TERSELY-TOLD TALES OF THE WEEK'S DOINGS.

City Man Will Try Stockraising—

A part of the Rees donation claim near Highland has been bought by Roland Robinson of Portland, who will conduct a stock farm.

They Want to be Carriers—

W. G. Langsford and Robert McClintock, both of Oregon City, took the rural carrier's examination at the local postoffice Saturday. Eight had formally applied but only the two named appeared.

Grape Crop Under Average—

The grape crop on the hillsides about Milwaukie will be below the average this year, says J. H. Broetje, who ascribes the shortage to the excessive warm weather that prevailed at the time the vines were in bloom.

Assault Charge Dismissed—

The charge of attempted criminal assault against Gledon Krigbaum of Garfield, was dismissed, Friday, by Justice of the Peace Livy Stipp, who held that the testimony at the trial did not support the allegation in the complaint.

Sheep Creek Bride Deserts—

Edmund W. Clark, in a divorce suit, filed in the Circuit court, says his wife, Georgia M. Clarke, deserted him in June last year. They were married at Sheep Creek, Alberta, Canada, in July, 1893. The plaintiff asks for the care and custody of their four children.

Only One Left Alive—

Owen Woods, of Tacoma, who visited Oregon City friends for several days last week, is the last surviving member of the crew of the steamer The Senator, which blew up at Portland in the year 1875. At the time of the accident Mr. Woods was quite severely injured.

Aching for a Divorce—

George Walker Ake aches for a divorce from his wife, Elsie Myrtle Ake, after a married life of 18 years. He avers she left him a year ago in Portland, and their two children are with her. He doesn't ask for the children, but simply a severance of the bonds that bind him to Elsie.

Responsible for Dogs' Acts—

Fred Blum was given judgment for $20 by Justice Stipp, Saturday, against Henry Baars and John Kauffman. The suit resulted from the killing of Blum's sheep by dogs belonging to the defendants. Five sheep and six lambs were killed, and Blum alleged that several other sheep belonging to him were injured by the same dogs. He sought to recover $46.

No Boxes, No Free Delivery—

The fourth assistant postmaster-general has notified Postmaster T. P. Randall that before an additional free delivery route can be ordered established three fourths of the families living along the route proposed must erect approved mail boxes and the postmaster must certify to this fact before service can be commenced.

Deep Thirst Allayed—

J. B. Charles of Albany, parched by residence in "dry" Linn county, came to Oregon City Thursday last week, and before midnight was carrying a load of mingled hop and corn juice that amazed all beholders. He was accommodated with a bed in the city lock-up, and paid a sufficient sum to Recorder Dimick the next day to pay for the trouble he caused.

One Dollar Reward Awaits Lad—

A big silver dollar is in Secretary Cross' hands awaiting Robert Dubois, left as a reward for his honesty in returning a valuable gold watch he found at Gladstone Park during the Chautauqua. Miss E. M. Casto owned the watch and she gave the dollar to Mr. Cross for Dubois, but the latter failed to leave his address. Nearly all of the lost articles during the session were recovered.

Wants Land at Currinsville—

The Oregon Water Power & Railway company is negotiating for a strip of land on either side of its right of way through the west half of the Hugh Currin donation claim at Currinsville, owned by Mrs. Dianna Currin. The track is bounded by heavy timber and the company seeks the right to cut this timber down far enough on each side of the track to prevent any possibility of them falling across the rails.

New Road at Viola is O.K.—

The new hill road at Viola is big value for the money, according to Judge Dimick, who with J. A. Cain, made an inspection drive out that way last week. The two miles of fine highway is paid by a special tax on the land benefited, about $800 being raised by that method. Judge Dimick and Mr. Cain drove from Highland to Viola over the old Pioneer road, a road seldom used and hardly known except to residents of that vicinity. Only one team had been over it this year.

Identity Still Unknown—

The identity of the unknown dead man that was found in Sucker Lake at Oswego has not yet been learned. Coroner R. L. Holman received a letter from Mrs. Samantha J. Davis, of Clackamas, who thought the dead man might have been W. R. Stacks, who disappeared from his home near Clackamas June 11 and has not since been heard from. But the description supplied by Mrs. Davis in no particular tallies with that of the dead man, who is generally considered to have been a stranger in this section of the country.

Mrs. Collins Prefers Bacon—

Mrs. Nora Collins has instituted suit in the circuit court against Edwin Collins for a decree of divorce. They were married in Columbia county, Oregon, August 30, 1891, and have two children, Wilbur, aged 14 years, and Hazel, aged 11 years. She alleges that her husband deserted her in October, 1902, and during the last three years has utterly failed to contribute towards the support of his family. She asks for the care and custody of the children, and wants to resume her maiden name of Nora Bacon.

Girls Cling to Overturned Boat—

A rowboat capsized in the Willamette river, opposite St. Johns church, Oregon City, on Thursday afternoon of last week, and the four occupants of the boat, Lloyd and Evelyn Harding, Wallace Caulfield and Moretta Hickman, were narrowly saved from drowning. They escaped with only a bad scare. The two young men were rowing the girls across the river at a point near the Catholic church, where the stream is of great depth, when the small craft, which was loaded beyond its real capacity, encountered a few small swells from a passing steamer.

that had apparently wasted themselves of strength, and immediately capsized. With splendid presence of mind the two lads, who are good swimmers, retained a hold on the overturned boat with one hand and each instantly seized one of the girls, who were told to hold to the side of the boat which was then conveyed to the bank by the two boys without further mishap.

SAFETY MEASURE FOR LIFE AND PROPERTY

list of delinquent assessments and the immediate collection of same. This notice and an ordinance establishing sewer district No. 5, are printed on page six of this paper.

An ordinance was passed repealing the ordinance granting franchise to the Oregon City and Suburban Railway company; also one repealing the ordinance granting franchise for electric railway and elevators to T. F. Ryan et al.

The ordinance assessing the cost of the improvement of John Quincy Adams street from Sixth to Seventh streets ($1062.25) was passed.

A resolution was adopted providing for paying two bonds of Sewer District No. 2, due September 1st, for $500 each.

Cemetery Sexton Elected.

F. Williamson and C. Blum applied by letter for the job of cemetery sexton. Blum, the present sexton, was elected by six votes to one for Williamson. There is no salary attached to the position, but the fees for digging graves are said to provide a fair wage. The sexton is by the charter to give one day's work per week toward the general care of the cemetery, but this is not enforced, said the Mayor.

John Bittner, contractor for the Fifth street improvement, was given a warrant for $905.

The Mayor was empowered to look after needed repairs to the fountain at Seventh and Main streets.

Prisoners in the city jail tamper with the lock on the iron lattice door, so a plate of sheet iron will be put on to stop their prying fingers.

Councilman Andresen suggested that the old H. & L. truck be stationed on the hill, as it was simply in the way since the new one came.

The Recorder was directed to collect from the O. W. P. & R. Co., its share of the recent street repairs along the Catholic church property.

The Street Commissioner was directed to notify residents along Seventh Street near the Eastham school, to remove trash from the street in front of their premises. He will also notify Councilman Williams to clean up about his property at Fifth and Washington streets and to build a sidewalk along same.

The condition about Williams' property was brought up by J. W. Cooke, who lives across the street from Williams. He said the weeds were not mowed, old lumber was lying in the weeds and there was great danger of fire. He spoke strongly of the neglected condition and said he was sorry Mr. Williams was not present as he would have preferred to speak in his presence. All the other property owners had been compelled to clean up about their premises and to build sidewalks, and it was only fair to treat Mr. Williams the same way.

Councilman Andresen moved the Recorder be directed to request Mr. Williams to clean up and to build a sidewalk. Mr. Cooke protested against the word request, as did also Councilman Brand, and the word was changed to order and the job given to the Street Superintendent.

The county road machine is being used by the city in work on John Quincy Adams street.

CURED TO STAY CURED.

How an Oregon Citizen Found Complete Freedom from Kidney Troubles.

If you suffer from backache—From urinary disorders—From any disease of the kidneys, Be cured to stay cured. Doan's Kidney Pills make lasting cures.

Oregon people testify. Here's one case of it: David Campbell, baker, at 221 North 17th St., and living at 170 North 18th St., Portland, Oregon, says:

"Every word of the statement I made in February, 1903, concerning Doan's Kidney Pills is not only true but having since been free from kidney trouble, I am glad to state that my faith in Doan's Kidney Pills is stronger than ever. It is now five or six years since I began to suffer with a lame and aching back. It was so bad I could not stand the pain when bending forward or straightening. I tried various remedies and began doctors' treatment but whatever relief I found was only temporary, and often I could not get any relief at all. Having read in my home paper from England, that Doan's Kidney Pills were strongly recommended for such troubles I got a supply at a local drug store. The first box helped me so much that I kept on with the treatment, and when I had taken about four boxes not a trace of the trouble remained and I have had no recurrence since. I have told these facts in a testimonial published in 1903, and am very glad of the opportunity to corroborate it."

Plenty more proof like this from Oregon City people. Call at Huntley Bros. drug store and ask what their customers report.

Have Confidence When He Tells You Pepsikola Tablets Do Cure Indigestion.

Possibly you may think our only reason for praising these tablets is because of the small profit we make on each 25 cent box, but how little satisfaction there would be in recommending a remedy that would disappoint you and thereby lose your trade.

This thing of selling a worthless article is mighty poor business policy. Square dealing always pays best and when we tell you what Pepsikola tablets will do, our confidence is based on our own personal experience in selling them here in Oregon City year after year.

There isn't a remedy in this store that we recommend more highly and unless Pepsikola tablets really do what we claim for them how utterly useless our efforts would be.

For coated tongue, sour stomach, wind belching, fullness after eating, heart burn, sleeplessness, weakened energy, and other symptoms of indigestion we recommend them with every confidence and always refund the 25c should you fail to receive the benefits expected.
