Leo Peterson, editor and publisher of the Commercial Review, of Portland, was made defendant in a divorce suit filed here Wednesday by Charlotte A. Peterson. Excessively cruel treatment is charged against Peterson. The Petersons were married at Vancouver, Washington, April 15, 1893, and the plaintiff asks for the custody of a 11-year-old child. In her complaint, Mrs. Peterson alleges that her husband inaugurated a course of ill treatment towards her in the year following their marriage and avers that he knocked her down and blackened her eyes repeatedly. This treatment, she says, was administered in the month of November, each during the years 1894-5 and 1896. On August 29, last, the plaintiff alleges that Peterson knocked her down and forcibly took from her a diamond ring of the value of $190.

SUNNYSIDE AND ROCK CREEK
There are a good many fires around and the smoke is bad.
The phones were quite busy one day last week telling of the accident to Hugh Lay of Damascus. He went into a well on Mr. Thebo's place to dig it out. He hit a match, but it immediately went out, but still he went to work. He had only got one and a half buckets of dirt when he called for a ladder, which was put down in the well; he grasped the ladder but lost consciousness and they called for Mr.
Bowerman who lives near. He came and went down, putting a rope around Hugh. The women had to help pull him out; they thought at first he was dead, but after an hour or so he came to, but was unable to leave his bed the rest of the day. It was a close call. The same afternoon Mr. Thebo's house got on fire and again Mr. Bowerman put it out.

We hear there was a wedding near

DEATHS OF THE WEEK

John L. Sinclair, met death by drowning at Kelso, Wash., on the night of August 31st. He was employed as night watch on the boat and had only been on a few days, and the evening he met his death had been feeling sick, and sat down on the lower step of the stairs leading to the upper deck and was talking to another employe.
He remarked that he was feeling so bad he thought he had better not stay up, and a few moments after the man heard him fall and running to the side of the boat saw his cap on the water, but no sign of the drowning man. As the boat was anchored near another the supposition is he struck one and was knocked senseless as the body never came to the surface. The next morning the body was recovered, his family notified and Mr. Sinclair went after it, returning Saturday night with the remains. John was aged 21 years 5 months and 12 days. He was a general, bright young man and his untimely end has cast a gloom over the home where a father, mother, two sisters and six brothers are left to mourn.
This family have just realized the dark coming of death for the first time in their home. Services were held at the home Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock, by Rev. Blackwell of the M.
E. church, after which the remains were laid to rest in Mountain View cemetery. Mr. and Mrs. Sinclair and family extend sincere thanks to the kind friends and neighbors who came and did so much for them, and also for the beautiful flowers. May their sorrow be smothered by the same power that binds up the breaking hearts and sustains the sorrowing.

Ruth Ann Frost, aged 70 years and six days, died at her home in this city Saturday, September 1. Mrs. Frost was born in Athens county, Ohio, August 26, 1836, and in 1853 was married in her native state to the late Mr.
Frost, who died about four years ago.
In 1888, with her family, she removed to Kansas, where they lived for four years, and thence came to Oregon, locating in Oregon City. She is survived by four sons, as follows: Clarence A., D. E., and A. E., all of this city, and A. M. Frost, of Portland.
Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the late home and burial followed at Mountain View cemetery, Rev. J. F. Ghormley, pastor of the Christian Church, of Portland, conducting the services.

Mary E. Reddaway, wife of George Reddaway, aged 40 years, died at 2:20 o'clock Tuesday morning, September 4, at the family home, Seventh and Monroe streets. The deceased was a native of Canada and had resided with her family in this city for the last 17 years. Besides a husband she left four children, two sons, and two daughters, one being a baby but two weeks old. Funeral services were conducted at the First Presbyterian church at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and interment was made at Mountain View cemetery.

MOUNTAIN VIEW ITEMS

Our part of the city was clouded in sadness last Sunday by having two funerals. Grandma Frost after a long and patient waiting for the going out with the boatman pale, quietly and peacefully laid down the burden of years and affliction. A kind neighbor and a christian woman, will be long remembered by those who knew her.

John L. Sinclair, a young man in buoyancy of youth and health and strength was drowned at Kelso, Washington, his father went after the body and brought it home Saturday night.
The funeral was held at the home Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Mrs. Elmer Dixon and daughter Anita are visiting friends at Hood River.

Mr. and Mrs. Osmund have gone to join Mr. and Mrs. Skinner in their camp near Silverton.

Mr. John Guber is slowly improving from a severe attack of malaria. Mr.
Reaman is yet quite weak and unable to be up, but a little while at a time.

A general stampede for the hop yards at a distance was made this week by several families here.

John Francis came in from the Ogle mines last Saturday and remained until Tuesday.

Miss Jennie Bridges has been very sick and from all accounts is very needy. The ladies of the Congregational church have been kindly administering to her and let others do the same.

Last Saturday was Mrs. J. P. Roehl's birthday, and she was remembered with several tokens of friendship from neighbors, and her husband gave her a gold watch of which she is as proud of as a sixteen-year-old girl with her first beau.

Miss Nora Currins is home again after a three months' visit among friends and relatives in the east.
Fred Ely has bought a residence down town and will shortly move to his new home, where it will be more pleasant and convenient for Mrs. Ely.

The new line, piping water to the cemetery is being made, but will be of no benefit to residents here as they are only putting in a two-inch pipe and the force is not strong so people here need not worry, but dig wells and fight fires the best they can with a bucket brigade and no water.

The Griffin family are again in their home after an absence of over a year.
Hop picking will begin in the yard at this place next Monday, the crop is not so heavy as was expected. The dust and dry weather have hurt it considerably along next to the public road.

The hopraisers who contracted their hops last spring for 8 or 10 cents a pound should be excused if they show signs of being hopping mad at themselves.—Exchange.
