ROWDY YOUTHS CREATE RIOT IN CAR

McDonald were bound over to the Circuit court, the first two under $100 bonds each, and McDonald $50. Smith and McDonald are out on bail and Foley is expected to furnish security in a day or so.

The preliminary examination was held in the County court room in order that the large number of witnesses and spectators might be accommodated. Deputy District Attorney C. Schuebel, assisted by F. T. Griffith, attorney for the Oregon Water Power & Railway company conducted the prosecution, the defendants conducting their own case. Witnesses were introduced by the street railway company positively fixing the blame for the serious disturbance on the three men who were held to the Circuit court.

As a defense, each of the accused lads gave his version of the affair, each claiming to be exempt from any blame for the fracas.

The charge on which the trio is held, that of "grossly injuring the property of another, grossly disturbing the public peace," is punishable by a minimum fine of $50 and a jail sentence of one month. The maximum penalty is a fine of $200 and six months in the county jail.

STEPMOTHER'S LIFE MADE A BURDEN

Clarinda E. Gibson, over 60 years of age, has filed suit for maintenance against her husband, James Jr., Gibson, to whom she was married in Portland, May 2, 1904. She says he owns a farm near Eagle Creek, and a part of the marriage contract was that his son Dick should be ousted from said home. This was at first done, she says, but Dick has returned and with another son, H. F., have made her life a burden. Her hubby has also seemingly tired of her and she alleged cruel and inhuman treatment by him. She was compelled to leave home a few weeks ago, and she says her husband has made a pretended deed of his farm to his son H. F. Gibson. She asks for $100 attorneys fees and $15 a week maintenance.

MAPLE LANE PERSONALS.

A camping party from Maple Lane, consisting of Lawrence Mautz, John Darling, Clarence and Pleasant Allen and their mother, Mrs. A. B. Allen, Mrs. Derrick, and children; Miss Sadie Cockle and Miss Melbena Brown are at Mt. Hood huckleberry grounds this week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Mautz and Mr. and Mrs. John Crawford returned, Sunday, from Mt. Hood huckleberry grounds.

Notice to Bridge Builders.

Notice is hereby given that sealed bids will be received at the office of the county clerk of Clackamas county, Oregon, for the construction of a bridge across Tryan Creek, near Oswego, according to plans and specifications now on file in the office of said clerk, said bids to be indorsed "Bids for construction of Tryan Creek Bridge," and must be filed with the said clerk on or before noon, Wednesday, September 5, 1906.

The County Court reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

F. W. GREENMAN,
County Clerk.

SOMETHING FOR NOTHING

Rewards for Stamp Collections

There's a fascination in stamp collecting of any kind, and there's a rich reward for collections of ADAMS BROS. PREMIUM TRADING STAMPS.

On all cash purchases made at this store, we give free to everybody, at all times, these trading stamps, one with each purchase, or ten cent part of a purchase. When you have filled one of our stamp books, holding 300 stamps, you are entitled to take your choice of a variety of valuable premiums.

300 stamps represents an expenditure of only $30 for merchandise, and think how quick you spend this sum on wearing necessities.

And the prices of our merchandise are not "fattened out" to make up for the stamp discount—they are the very lowest you can find.

Two, three or four books of stamps entitles the holder to premiums of commensurate values. It's just like finding money, that's all.
