Golden Wedding.

Barlow, Dec. 3.—Over 300 friends of Mr. and Mrs. Ole A. Aasve gathered Sunday at the old Barlow home, now owned by S. B. Berg, to help celebrate the fiftieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Aasve.

Ole A. Aasve was born July 4, 1824, at Trondhjem, Norway. He came to America in the spring of 1851 and settled in Wisconsin, and afterwards went to Michigan, returning to Norway in 1855. He soon returned to America and was married December 2, 1856, at Hesper, Winneshiek county, Iowa, by Rev. Clausen, to Christena O. Rigg, who was born in Trondhjem, Norway, October 31, 1834.

Mr. and Mrs. Aasve lived on their first farm 10 years, then sold out and moved to Boone county, Iowa, residing there seven years, then to Jewell county, Minnesota, remaining there until the fall of 1892, when they came to Oregon and settled near Fairfield. In 1903 they went east on a visit and to attend the Synod jubilee, held at Decorah, Iowa. They came to Barlow in 1903.

Six of their eleven children are living. The youngest son, O. M. Aasve, lives at Barlow.

Rev. O. Hagoes, of Portland, and Rev. A. O. White, of Silverton were present. A sumptuous banquet was served. A handsome golden oak bedroom set was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Aasve, who, although they are 82 and 72 years of age, bid fair to enjoy many more anniversaries.

Jacob-Cox.

Judge G. B. Dimick officiated at a wedding in the county court chamber, Wednesday afternoon, at which Miss Cora Cox and J. M. Jacob were the principals. Both are Oregon City young people well known to their friends who wish them long life and happiness.

The Deutscher Maennerchor, the young but enterprising German society of Oregon City, gave a very successful dancing party at the armory Wednesday night. Typical German dances were rendered and the society gave a number of selections of good old German songs which made a tremendous hit with the audience. Refreshments were served. Parsons' orchestra furnished the music.

Southern-Thompson.

Charles L. Southern of Oregon City and Miss Helen Thompson of Ridgeland, Wisconsin, were married at 11:30 by Judge Dimick in the court room. Mr. and Mrs. Southern will board for a while with Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Curtis, friends of Mr. Southern in his boyhood home in Junction City, Kansas. Mr. Southern is a painter by trade. He has many friends in Oregon City who extend congratulations and welcome his bride to their new home.

Mrs. Linwood E. Jones entertained the members of St. Paul's Guild at her home Friday afternoon. Dainty refreshments were served and work done in preparation for the annual sale given by the ladies of St. Paul's parish.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Miller entertained to dinner Thursday at their home, 311 Fifth street, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Miller of this city, and Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Taber of Ilion.

The firemen at Estacada will give a "Hardtimes Ball" on New Year's Eve.

Mrs. George Howell entertained on Friday afternoon at her home at Fifth and Madison streets, about twenty little girls in honor of her daughter Alta's ninth birthday. The afternoon was pleasantly spent in games and at half-past four delicious refreshments were served. Miss Alta was the recipient of many beautiful presents with the good wishes of her little friends. Mrs. Howell was assisted in entertaining by Miss Myrtle Cross. Those present besides the hostess were: Mrs. John Howell, Miss Myrtle Cross, Miss Maude Brooker, Alice Miller, Lucille Evans, Gwendoline Shaw, Dorothy Hodges, Madeline Castor, Vivian Certha, Lethal Cross, Elva Erickson, Violet Beaulieu, Carol Ely, Pearl Sager, Katie Sager, Ruth Miller, Alta Howell, Everett Swanson, Kenneth Swanson, Richard Howell, Raymond Howell.

Sturday was Cupid's busiest day at the courthouse for some time. Four licenses were issued, two of which were followed up immediately by marriages. Judge Dimick united in marriage Kate Hogan and Theodore Glazler of Wasco at Dimick & Dimick's office, and Sophia Machiner and Edward Ott in the county court chamber. Helen Thompson and Charles L. Southern were issued a license.

A marriage license has been issued to Rossia Ulrich and George H. Snyder.

CLASSES ELECT OFFICERS.

Ninth and Tenth Grades, Barclay, and Eighth Grade, Eastham.

Class elections were held at the Barclay school Wednesday afternoon. The tenth grade elected officers as follows: Allie Grout, president; Genevieve Capen, vice-president; Myrtle Cross, secretary; William Strohmeyer, treasurer. The first two were elected unanimously and the other two officers went in by handsome majorities.

The ninth grade also elected officers. The successful ones were Wallace Caulfield, president; Arline Hardin, vice-president; Sedonia Shaw, secretary; Oudin Roberts, treasurer. The Eastham school also engaged in politics by electing eighth grade officers. Gilbert Charters was elected president; Thornton Howard, secretary and Madge Brightbill, treasurer.

A surprise party was tendered the successful candidate for president of the tenth grade, Allie Grout. The surprise was a good, old-fashioned complete one, the party of young people overwhelming the recipient while he was engaged in a quiet little game with his young brother, both sprawling on the floor. In a tree guessing game, in which Miss Elva Watts and Mildred Gillett came out victorious, Miss Watts was given a silver hat pin as first prize. Mr. Gillett having withdrawn in her favor. The party consisted of the Misses Elva Watts, Alice Goettling, Genevieve Capen, Ethyl Park, Mary Scott, Hazel Francis, Olga McClure, Mrs. Grout and Mrs. Godfrey; Messrs. Carl Schramm, Harlie Blackwell, Mildred Gillett, William Jackson, Harold Waldron, Glen Grout, William Strohmeyer, Harry Frost and Allie Grout.

The Knights and Ladies of Security gave their retiring president, Mrs. T. J. Lutz, a very handsome recognition of her work for the good of the Order, at their regular meeting at Woodman hall Monday night. Two candidates, Mrs. Lena Spagle and H. Saunders were initiated, three new applications were presented and S. O. Coolidge, who was recently elected to the vice-presidency, was installed. Lodge was then closed and Mrs. Lutz was escorted by the conductor and staff to the banquet hall, where instead of the "margarites and tea" which she had been asked to help provide, she found the banquet table spread with an elegant collation and beautified with Oregon grape and Chrysanthemums. But the crowning surprise came after all were seated when Secretary Mark Chapman called for order and in a neat speech presented to Mrs. Lutz a handsome set of silver knives, forks and spoons. Mrs. Lutz was prominent in the organization of the local lodge six years ago last April and for five years has been the popular and efficient president. About sixty members were present.

The Harding grange is preparing for a dance to be given New Year's Eve in Logan hall.

Miss Nettie Kruse was pleasantly surprised Saturday evening, by twenty-five of her friends, in honor of her nineteenth birthday. Music and games in keeping with the Thanksgiving holidays were the amusements, after which a dainty luncheon was served. Misses Nettie Stafford, Hazel Kennedy and Bessie Capen and Ernest Shank won the prizes. Books and silver with other dainty gifts were presented to Miss Kruse with congratulations.
