New Lockjaw Treatment.

A new treatment for lockjaw has been used successfully in two cases at the Pennsylvania hospital, Philadelphia. It is simply a more rational use of the tetanus antitoxin. Heretofore it has been the practice to make the injection in the spinal cord, without regard to the locality of the infection. Now the plan is to inject into a nerve close to the point of infection.

Boy Lives with Half a Skull.

The side of a boy's skull was removed at the Pottsville, Pa., hospital recently in a desperate attempt to save his life. George Edmunds, the 13-year-old son of a prominent citizen, while walking along the Pennsylvania railroad tracks, became frightened at the approach of a train and fell 50 feet through a bridge. One piece of bone 4 inches in size and several smaller pieces, were removed from his skull by surgeons. He will have nothing but skin on one side of his head if he recovers.

Eggs a Century Old.

In felling a large tree some days ago in Cirencester, Gloucestershire, a bird's nest containing four eggs was discovered inclosed in a hollow near the heart of the trunk, says the London Mail. The sap rings showed that nearly a century has elapsed since the eggs were laid, and it was obvious that the hollow had closed automatically. The eggs were intact, but slightly faded.

New Light on Appendicitis.

A noted German physician, Dr. Bergman, who presided at the meeting of the Berlin medical association Thursday, agreed with others present that the clinical diagnosis of appendicitis seldom permitted an accurate judgment of the case, and serious doubt of the value of operations was expressed. Prof. Orth said that in 10 per cent of his cases the appendix did not confirm the diagnosis, and in another 10 per cent there was no disease whatsoever, while he knew of many serious cases which had been cured without operating.

She had been with her brother, C. A. Keith, during his sickness.

Summer Diarrhoea in Children

During the hot weather of the summer months the first unnatural looseness of a child's bowels should have immediate attention, so as to check the disease before it becomes serious. All that is necessary is a few doses of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy followed by a dose of castor oil to cleanse the system. Rev. M. O. Stockland, pastor of the M. E. church, Little Falls, Minn., writes: "We have used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for several years and find it a very valuable remedy, especially for summer disorders in children." SPRAYING POTATOES INSURES GOOD CROP

The spraying of potatoes has been demonstrated to be an insurance of a crop of marketable tubers. District Fruit Inspector J. H. Reid, of Milwaukee has been giving practical lessons in potato spraying in the south part of the county, and in a recent interview he told the Canby Tribune the following facts:

"Spraying potatoes for blight is no longer an experiment, but the farmer wants to be shown. We don't claim that we can make more potatoes grow to the hill by reason of spraying, but we assert that more marketable potatoes can be obtained from a hill using the Bordeaux mixture. An acre can be sprayed twice for $1.00, which practically means a crop insurance of $1.00 an acre.

"Any one can make the spray, and the expense is nominal. The spray should be made by taking four pounds of bluestone and dissolving it in 25 gallons of water; four pounds of lime with just enough water to slack it, after which add 25 gallons of water. Both the bluestone and lime when prepared should be placed in separate barrels, then take a third barrel and pour a bucket full of bluestone solution, and then a bucketfull of lime solution. This makes the perfect spray. The bluestone can be bought for 32 cents and the lime for 10 cents, making the total of 42 cents. This amount will spray an acre twice, the remainder of the dollar being extra expense for time of the man and team.

"At the Cleveland patch certain rows will not be sprayed, others will receive one, two and three sprays respectively. By this method can be demonstrated the value of spraying and what amount of spraying is necessary."

Thought He Belonged Inside.

Rev. W. H. Morrison of Brooklyn, Mass., formerly of Manchester, N. H., where he enjoyed a long and successful pastorate, is a bit of a humorist and enjoys a joke, whether on himself or another. His manner and sympathetic characteristics make him in much request at funerals, and it is related that on one occasion it so happened that the hacks allotted to the mourners were all filled, so the minister rode to the cemetery on a hearse with the driver.

On returning from the grave he was driven to his home on the same unconventional conveyance. His wife met him at the door, and, somewhat indignant at the apparently unusual proceedings and not noticing that it was a hearse the clergyman was riding on, exclaimed: "William, what did you get ride up there for? Why didn't you get inside, where you belong?"

Truths About Artificial Teeth

The great majority of dentists represent to their patients that a rubber plate with fourteen teeth set in a half circle is just as good as anything else for a set of artificial teeth.

Some make such representations knowing them to be false, others because they know no better.

The responsibility for this condition rests with the dental profession.

A great many people would not accept a rubber or celluloid plate if they only understood the superiority of a metal plate in cleanliness, healthfulness and durability.

We would like to talk with you about metal plates for artificial teeth.

MOLALLA SKEPTICAL ABOUT RAILWAY

Correspondent Also Makes Jest of Bell Telephone Company Generosity.

Molalla, Aug. 7.—Our town is now stretching its neck, looking for the "Hot Air" railroad electric car line which is now being pushed to reassuring proportions by Oregon City capital (?).

How generous the Bell telephone people are becoming, and how they talk like theirs "was the only 'system.'" Next they'll be paying the good old farmer a monthly premium to graft on to their trunk lines just to be in touch with him, you know.

OCEANS OF WATER AT NINETEEN FEET

East Mt. Scott, Aug. 8.—Blackberries are ripe. The young ladies have decided that they would rather pick something smoother, something that does not leave such impression on their dainty fingers.

Mr. William Ulrich has gone to eastern Oregon to work in the harvest fields.

Most of the people of this valley attended the camp meeting Saturday and Sunday.

Oat crop is being cut and there is a good yield.

Miss Ethelyn Moll of Kelso, was visiting with Miss Clara Ulrich over Sunday.

Mr. Flower is busy building a new house which he began this past week.

Mrs. Strack had a well dug and at the depth of nineteen feet got enough water for all the stock and house use.

The Old Cow.

There is no rule by which the age of a cow will determine the end of her period of usefulness. Some cows remain strong and vigorous up to 15 years old, while others indicate age and evident decline at 10.

It is a well-established fact among breeders that after a cow has raised two or three calves her value as a breeder may be pretty accurately determined, and she has also arrived at the age of best service as a calf producer. The heifer is not the best mother, usually, but improves maternal qualities as she approaches maturity. It is, therefore, very uncertain in results to turn the heifer off because she does not with her first calf equal the old cow in her produce. It is also bad management to turn the old cow off because she is old, when she has proven a valuable breeder of excellent calves. Many an old cow has produced a calf that would sell for three or four times what the old cow would sell for.

The old cow even among grade cattle is often worth more to retain as a producer of calves than to exchange for the uncertainty of a young animal. Excellence in breeding is what is desired in the breeding herd. If you have this in the old cow, be sure you have something to take her place in this very desirable quality before you dispose of her on account of old age. Judge closely, judge accurately on the value of the old, reliable breeding cow, remembering that good cows are scarce and that it is much easier to get rid of a good cow than to buy one.

For 8 1-3 cents a month the subscriber is given free switching with all other subscribers connecting with his central exchange. Under this rate it would appear that no rural resident need be without a telephone and its attendant advantages, especially as every assurance is given of prompt and efficient service.

FOREST FIRES NEAR BULL RUN RESERVE

Hundreds of Men Fighting the Flames Which Threaten Big Loss.

Hood River, Aug. 6.—Forest fires which have been burning for several days in the vicinity of Green Point and the Bull Run forest reserve have already destroyed some and are threatening the loss of much timber. The fires have so far been confined to a point several miles from Green Point and as forces are engaged in staying the flames it is not expected that they will reach that point. In the Bull Run reserve, which is several miles south of there, a force of more than a hundred men is fighting the fire, and reports from there are to the effect that they are making some headway. Old timbermen say that it is many years since the forests were in such an inflammable condition, and men in logging camps are being warned to use extra precaution in starting and putting out camp fires.

Have Confidence When He Tells You Pepsikola Tablets Do Cure Indigestion.

Possibly you may think our only reason for praising these tablets is because of the small profit we make on each 25 cent box, but how little satisfaction there would be in recommending a remedy that would disappoint you and thereby lose your trade.

This thing of selling a worthless article is mighty poor business policy. Square dealing always pays best and when we tell you what Pepsikola tablets will do, our confidence is based on our own personal experience in selling them here in Oregon City year after year.

There isn't a remedy in this store that we recommend more highly and unless Pepsikola tablets really do what we claim for them how utterly useless our efforts would be.

For coated tongue, sour stomach, wind belching, fullness after eating, heart burn, sleeplessness, weakened energy, and other symptoms of indigestion we recommend them with every confidence and always refund the 25c should you fail to receive the benefits expected.

First Aid to Beauty.
