnke-Riggs.

In a wedding characterized by beautiful simplicity, Miss Helen E. Riggs and Mr. Carl W. Joehnke were married Tuesday evening at 8:30 o'clock, under the spacious lawn of Locust Grove farm, Mt. Pleasant. The couple stood beneath a bow of ferns and roses arched between two large locust trees. Rev. P. K. Hammond pronounced the impressive ring ceremony of the Episcopal church. About 60 guests were present.

The lawn was attractively lighted by Japanese lanterns, and the path of the bride from the house to the altar was marked by a row of these lanterns. Leona Kellogg and Ernestine King, appropriately gowned, served as flower girls, while Miss Nellie Swafford presided at the piano and played Lohengrin's wedding march. The bride was given away by her brother, Fred Riggs, of Portland, and the bridesmaid was Miss Mona King of Ilwaco, Wash. The groom was attended by Melvin C. McCord, of Portland, as best man.

The bride wore white net over white silk with a veil, and carried a shower bouquet of carnations. The bridesmaid was dressed in white organdie and also carried a bouquet of carnations.

Following the ceremony and the showering of congratulations refreshments were served on the lawn.

The bride is one of the city's prettiest and most popular girls, and the groom is a young man of integrity and splendid future. He is the general delivery clerk in the postoffice. After a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Joehnke will be at their home in their newly furnished cottage on Jefferson street.

Gaiety in The Mountains.

Gresham, July 30.—A crowd of Clackamas people had a jolly time at Snag Camp in the mountains, even if not many berries were picked. Berries are scarce this year. Last Friday morning every one was aroused from his comfortable nest by a parade of 2000 head of sheep that came through the camp. Men, women and children were called out to stand guard over camp. The parade lasted from 4:55 to 6:30 a. m. Snag camp is nicely situated and the most beautiful scenery can be seen from there. The last evening spent there by this party was given over to singing by Mrs. P. T. Davis, Willa and Arthur Johnson and Miss Hazel Siefert. Instrumental music was furnished by Pete Davis and Frank Morton. Snag Camp is an ideal camping site, and a great place for a good time, so at least think the following who composed this party: Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Morton, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bachman, Mrs. P. T. Davis and son Pete, Willa, Arthur, Lawrence and Roy Johnson, Leona and Luella Morton, Hulda Blaufus, Hazel Siefert, Lydia, Jennie, Joe and Jessie Bachman.
