About November 15 a directory company of Portland will publish a directory of Clackamas county. A. B. Keaton, the manager of the company, has started on the work of taking the census in Oregon City, and six men are now finishing up the work throughout the county in the rural districts. The directory will be about as complete as one would wish, judging from the different items the solicitors are taking down in the census. Some of the items which the book will contain are the following: Name, address, R. F. D. No., telephone, occupation, crops, specialty, stock, years lived here, value of acreage, family (boys at school, age, etc.), politics. These different items give a clew to what a complete volume it will be. There will also be a classified business and county department.
