

SUMMONS.

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon, for Clackamas County. W. E. Frazier, Plaintiff, vs. Emma E. Frazier, Defendant. To Emma E. Frazier, the above named defendant:

SUMMONS.

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon, for Clackamas County. Rose M. Holden, Plaintiff, vs. James E. Holden, Defendant. To James E. Holden, the above named defendant:

SUMMONS.

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon, for Clackamas County. Nellie Mullen, Plaintiff, vs. William Mullen, Defendant. To William Mullen, defendant above named:

SUMMONS.

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon, for the County of Clackamas. Charles Evans, Plaintiff, vs. Angeline Evans, Defendant. In the name of the State of Oregon, you are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled suit on or before the 21st day of December, A. D. 1906, said date being after the expiration of six (6) weeks from the first publication of the summons and if you so fail to appear and answer said complaint for want thereof the plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief prayed for in the complaint, to-wit:

SUMMONS.

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon, for Clackamas County. Irene McKinnon, Plaintiff, vs. A. C. McKinnon, Defendant. To A. C. McKinnon, defendant above named:

SUMMONS.

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon, for Clackamas County. Tony Arnaud, Plaintiff, vs. Rose Arnaud, Defendant. To Rose Arnaud, defendant above named:

SUMMONS.

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon, for Clackamas County. Birgitte Christensen, Plaintiff, vs. Christian Christensen, Defendant. To Christian Christensen, Defendant above named:

SUMMONS.

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon, for Clackamas County. Harry S. Green, Plaintiff, vs. Frances F. Green, Defendant. To Frances F. Green, Defendant:

McDonald of Oregon

This gradual and continuous progress of the European race toward the Rocky Mountains has the solemnity of a providential event, it is like a deluge of men rising unobtrusively and daily driven onward by the hand of God.—DeTocqueville.

DeTocqueville was an illustrious Frenchman who visited America three-quarters of a century ago, and wrote a book of his travels and impressions of democracy—one of the two or three books on America by foreign visitors that will live. The foregoing quotation from his book is appropriately used by Mrs. Eva Emery Dye prefacing, as it were, her own foreword in her latest book, McDonald of Oregon. We say appropriately because in a book that is of great merit as a story, as an historical romance, as a picture of old Oregon in the time of the fur traders, and a book containing the before unwritten but deeply interesting and dramatic account of the adventures of the young hero who penetrated the seclusion of old Japan and made possible the success of the Perry expedition—the chapter that is being quoted by the papers all over the country—we say in a volume with so many merits, the greatest art is found in "Book II—Beyond the Border," where she tells of the crossing of the plains and mountains by the pioneers of '43 and '44. Everyone has read the story of the emigrants, of their toilsome march, of privation and suffering, of attacks by hostile savages and the obstacles of a hostile nature. It has been written by hundreds of writers of more or less renown, but no one has felt the weariness of the desert, endured the heat, cold, hunger or thirst, or seen day by day the brave men and women die from pestilence or murderous Indians, unless he or she actually made the trip—or has read Book II of McDonald of Oregon. It is a national prose epic of a solemn, providential event in American history—the chief fact in the first century of national life.

Like in the epics of the Greeks, Mrs. Dye acquaints us with the actors in her drama before they are transformed into heroes and heroines by suffering or danger; gives us a picture of them in their peaceful, humble homes in Missouri, Kentucky and Indiana. There are real life scenes and the names are an honor roll of the Willamette Valley pioneers. Love romances are started back in the old homes that wind in and out like a skein of gold, in the story of crossing and culminating during the titanic struggle that wrested the primeval wilderness from the mighty grasp of nature.

The Sagars, Watts, Gilliams, Currys, Boones, Simmonses, Mintos, Reeses, Morrisons, Clarks, Shaws, Bowmans, Thorntons and scores of others, familiar names here today, take hold on the reader like one's "own folks," and you only regret that the covers of one small book could not encompass the complete story of each family's fortune or misfortune down to the present day.

Words of praise cannot give a true conception of these chapters. They must be read and read with a knowledge of the causes and results of the great migration of which these people formed a part. But there are glimpses—flashlight pictures in words—of the beginnings of Oregon City and the openings of the roads ("over Mount Hood," chapter for instance) leading to this haven for the men and women of '44, that make the reader pause and wish the exposure to the light had been longer. The greeting of the kindly, white-haired Dr. McLoughlin and his timely succor to the march-impooverished emigrants, will cause a deeper regard for his memory and a more keen desire that his old home be preserved both out of reverence to him and for the sake of Oregon.

The discovery of gold in California, the rush of Americans to this coast and the final abandonment of the Columbia by the Hudson Bay company fittingly close this winning of Oregon. Douglas closes the factor's house at Ft. Vancouver on the Columbia, and goes to Vancouver Island, while all the old feudal territory of the lordly company, is humming with the life of new democracy: "Mexican" doubloons were flying everywhere, building up the brisk trade of the coast. Where of old two or three ships a year had entered the Columbia now fifty arrived in '49. At Portland twenty vessels stood waiting at once for cargoes; and Oregon flour taken down to California and sold for one hundred dollars a barrel. Butter, eggs, and vegetables were worth their weight in gold. Packed in moss like jewels, apples from Luelling's infant orchard brought from two to five dollars apiece in San Francisco, and two years later the sturdy nursery man who had hauled his sprouts across the plains gave Oregon her fame as the "Land of Big Red Apples."

J.A. Folger & Co. Satisfaction No Prizes No Coupons No Crockery Never Sold in Bulk 1, 2, 2 1/2 and 5 Pound Tins Only San Francisco

aid's boyhood gives the story of old Oregon before the "Boston men" came. During his stay at Vancouver there came a party of Japanese, whose typhoon-swept junk had been cast on the coast near Flattery. The coming of these little strangers made an ineffaceable impression on the boyish Ranauld, and years after when a clerk in a bank in Elgin, Canada, he became imbued with a great desire to visit Japan, although it was supposed to be certain death for the foreigner who landed on the shores of the island empire. In 1845, the Oregon boundary question was settled, and, as grandson and next in kin to the late King Cumcumy, of the Chinooks, he was entitled to a handsome inheritance, but he chose, instead, to carry out his cherished plans and break into Japan. Journeying to New York City, he shipped before the mast on board the whaler Plymouth, Captain Edwards, master. Edwards was short of hands and agreed to McDonald's stipulation that he should sell him a small boat and allow him to leave the ship off the coast of Japan. The daring young navigator scuttled his little sloop when in sight of one of the islands, and determined to place himself at the mercy of the Japanese as a ship-wrecked sailor.

Ranauld's adventures in Japan and the opening of that country by the Perry expedition form the third part of Mrs. Dye's book. It was one of Ranauld's old pupils who was interpreter during the negotiations with the Commodore. Space will not permit adequate description of this longest and most quoted book of the four that comprise the volume. It is the subject of review and praise by all writers, and is never laid down by the reader until finished.

The later emigration to the Oregon Country, the founding of Seattle, the Indian wars led by Kamiakin and Ploimoxmox, and hundreds of interesting and thrilling incidents are told in Book IV. Of course, the main story, the winning of the Oregon country from first the British, then from the Indians, and from first to last from the gigantic forests, ends happily as we who live in this prosperous and favored land well know. But the striving and fighting, the heroic deeds of the Stevenses and Currys, of Margaret of Walla Walla and of Catherine Maynard form a series of pictures that hold the interest of the reader to the conclusion, when the sons and daughters of the pioneers of '44 are themselves rearing sons and daughters, fruits of those love stories begun before first the British, then from the Indians are famed and our own Pioneer Expressman of today, Clark Greenman, was teaching the red men farming; when Ranauld returns to his boyhood homes and gets the mitten from his beautiful cousin, Christine McDonald. He spent his last days at Fort Colville, which his father founded as a Hudson Bay post, and died there in 1894.

Mrs. Dye has written a strong book, one that is greater and yet is companion to "The Conquest," and "McLoughlin and Old Oregon." The three form a trilogy of historical romance on the settlement of the Pacific Northwest, that can fairly be compared to Sienkiewicz's famous trilogy on the Polish wars of the middle of the Seventeenth century—"With Fire and Sword," "The Deluge" and "Pan Michael."

"McDonald of Oregon" is published by A. C. McClurg & Co., Chicago, and contains six illustrations by Walter J. Enright.

TAKE NOTHING FOR GRANTED. Make Huntley Bros. Prove What Pepsikola Tablets Do For Indigestion.

It stands to reason that Huntley Bros. would not come right out in these columns year after year and ask you to try Pepsikola tablets for indigestion if they were not pretty sure you would receive decided benefit. You can see that for yourself. The remedy falls to cure every case, of course, but they always pay your quarter back, should the tablets fail to do good. Life is too short for misrepresentation in matters of this kind, and for the small profit Huntley Bros. make on a 25 cent package it would be mighty poor judgment to induce you to make a trip to this store and then sell you something that would disappoint you. If troubled with sour stomach, heart burn, wind, belching, coated tongue, loss of appetite, weakened energy, steady your nerves, improve your appetite, enrich your blood and put new life in your stomach as sure as this world.

Charm of a Clear Complexion. Every one who wants a good healthy color, a ruddy glow, and complexion free from pimples and moth spots should try Laxakola tablets, mild, safe, sure, prepared from vegetable laxatives with a selective action upon the skin. 25 cents. Huntley Bros. Co.

Hay, grain, flour and feed of all kinds at the Farmers' Feed Barn, at the right price. 44tf

When you want your horses well taken care of, stop at the Farmers' Feed Barn. 44tf

MONEY TO LOAN AT 6 AND 7 per cent Farm security. U'Ren & Schuebel.

WANTED. Wanted—Gentleman or lady with good references to travel by rail on with rig for a firm of $250,000.00 capital. Salary $1,072 per year and expenses. Salary paid weekly and expenses advanced. Address with stamp, Jos. A. Alexander, Oregon City, Ore. Dec. 21

FOR SALE OR RENT—My farm of 102 acres, half mile from Marquam, Oregon. About 45 acres in cultivation, besides the pasture. In good condition for a crop. House, barn and out-buildings; half mile from village of Marquam, half mile from good school, church, two stores, blacksmith shop, postoffice; 6 miles from railroad. For further particulars address, A. B. Marquam, Tillam, Ore. 50-12

When you require an Abstract of Title to lands in Clackamas County, have it accurately and reliably prepared by a responsible company incorporated for the purpose. Our rates are reasonable. We invite you to examine our complete set of Abstract Books. CLACKAMAS TITLE COMPANY, 606 608 Chamber of Commerce Bldg., PORTLAND, OREGON.

Money to loan on Clackamas County Property.

NAVY STIPP ATTORNEY-AT-LAW. Justice of the Peace. Office in Jagger Building, Oregon City.

JOHN YOUNGER, JEWELER. Seventh Street, near Depot.

Forty Years Experience in Great Britain and America.

DENTISTRY At Molalla, every Monday; Saturday on Appointments. JOHN W. THOMAS, Dentist

Private Money to Loan I have private parties with the following amounts to loan on real estate:

Table with 3 columns: Parties, Amount, Time. 1. $2000.00 5 to 10 years, 2. $4500.00 3 to 5 years, 3. $3500.00 1 to 3 years, 4. $1500.00 5 years, 5. $500.00 1 to 3 years, 15. $300.00 2 to 4 years, 25. $100.00 to

Interest at 6 per cent and your own time for repayment. Also a little Chattel money at 8 per cent. Will buy notes and mortgages. I also own Oregon City property to trade for country land. Will look up titles to land free if trade is made. Own 3 lots, house, barn and chicken park at Willamette, for sale cheap on installments. No real estate agent to interfere. If interested call, write or phone, JOHN W. LODER, Attorney-at-Law, Stevens Building, Oregon City, Oregon.

Administrator's Notice. Notice is hereby given that the undersigned has been appointed by the County Court of Clackamas County, Oregon, as administrator of the estate of Mahala Hanson, deceased. All persons having claims against said estate are hereby notified to present the same to the undersigned at his residence, 269 Porter street, Portland, within six months from this date. ROY W. COCHRAN, Administrator of the Estate of Mahala Hanson, deceased. Dated Nov. 9th, 1906. 49-15

L. L. PORTER, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW. Abstracts of Property Furnished. Office with Oregon City Enterprise.

SUMMONS. In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon, for Clackamas County. May Jacobs, Plaintiff, vs. Elias M. Jacobs, Defendant. To Elias M. Jacobs, the above named defendant:

In the name of the State of Oregon: You are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled court and cause at or before the expiration of six weeks from the date of first publication of this notice, and if you fail to do so the plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief prayed for in said complaint, to-wit: a decree dissolving the bonds of matrimony existing between you and plaintiff and restoring to plaintiff her maiden name, May Cheneworth. This summons is published pursuant to order of Hon. T. A. McBride, judge of said court, made November 5, 1906, directing that this notice be published not less than once a week for six consecutive weeks in the Oregon City Enterprise. The date of the first publication of this notice is November 8, 1906. HENRY ST. RAYNER, Attorney for Plaintiff.

Administratrix Notice. Notice is hereby given that the undersigned administratrix of the estate of Owen J. Roberts, deceased, has filed in the county Court of Clackamas County, Oregon, her final account as such administratrix of said estate, and that Monday, the 24th day of December, 1906, at the hour of 10 o'clock in the forenoon, has been fixed as the time for hearing objections to said account and the settlement thereof. MARGARET L. ROBERTS, Administratrix.

Notice of Administrator's Sale of Real Property. In the matter of the Estate of John Kennedy, deceased:

Notice is hereby given that pursuant to an order of the County Court of the State of Oregon for Clackamas County, made and entered on the 6th day of November, 1906, I will on the 14th day of December, 1906, proceed to sell at public auction, subject to the confirmation of Court at the front door of the courthouse of said Clackamas county, Oregon, the following described real property of said estate, and all the right, title and interest which the said John Kennedy had therein at the time of his death, to-wit:

The southeast quarter of south-east quarter of section 27, in township One south, range 4 east of the Willamette meridian containing 40 acres in said Clackamas county, Oregon. The terms of said sale are as follows: The entire purchase price is to be paid in cash. D. D. JACK, Administrator of the estate of John Kennedy, deceased. Dated November 9, 1906. 48-16

Notice of Final Settlement. Notice is hereby given that the undersigned administratrix of the estate of William F. Edwards, deceased, has filed in the county court of Clackamas county, State of Oregon, her final report and account as such administratrix, and that Monday, December 10, 1906, at 10 o'clock a.m., at the County court house, at Oregon City, Clackamas County, Oregon, has been appointed as the time and place by said Court for hearing and determining any and all objections to said accounts. KETURAH A. EDWARDS, Administratrix. By Geo. C. Brownell, Attorney for Administratrix. 47-16

APPLICATION FOR LICENSE. Notice is hereby given that the undersigned will apply to the County Court of Clackamas County for a license to sell spirituous, malt and vinous liquors for the period of 6 months from the 2d day of January, 1907, at 10 o'clock a. m., and that we will present the following petition to said Court on said day for said license. Dated November 13, 1906. T. M. ALLISON, Petitioner.

Petition. To the Honorable County Court of Clackamas County: We, the undersigned, residents and legal voters of Boring Precinct, in Clackamas County, State of Oregon, hereby respectfully petition your honorable body to grant to T. M. Allison a license for the period of 6 months from the 2d day of January, 1907, to sell spirituous, malt and vinous liquors, in less quantities than one gallon in the town of Boring, Boring precinct, State of Oregon. D. J. Hite, S. E. Card, F. M. Morgan, Bert Hollis, W. H. Card, Wm. Hedermann, John Musa, D. Hedermonn, H. Anderson, O. D. Roe, C. Lake, C. Palmer, E. Ellsworth, J. J. Timmerman, C. A. Wheeler, U. Bernegger, Frank Irvin, Joseph Borde, Chas. Groshong, Chas. Plyffer, L. O. Cornett, W. P. Brehm, A. H. Barber, C. G. Evans, J. C. Sutherland, Fred Bullock, J. Smith, C. R. White, L. D. O'Neill. 49-15

Appointment Notice. Notice is hereby given that the undersigned, Julia S. Hall, has been appointed by the Honorable County Court of Clackamas county, Oregon, administratrix of the estate of Albert D. Hall, deceased. All persons having claims against said estate are hereby notified to present the same for payment with proper vouchers at the office of Gordon E. Hayes, Stevens Building, Oregon City, Oregon, within six months from the date of this notice. Dated November 15th, 1906. JULIA S. HALL, Administratrix of the estate of Albert D. Hall, Deceased. Gordon E. Hayes, Attorney for Estate. 49 15