Civilization's Next Upward Step. Paper read by Claude S. Howard of Mullino at last meeting of Clackamas County Socialists in Knapp's Hall.

THE ENIGMA.

For many thousands of years man has ever echoed the saying of the old time prophet, man is born to trouble as the sparks fly upward, and the dark mystery why man has sorrow, suffering, war and strife in greater degree than all the rest of the animal creation has ever proved unsolved. But at last one made this question a life-long study and in conjunction with other men of science discovered the underlying laws which govern the development of society. Two of the names are world-wide and each set forth a law that has stood the test of the most rigid investigation. The first by Charles Darwin is sometimes known as the law of the survival of the fittest, but stated in its original form is this: Those forms of life which cannot adapt themselves to existing conditions must perish. The second by Karl Marx reads: The Economic condition of a people at any given time, dominates all other conditions.

In discussing these things in this brief space of time I can do no more than climb to an elevation and point to the largest mountains which have come to our view, leaving the exploration of the valleys to some future time. Some time in the distant past man was wandering in savagery, fighting for his existence with such rude weapons as clubs and stones and carrying on a relentless warfare against the animals weaker than himself, for his food and being in turn preyed upon by the animals stronger than himself for their food supply. Under these conditions the men that exercised the most brain capacity escaped and propagated their kind who were subjected to the same ordeal. Some time during this struggle it was discovered that two men fighting together could defeat five or six fighting independently, and the principle of collective action was born. But this soon gave rise to a new state of affairs, for some men rose up to be chiefs and rulers and they divided up the land and gave it to certain favorites and great fighters. In that day arose a new and greater form of trouble for this advanced state of struggle and property interests, a struggle that has continued to this day and is responsible for most of the suffering of man at the present time.

The first record of the division of land caused a quarrel between Abraham and Lot with a result of which we are all familiar. The first recorded division of stock resulted in Jacob getting nearly all of it by a shrewd trick. From that time forward each upward step of society has been brought about by the application of a more advanced form of struggle, as adopted by some one of the contending classes in the struggle for an advantage and not with the intention of benefiting all of the people at all. During the dark ages the ruling class was the feudal lords who had the habit of robbing the merchants and manufacturers (who were the beginning of our present capitalists) to carry on their various wars. The result of this was, the capitalists rose, in rebellion and with the assistance of the working class destroyed the feudalism and established republics or limited monarchies. To accomplish this they were compelled to give the common people the ballot. Thus a great forward step was taken, to be quickly followed by the establishing of public schools so the capitalists could have skilled workmen to run their fast developing machinery. It will be considerable of a job to find that the rebellion which created the United States was not for the people and that the Constitution was simply a class document, as was stated by a delegate who was afterwards President Madison, to protect the minority (capitalists) against the majority (the working class), also against the extortions of King George. It is thus shown that the government of the United States is not and never has been for the people and by the people and the Declaration of Independence was the certain that was let down while the scenes were being shifted behind.

That republics are especially adapted to the growth of gigantic fortunes more than anywhere else. But the dominant principle of capitalism, which is the taking of profit on all commodities, is destined to bring about the downfall of the system, as each new advance in industrial development has been forced by certain causes in the previous one. Economic researches show that competition is not the life of trade, but the death of trade, and in every industry that has been formed into a trust, competition is dead. In short the trust is socialistic, a new and advanced form of co-operation, if you please. We, the Socialists, can sit back and enjoy the efforts of some to curb, control or perhaps prevent the formation of new trusts. Their efforts are foredoomed to failure. Why, my friends, do you not know that you are trying to hinder your best friends. The trusts are here in obedience of the law of the survival of the fittest, and Roosevelt, Bryan or Hearst can no more prevent their growth than they can prevent the slow moving of the glacier down the mountain side. Knowing the laws that have guided the development of society to the present time, we may safely predict the future. Here is where Karl Marx shows his great foresight, and his principal works, which were written in 1846 and a few years later, predicted the formation of trusts and the extension of capitalism to all countries in the world. With great rapidity Japan and China are instituting modern labor saving machinery and will soon be able to supply the world with goods made with labor at 10 to 25 cents a day. Not only that, but

Japan is going into this project on a national scale—that is, forming a sort of government ownership or state socialism. Understand that this is not genuine Socialism, for the benefits of this will be for the upper class and not for all the people. But what will be the effect of this on America? If you understand our present conditions at all you will know that a profit taking system can only go on as long as the capitalists have a foreign market in which to sell the surplus goods which the working class make but are too poor to buy. We, the American working class, will have to come to a Chinese standard of labor or face starvation. This is an absolute fact which no one can deny. What will be the result? Ah, we can have only one solution. We must take all the great public utilities and make them public and collective property; we must sell all goods at labor cost and then the people will be able to buy them back and we will not need a market in other lands. This, my friends, is Socialism and you now find it very different from what you thought. At least his applies to some who have been looking at this from the Utopian side. You had thought that it was something in the nature of an experiment which you could accept or reject as it seemed best. But I am here today to present Socialism as the next upward step in the progress of the world as something which is absolutely necessary for the preservation of civilization and which man will be forced to receive, as he has in the past been forced to take upward steps by the laws of circumstances. Thus the Socialist has solved the problem. He is the man that knows future as well as the past. He can stand on the summit of our present knowledge, calm, and serene with folded arms and say: "But day by day and year by year, has made the dark Enigma clear."

Be Charitable. To your horses as well as to yourself. You need not suffer from pains of any sort—your horses need not suffer. Try a bottle of Ballard's Snow Liniment. It cures all pains. J. M. TAKE NOTHING FOR GRANTED. Make Huntley Bros. Prove What Pepsikola Tablets Do For Indigestion.

It stands to reason that Huntley Bros. would not come right out in these columns year after year and ask you to try Pepsikola tablets for indigestion if they were not pretty sure you would receive decided benefit. You can see that for yourself. The remedy fails to cure every case, of course, but they always pay your quarter back, should the tablets fail to do good.

Life is too short for misrepresentation in matters of this kind, and for the small profit Huntley Bros. make on a 25 cent package it would be mighty poor judgment to induce you to make a trip to this store and then sell you something that would disappoint you. If troubled with sour stomach, heart burn, wind belching, coated tongue, loss of appetite, weakened energy, steady your nerves, improve your appetite, steady your nerves, improve your appetite, enrich your blood and put new life in your stomach as sure as this world.
