CLACKAMAS LEADS IN NUMBER STATE SCHOOL LIBRARIES

According to Miss Cornelia Marvin, secretary of the State Library commission, who spent some time yesterday in consultation with Superintendent Zinser, the schools of Clackamas county reported the largest proportion of any county in the state of state library equipped schools. She stated that she was surprised to find that over 50 per cent of the schools in this county are equipped with libraries, which is an unusual percentage.

Several matters relating to school libraries were discussed in the interview, particularly a probable and desirable change in the present library law. That portion of the law which governs the apportionment and ordering of books for the various districts works something of a hardship in its present condition. At present the order blanks are sent out during the summer when superintendents and others are too busy with other matters to make the proper selection. Instead of waiting until the summer, therefore, Miss Marvin will send out the order blanks in a few days. By this arrangement better selections can be made by the different districts.

It has also been decided to send out to all districts a system of library pockets and cards. Further, all districts are asked to secure books of record for all library books received and on hand.

At the next annual institute Miss Marvin has kindly consented to deliver two lectures touching upon the care and use of libraries.

Miss Marvin returned to headquarters at Salem last night.

DEATHS DAILY HARVEST

Myrtle M. Cross died at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Cross, Wednesday, October 10, after a long illness of tuberculosis, aged 26 years, 10 months and 27 days.

She was a girl of sweet disposition and greatly beloved by all who knew her, including many in Oregon City, where she formerly lived. She was born on the old Chase place near Logan.

The funeral cortege will arrive at Mountain View cemetery about noon, Friday, October 12. The funeral will be under the direction of Molalla Grange No. 310.

Mrs. Mattie Wells died at her home in Molalla, Wednesday evening after many weary weeks of intense suffering. She was about 30 years of age and leaves a husband and four children. Funeral at 10 a. m. Friday.

A HOME CASE.

Many More Like It In Oregon City At Present Time.

The following is but one of the many similar occurring daily in Oregon City. It is an easy matter to verify its correctness. Surely you cannot ask for better proof than such conclusive evidence.

John Vigellus, barber, at 413 Main street, and living at the corner of Fourth and Washington streets, Oregon City, Oregon, says: "Standing in a stooped position for hours at a time, as is necessary in my business began to affect my kidneys, and often my back would almost give out on account of the weakness and persistent dull aching. A friend recommended Doan's Kidney Pills so I went to Huntley Bros.' drug store and procured a supply. I found in a short time that they were doing me good. They relieved the aching pains and strengthened my kidneys and back wonderfully. That was some time ago and the continued relief has been lasting. A little over a month ago we began giving Doan's Kidney Pills to our child who has a tendency to weak kidneys, and the results have been gratifying in every way. Doan's Kidney Pills are a remedy deserving of the highest praise."

CHAIR FOR DOMINE AT MOUNTAIN VIEW

Mountain View, Oct. 10.—Mrs. Kays has moved to the home of her son, Ira Rambo.

Several have been on the sick list week. Mrs. Selby and Mrs. Matchett also Willie Scholtz, has been seriously ill of appendicitis.

Miss Maud Moran and Mrs. Chas. Ely were Portland visitors last week.

Mr. Hall's mother and sister from Kansas are here and are enjoying the delightful scenery and climate of Oregon.

We have a good neighborhood here, but are sorry to hear some of the men are using the fire house to spend Sundays and evenings in playing cards.

A few who jollified over Jerrold Jackson's wedding looked the next day like the beer keg had hit them too hard.

Rev. Bollinger preached his farewell sermon here the 30th, to a good sized audience, and just before the benediction was pronounced, Mrs. Matchett, also Willie Scholtz has been here, presented him with a nice rocking chair. The worthy preacher was surprised, but equal to the occasion—made a happy little speech of acceptance.

Tuesday morning the sad news went over the neighborhood that Charley West had passed away. Mr. West was sick only a little over a week with typhoid fever but was almost a hopeless case from the first. A trained nurse was in attendance, who with Dr. Strickland did all that was possible for him. A good neighbor, a kind and loving husband and father, he will be sadly missed. He leaves a wife and two children to mourn for one whose place can never be filled. Beautiful flowers, the token of friends, were many.

CLACKAMAS.

The Mother's club of Clackamas, will meet at the usual hour and place Friday afternoon, October 12.

The entertainment and supper given by the Ladies' Aid of the First Congregational church, Friday evening, was a pleasant and profitable affair. The net proceeds amounted to about $17, and will be applied to the purchase of a carpet for the church.

A Mrs. Miller, of Montavilla, has purchased the old Curtis place, recently acquired by James Wells. Mrs. Miller expects to locate here soon and begin improvements.

E. C. Chapman spent last week with his brother in Seattle.

Mrs. M. C. Hayward returned Saturday from Seattle where she visited the family of R. C. Callahan.

Miss Lula Hayward left Monday for North Bend on Coos Bay. Miss Hayward expects to set up dress-making parlors with her friend, Miss Emma Johnson, formerly of Oregon City.

D. T. Davis is dangerously ill. His physicians pronounce his illness to be Bright's disease.

John Robinson is sending lumber down from Boring saw mill to build a barn, woodshed, and make other improvements on his place.

A. O. Hayward is putting out new strawberry plants on the lot adjoining the Odd Fellows' hall.

ANOTHER CHILD OF SETGE FAMILY DEAD

Stafford, Oct. 10.—It is said human nature is never satisfied, and the exceptions prove the rule. While other localities may be sighing for rain, so they can start the plows, Stafford is enjoying the beautiful weather and picking up the odds and ends and getting a good ready.

The Setge family are still sorely afflicted. The father has been confined to his bed in a darkened room because of his eyes, and the little six year old boy died and was buried Saturday by the side of his baby brother, and another boy had a backset. Only the poor mother was able to follow her little boy to his last resting place.

Most of the hops in this vicinity have been baled and are ready for the buyer.

Mrs. Decker of Willamette was up to visit her mother, Mrs. Barnes, a number of days, returning home Sunday.

Men are hauling from Weddle's gravel pit on to the road, working out their subscriptions.

Julia Keckel is staying with Mrs. Powell.

Grapes are not hanging as full as usual, but are of a good quality.

School is filling up and progressing finely.

Dick Oldenstadt's little Earl, whose shoulder was dislocated, is getting along nicely.
