SUGGESTION MADE BY ARCH-BISHOP CHRISTIE IN SERMON SUNDAY AFTERNOON.

CHURCH WILL DONATE LOCATION

Offers Site at Main and Tenth Streets -Day of Great Religious Activity in Oregon City.

Services at the St. John's Catholic church were rendered particularly impressive, Sunday, by the presence of the Most Rev. A. Christie, Archbishop of Oregon. High mass in the morning was celebrated at 10:30 by the Rev. Fr. Hillebrand assisted by Rev. Dr. Urban Fischer, O. S. B., of Mount Angel college, and Very Rev. F. S. Beck of Parkplace. The Most Reverend Archbishop preached a sermon at this mass on the subject of "Education, The Marriage Tie, and Honesty." One of Wiegand's masses was sung by the choir under the leadership of Mrs. John Moore and Miss Lou Draper, organist.

At 3 o'clock in the afternoon confirmation services were conducted, and the sacrament conferred by the Archbishop on a class of 78, a large proportion of whom were grown per-The choir sang various hymns and the services were closed with the benediction of blessed sacrament and an informal talk by the Archbishop.

The most important feature of the confirmation services was the master-ful sermon of Archbishop Christie. He spoke along general lines giving the confirmation class valuable advice as to future conduct in life, scoring high society's foibles in scathing terms and emphasizing the virtues of obedience, honesty and temperance

By far the most significant utterance of the speaker was his allusion to the McLoughlin monument situation. His suggestion opens up a new field of thought to those who are agitating the purchase of the old Mc-Loughlin home or the erection of a monument. While deploring the rather tardy recognition that Dr. McLoughlin is receiving, the Archbishop suggested that an institution of learning would be the best memorial that could be erected to the founder of Oregon City. An institution, dedicated to and named after Dr. McLonghlin, the "Mc-Loughlin Institute of Learning," would be what the Doctor himself would undoubtedly favor above all things could his wishes be consulted.

Archbishop Christie went so far as He deleschool as a building place.

SUMMARY OF WORK BY CIRCUIT COURT - ONLY TWO JURY CASES.

The November term of the circuit court closed Saturday afternoon and Judge McBride left immediately for Hillsboro where he convenes court on Monday. During this term, approximately 60 decrees of divorce were granted. Almost as many still remain on the docket to be disposed of at the next term of court. Of the criminal cases on the docket at the beginning of the term, the Stegman case was continued, Imel was discharged, likewise Gross; Fos-hag was paroled and Reid received a verdict in the Sellwood case. Over a dozen cases were settled and dis-Two cases, Boe vs. Boe, and missed. Oregon City vs. Clackamas County, were taken under advisement. There were only two jury cases during the entire term that came to trial, the Patrick vs. Boodean and the Sellwood vs. Reid cases. The former resulted in a verdict for the plaintiff and the latter for the defendant.

OREGON CITY SUES COUNTY FOR ROAD TAX.

The case of Oregon City vs. Clackamas County was argued before Judge McBride Saturday morning by City Attorney J. U. Campbell and Deputy District Attorney Chris Schuebel. The case involved the construction of con-flicting statutes. The city charter gives the city a 60 per cent refund of all taxes collected for road purposes. The new law of 1903 grants but 50 per cent. Further, the county commis sioners have divided the fund into two distinct funds one for roads and one for bridges, so that city has been re ceiving but 25 per cent of the amount, of which they claim 60 per cent.

The amount in dispute involves approximately $5000 for the assessments of 1903 and 1904. The court took the case under advisement and will render a decision in January.

NOT A PLEASANT WORD FOR YEARS.

Amanda E. Ferguson, in a complaint for divorce filed Friday afternoon, alleges cruelty and inhuman treatment for six years running against her husband, Lawrence Ferguson. She alleges that for six years her husband has failed to adequately provide for her and her children, compelling her to work out as a domestic to procure the necessities of life. For six years she says, he has not spoken a civil word to her.

The plaintiff prays for a decree of divorce and the custody of the three children, Pearl aged 19, Silva aged 17, and Oliver aged 13. The couple were married at Canby in 1883.

A decree of divorce was granted the wife at noon Saturday by Judge Mc-Bride.

SEEK SETTLEMENT; BOE DIVORCE CASSE.

Friday afternoon, Judge McBride took not stand opposition. he matter under advisement until the January term of court, pending an ef-fort on the part of the attorneys, Grant B. Dimick and George C. Brownell, to effect a settlement. When the testimony was all in, ludge McBride expressed himself as rather at a loss what to do in the case under the circumstances. The complaint alleged cruelty and inhuman treatment and prayed for $3,000 alimony. The court recognized the impossibility of the parties further coninuing the relation of husband and wife but at the same time was loath to grant a decree adverse to the defendant, who seems to be a very de-

Grant B. Dimick suggested in behalf of his client that he was willing and had expressed the desire to sell his farm and buy a home for his wife and children with part of the proceeds so they could live in peace and com-fort. The court then advised the ats..9c torneys to get together and agree upon a settlement, which disposition of the case for the time being was satisfactory to all parties concerned.

> An amended complaint has been filed in the dissolution of partnership proceedings in Smith vs. Dixon, the Canby real estate firm, making the Bank of Oregon City a party defendant. An order was obtained restraining the defendant from drawing from a fund of $500 deposited in the above mentioned bank, and now the bank has been included in the restraining order.

> An amended answer has been filed in the case of Krohn vs. Clackamas county.

A decree of divorce was granted in the case of Minnie B. McCulloch vs. John McCulloch.

In the case of Homer Mullan vs. S. B. Hartman a default order was entered.

from his wife Allie D. Green at noon Saturday. The ground was desertion. A boy of 13 years was given into the custody of his father.

John L. Green obtained a divorce

The plaintiff was given leave to amend and bring in additional parties in the case of Taggart vs. Morris.
