

CONGREGATIONALISTS LOSE THEIR PASTOR

Church Accepts Resignation of Rev. Bollinger, Who Goes to Portland.

The resignation of Rev. E. S. Bollinger, as pastor of the First Congregational church of this city, has been accepted by the local church, and the retiring clergyman has accepted the call, received a few weeks ago, to the pastorate of the Highland Congregational. In accepting the resignation the congregation takes effect October 1st. The Oregon City congregation has as yet taken no steps looking to the selection of a successor to Mr. Bollinger.

Acceptance of Rev. Bollinger's resignation was had at a congregational meeting held last Thursday night and presided over by C. H. Dye, as chairman. In accepting the resignation, the following resolutions, reported by the committee to which was referred the pastor's resignation was unanimously adopted:

"We, your committee, to whom was referred the resignation of our beloved pastor, Rev. E. S. Bollinger, beg leave to report that we have had a conference with him and heard his reasons for wanting to resign his charge, and find the same do not arise from any dissatisfaction on the part of the church with Mr. Bollinger, nor on his part with the church. An urgent and unanimous call has come to him from the Highland Congregational church of Portland, Oregon. While the church at present is not so large in numbers nor financially as strong as the Oregon City church, the field is very inviting, demanding active and aggressive work, and Mr. Bollinger has been selected by that church and recommended by other leaders of the church of the state for the place, and he seems to be especially equipped for that field.

"In view of these circumstances it has seemed to the committee that we had no right to stand out against or refuse to recommend the acceptance of his resignation, especially since Mr. Bollinger himself feels that it is a special call, and that he ought to accept. Therefore your committee reluctantly and with sorrow yield to what seems to us our plain duty, and recommend that the church accept his resignation, to take effect October 1, 1906, and that we unanimously bid him godspeed in his new field of labor. And in view of his long and successful pastorate among us we further say to the church of Highland that this resignation comes from no desire or action on the part of the church, that Mr. Bollinger and his entire family have the love of the whole church and respect and confidence of the entire community, and that if they do not rally to the support of Mr. Bollinger and make the Highland church one of the largest in the denomination in the state we shall always hold a grudge against them for alluring him away from us."

Wasteful America.

Americans are the opposites of the Japanese, in that they are probably the most wasteful and extravagant people under the sun. James J. Hill once voiced a declaration to the effect that the greater part of America's progress had been gained by using up the stored capital of preceding ages—something for which we are indebted to nature, not to our own energies. Soil, mines, oil and gas reservoirs, forests, fisheries—all have been drained and drained, an with little or no thought that exhaustion of either was calculable. We eat three times as much as is demanded by nature and more than is good for us, and we throw away annually enough food to feed the whole population of Japan. Into our rivers in the form of polluting sewage go fertilizers to the value of millions of dollars, which other peoples save and which we would be doubly benefited by saving. We could economize greatly if we cared to in the quantity of iron and other metals we use, but, possessed with the infatuation that they will never run out, we are as prodigal with them as with everything else, whereas the limit to the supply is claimed to be easily calculable. But it is in the waste of the forests that American improvidence finds its worst illustration. The nation has been willing to see its forests so devastated that the present annual "cut" and fire waste can be continued for twenty-five years longer without destroying every patch of timber in America.

The Old Soldier's Logic.

"Such reasoning," said Gen. F. D. Grant, in a military argument, "reminds me of the reasoning of old Corp. Sandhurst. Corp. Sandhurst was one day drilling a batch of raw recruits.

"Why is it," he said to a bright looking chap, "that the blade of your saber is curved instead of straight?"

"The blade is curved," the recruit answered, "in order to give more force to the blow."

"Nonsense," said the corporal, "the blade is curved so as to fit the scabbard. If it was straight, how would you get it into the curved scabbard, you idiot."

Pain From a Burn Promptly Relieved by Chamberlain's Pain Balm.

A little child of Michael Strauss, of Vernon, Conn., was recently in great pain from a burn on the hand, and as cold applications only increased the inflammation, Mr. Strauss came to Mr. James N. Nichols, a local merchant, for something to stop the pain. Mr. Nichols says: "I advised him to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and the first application drew out the inflammation and gave immediate relief. I have used this liniment myself and recommend it very often for cuts, burns, strains, and lame back, and have never known it to disappoint." For sale by Howell & Jones.

Wedding Superstitions.

The bridegroom who carries a miniature horseshoe in his pocket will always be lucky.

The bride who dreams of fairies on the night before her wedding will be thrice blessed.

Never give a telegram to a bride or bridegroom on the way to church. It is a sure omen of evil.

Marriages on board ship are considered unlucky. If you can't be married on dry land remain unwed, says Home Chat.

The finding of a spider on the wedding gown by the bride is considered a sure token of happiness to come.

COUNCIL SETS PACE RESIDENTS FOLLOW

From General Activity Oregon City Takes on Improved Appearances.

Oregon City, in an official way, took the initiative and citizens have very generally followed the example of cleaning up, spreading wall paper and distributing paint to the material improvement of the city's appearance. The Council began by extensively repairing the interior of the City Hall and various fire departments company headquarters.

There is no other town of its size in the state that is doing more permanent street improvement work than is Oregon City. The Sixth-street improvement, in the business district, is a revelation to taxpayers as showing what the judicious expenditure of a small amount of money will accomplish. Contrasted with its former condition, this street in its present unfinished condition is considered worth to the city and adjacent property-owners several times more than the improvement represents in dollars and cents.

Improvements are being made to St. Paul's church and rectory at Ninth and Water streets. The grounds surrounding the church building are being filled in on one side and reduced to a presentable grade on the other.

The public fountain at Main and Seventh streets, erected by the Clackamas county Humane Society has been placed in proper repair. By the erection of a metal guard along the curb, the fountain is protected from passing teams and vehicles which were constantly displacing the watering device and defeating the purpose for which it was erected. The fountain has also been repainted.

HUNDREDS LEAVE FOR VALLEY HOP YARDS

As a Result, Oregon City is Largely Depopulated—Picking Begins.

It is believed that Oregon City is this year more nearly depopulated than ever by reason of the large number of people leaving for the hop yards. Transportation facilities by rail and boat were taxed for the accommodation of those going to the hop yards.

The harvesting of the crop began in some yards Monday; in others the picking will not begin before the latter part of this week or the first of next week. With continued pleasant weather for another fortnight the hop crop will have been picked and cured and with such favorable conditions, coupled with the splendid quality of the crop, the product will be first-class in every particular.

GEORGE NOTES

Threshing will soon be over and the farmers are all pleased with their prosperous crop of grain.

Mr. Irvin and Frank Watson and Carl Jensen of Portland, were out to spend a few days at the home of Mr. Hans Paulson.

Several families of George have gone to pick hops for J. Paulson and C. Klinker at Aurora. We hope to see them come home with a pocketful of money and a still pleasanter smile on their faces than they had before they left.

Miss Emma Paulson is home on a visit with her parents. She intends to leave again for Portland in a few weeks.

Will Held is rapidly finishing his large new house which makes a great improvement to his large farm. Mr. Adolph Miller is the favorable carpenter.

Miss Martha Paulson has been staying with her father, Hans Paulson, while Mrs. Paulson is assisting in the care of her eldest daughter, Helena, who has been very sick with typhoid pneumonia in Portland. Miss Paulson is slowly improving under the care of the family physician, Dr. Royal.

Campers are daily passing in great numbers to the camping grounds at the Miller bridge. These camping grounds are noted for their healthful climate and beautiful situation.

Carl Rath has recently put up a large barn which makes a fine appearance to his farm.

Mr. Charlie and Herman Harger of Eagle Creek, have been camping in George several days.

Mrs. Harder has gone to California where she is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Koehler.

Mr. Julius Paulson was home for a very short while last Saturday. He and his sister left for Portland Sunday morning.

MOLALLA NEWS

The exodus to the hop fields has been going on for several days.

S. M. Ramsby was back to his old "stamping grounds" first of the week; gave Molalla a call Monday.

T. M. Cross has probably more cheat seed than most localities about 1200 bushels, his portion, or quite enough to seed a section of land, and good for 1200 tons of hay.

Albert Moshberger has recently connected his residence with the mutual telephone system. Albert can now be reached from most all directions by wire.

H. A. Kayler, who had the misfortune to get his hand whirled around a pulley of the clover baler last week, is about again, but has a very sore hand.

H. F. Kayler set a drift on fire and as the old song goes, it got away from him doing damages to fences.

Molalla Grange No. 310 passed a resolution favoring the founding of a creamery at Molalla on the co-operative stock company plan.

Molalla is to have a new side walk from the depot to postoffice, the old one has become out of date.

At the last meeting of the United Artisan Assembly, $7.50 was donated by that body, which is about one tenth the cost of material, the other orders and school board will probably come to the front and popular subscriptions will do the rest of the good work.

R. J. Moore caught hold of the business end of his gopher gun, resulting in the loss of flesh from a finger or two. "Them things" they sometimes shoot the wrong way.

Clover seed is still turning out well, 107 bushels was the result of last Saturday's hulling, don't that discount threshing grain? as it would take 5350 bushels of oats at two cents per bushel to make $107.

Truths About Artificial Teeth

The great majority of dentists represent to their patients that a rubber plate with fourteen teeth set in a half circle is just as good as anything else for a set of artificial teeth.

Some make such representations knowing them to be false, others because they know no better. The responsibility for this condition rests with the dental profession.

A great many people would not accept a rubber or celluloid plate if they only understood the superiority of a metal plate in cleanliness, healthfulness and durability.

We would like to talk with you about metal plates for artificial teeth. Seventeen years in dentistry in Oregon City. Post Graduate Haskell & Chicago School of Dentistry.

We guarantee to please you.
