MORE MONEY TAKEN IN BY CLACKAMAS COUNTY OFFICIALS

RECEIPTS BY CLERK AND RECORDER LARGELY EXCEED A YEAR AGO.

DECREASE IN DELINQUENT TAX

List Will Contain By Publication Time Probably $600 Less Than Total of Last Year's.

County reports for the month of October show a gratifying condition of affairs as compared with last year. The county clerk's records show receipts for October, 1906, to be $556.75 as compared with $379.50 for October of last year. The increase is caused simply by an increase in "business." The same cause explains an increase in filing fees in the recorder's office from $298.55 for last year to $373.10 for October, 1906.

An even more gratifying state of affairs is noticeable in the delinquent tax list in the sheriff's office. Last year in December the delinquent tax roll amounted to $4130.01. At the present time the delinquent list totals $3,888.02, and this amount will in all probability be reduced to somewhere near $3500 before the time of publication arrives.

DEATH RECORD.

Mrs. Lavina Harrison Walden, widow of the late N. O. Walden, died at her home in this city, Saturday, November 3, after a lingering and patiently borne illness. Mrs. Walden was the daughter of Samuel and Antoinette Kershaw. Mr. Kershaw's death occurred at New York in 1872. Mrs. Kershaw came to Oregon City with her daughter, where she remained till her death in 1882. Mrs. Walden was born at The Hough, Lancashire, England, July 13, 1856. When four years of age she came to America with her parents, and settled at New York, where she remained till 1870. In 1877 she came to Oregon, settling at Oregon City, where she has since resided. She was married to N. O. Walden October 31, 1877. Three children were born to them, Antoinette, Hilda and a son, who died in his infancy. Hilda died a few years ago. Mrs. Walden being survived only by her eldest daughter Antoinette and two sisters of this city, Mrs. Henrietta Wishart and Mrs. Lena Antoinette Charman.

Mrs. Walden was a woman whose home was her kingdom, a gentle and loving wife and mother, possessing all the lovely traits of womanhood, endearing her to all who met her, and a large circle of friends deeply sympathize with her loved ones in their bereavement. The funeral took place from the family residence Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. E. S. Bollinger, late pastor of the Congregational church, officiating. The grave was literally banked with floral tributes from friends who had held the deceased in highest esteem during her life. Conspicuous among which was one from the teachers of the Barclay school, where Miss Walden is employed. The pallbearers were C. H. Canfield, G. A. Harding, C. H. Dye, Charles Albright, T. L. Charman and F. T. Griffith.

REFERENDUM FOR OFFICERS ELECTION

SOCIALISTS AT MEETING SUNDAY SO DECIDE—INSTALLATION IN JANUARY.

The Socialists of Clackamas county will elect their officers by referendum vote. This was decided on at the meeting held in Knapp's hall, Sunday. The annual election is held in December, and the officers elected at that time will be installed at the January meeting.

County Secretary Claude S. Howard, of Mullino, read a paper on "The Enigma," at the meeting in Knapp's hall, Sunday, and other addresses were made by G. R. H. Miller and George W. Sommers of this city.

DISTRICT SCHOOL NOTES.

Miss Mae Robertson begins teaching the school at Marmot Monday. R. W. Graham, clerk at Graeme, called on the superintendent Friday. Mabra Cutting will probably start teaching at Graham Monday.

Marquam will probably hold a special election to fill vacancies which have occurred through death and removal. The offices to be filled are two directors and one clerk.

Barely Escape Starvation.

"Reached north coast Grantland in straightened conditions. Killed musk oxen and returned along Greenland coast to ship. Two supporting parties drive on north coast Greenland. One rescued by me in starving condition. After one week recuperation on Roosevelt, sledged west, completing north coast Grantland and reached other land near 100th meridian.

WICKED WASTE.

With cordwood and other fuel at almost unheard of high prices, the city of Portland hires men to burn enough timber to warm a score of poor families through the winter.

The timber of the old elevated roadway across Montgomery gulch, dry as tinder and of easy sawing lengths, was destroyed in huge bonfires. A sign "free wood" would have disposition.

ed of the timber quickly and saved much suffering.

Enough wood has been burned along the railroad and other places in Oregon City, to get rid of it during the last few months, to have furnished fuel for every family in this vicinity that is not able to buy its winter supply.

Mr. and Mrs. Derry were out to the singing, Sunday evening.

"Homeward voyage incessant battle with ice, storms and head winds. Roosevelt magnificent ice fighter and seaboat. No deaths or illness expedition."
" (Signed.) PEARY."

CANBY CULLINGS.

Mrs. R. R. Peebler of Portland is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Burns. L. P. Burns was visiting at John Burns' Saturday night and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Mainwood were visiting Irvin Wheeler and family Sunday.

Grandma Hilton was given a birthday party one day last week, in honor of her 78th anniversary.

Mr. Philapine is digging a new cellar.

There are lots of spuds coming to market here.

The rain will help fill up the almost dry wells in some localities.

ALL ONE CLASS.

An exchange says there are about eight classes of town killers and goes on to enumerate them. The classification is unnecessary hair-splitting. All are really in one class—dead ones. Live towns have such "dead ones" but they are not allowed to boss things. Public spirited citizens simply pay no attention to them, do not quote them, do not repeat their croaking, keep them in the background on public occasions, especially when strangers are likely to be present, and by enthusiastic faith and works usually shame all but the case-hardened into jumping into the bandwagon.

Mrs. Christina Mau died at the family residence at Shubel Thursday morning, November 1. She was born in 1839 and would have been 67 years old this month. She had been a patient sufferer of cancer of the stomach for some time. Mrs. Mau leaves five children to mourn her death, her husband having died eight years ago. Mrs. Mau was loved and will be greatly missed by all who knew her. The funeral will be held from the home of her daughter, Mrs. Albert Moehnke. Services will be conducted at the Congregational church, Rev. J. F. Doescher officiating.

Choose Your Druggist Carefully

A druggist can do more harm or good than most people give him credit for.

There are different qualities in drugs just as there are in dry goods, and to the outsider all qualities go by the same name. The difference between pure high-grade drugs and cheap, inferior drugs of the same name, means the difference between keeping sick and getting well.

When a doctor writes a prescription he means best quality. When some druggists fill a prescription they think only about big profits.

Every Drop of Medicine . . .

that goes in a prescription filled in this store is perfectly pure. Pure drugs mean a speedy recovery. Poor drugs mean a relapse. You want the best. Let us fill your prescriptions.

We are giving away free, while they last, a 25 cent box of soap with a 25 cent pair of scissors for 25 cents.
