TRUTH FROM WALL STREET.

Here is something that has been floating around the country credited to the Wall Street Journal. Whether the crediting to the organ of frenzied finance is truth or sarcasm we don't know, but we do know the article itself is all truth, and there cannot be too many readings of it. It may be the editor of that paper upon some rainy day dreamed of the peace and contentment of the old home back in the hills, where prayers were prayed to God and not to Mammon, and for a moment he became inspired and dashed off the following:

"What America needs more than railway extension, and western irrigation, and a low tariff, and a bigger wheat crop, and a merchant marine, and new navy, is a revival of piety, the kind mother and father used to have—piety that counted it good business to stop for daily family prayers before breakfast, right in the middle of the harvest; that quit work a half-hour earlier Thursday night, so as to get the chores done and go to prayer meeting; that borrowed money to pay the preacher's salary and prayed fervently in secret for the salvation of the rich man who looked with scorn on such unbusinesslike behavior. That's what we need now to clean this country of the filth and graft, and of greed, petty and big; of worship of fine houses and big lands and high office and grand social functions. What is this thing which we are worshipping but a vain repetition of what decaying nations fell down and worshipped just before their light went out? Read the history of Rome in decay and you'll find luxury there that could lay a big dollar over our little doughnut that looks so large to us. Great wealth never made a nation substantial nor honorable. There is nothing on earth that looks so good that is so dangerous for a man or a nation to handle, as quick, easy, big money. If you resist its deadly influence, the chances are that it will get your son. It takes greater and finer heroism to dare to be poor in America than to charge an earthworks in Manchuria."

APPLES.

"Apples breed optimism, energy, cheerfulness, ambition," says Charles Edmund Tomlinson, of Chicago, founder of the Apple club of America. He is a worthy successor and complement of "Applesed Johnny." The latter traveled about western New York and northern Ohio a century ago planting apple seed wherever he went. Now Mr. Tomlinson is going about urging people to eat the fruit of the trees thus propagated, or any other trees, at the rate of at least one apple a day. Life would be but a scurvy proposition, especially on a shipboard and in the arctic regions, were it not for the gift of the apple, says an editorial writer in the New York Globe. It is the most universal of fruits, and the cheapest. North America produces annually about a hundred million barrels. Every week this country sends to Europe 250,000 barrels. The apple is decorative in color and outline, delicious to the palate, salubrious to the liver. Its juices prolong youth and retard the onset of older years by dissolving the mineral deposits that form along the blood channels. On the average every American eats a barrel of apples in a year. The conditions of membership in the Apple club of America are too low. Every one should eat at least three apples a day. And the Oregon product are the best of this fruit.

CANBY PAPER FLOURISHING.

The Canby Tribune has entered up on its second year, and the editor, George W. Dixon, in a signed statement says it is more than a success. The Star is heartily glad for Canby is a good town and will profit by supporting liberally its local paper. And Dixon always sticks up for Canby and deserves success for that even if he wasn't, which he is, an entertaining as well as a candid writer. Editor Dixon says that a man told him last year he had better get a $10 a week job than to try to run a newspaper in Canby. Dixon replied he was not a $10 man, and since that time the solicitous party has asked for employment on the Tribune. The Tribune office was moved to a room on C street for reasons thus stated by its editor: "In moving to its present location the Tribune has a two-fold advantage. In the first place we have easy access to 'Dad' Deyoe's woodpile back of the postoffice, and this cold spell is likely to continue for quite a while yet. Then there are a lot of bearing fruit trees back of the office, and when this fruit gets ripe, the rest is easy."

NOTES FROM CLARKES.

H. Turner and family visited at Mr. and Mrs. Tousts, Sunday. Many potatoes frozen during the recent cold spell. Mr. and Mrs. Wallace and Mrs. Louis Wallace and Kilian Schmidt spent Sunday at Mr. Mosler's. School continues two months more with Miss Moehnke as teacher. Louis Wallace spent Tuesday and Wednesday hauling hay for his brother at Colton. Mrs. H. Wallace, who was staying with her daughter for some time, has returned home. Mrs. Lottie Cummins and daughter are visiting at Westport, Wash. H. Wallace sold a cow and calf last week. F. Mueller was an Oregon City visitor last week.

ALL FOR PORTLAND.

Let us have free locks, but let the U. S. government furnish them. Oregon has enough burdens to carry already, says the Albany Democrat, and the same paper adds: "It is the business of the U. S. government to make the river navigable at Oregon City just as much as at the mouth of the Columbia." Doesn't the Democrat know that Portland, which bosses the Oregon congressional delegation, would never permit a penny of government money to be diverted from Portland harbor or access to it. We haven't been in Oregon long, but we have been here long enough to find out Portland's hogghishness.

EVERYBODY WANTS IT.

Some people are yearning for love and some long To win the bright laurels of fame; here are people who covet the gift of sweet song, And some knightly prowess would claim; But that which appeals to most people today— And you probably yearn for it, too— is a job that is steady, with mighty good pay, And where there is little to do. —Chicago Record-Herald.

The postoffice department may be cranky, arbitrary, cantankerous and idiotic, but it is impartially so on all counts. The ruling that those parts of Oregon City without sidewalks must do without free delivery may have seemed like rubbing it in on a small town, but the same ruling was recently applied to the big city of New Orleans and the Southerners are howling their heads off about it and are sure the Civil war of forty years ago has something to do with it. The postoffice will get so strict pretty soon that it will require people writing letters to address them correctly.

After some debate in the United States senate a few days ago it was decided by unanimous vote that the term "Civil War" and not "War of the Rebellion" should be used in senate documents. Senator Carmack offered the motion to change the name of the service pension bill to agree with the term, afterward accepted, and after several Democratic senators had spoken, the motion was adopted.

The people of this country ought to be especially pleased to find that the men they elected to congress last fall are worth 50 per cent more than they supposed them to be worth. The congressmen themselves admit that they are worth $7500 instead of $5000 per year.

We saw a man Monday who owes two years' subscription to The Borcall's put up the cash for a year's subscription for a Portland paper. And that's the way it goes.—Aurora Borcall's. Why don't you sell your paper for cash only as the Portland papers do?

William R. Hearst is said to have expressed a preference for William R. Becker as his running mate in case of his own nomination by the Democracy for President of the United States. Becker is the "boy mayor" of Milwaukee.

Mohammed Ali Mirza, the new Shah of Persia, will be enthroned on February 2, at the Festival of the Lake.

W. O. W. PLACE BAN OF F. OF A.

Coffee, Cake, Ice Cream, Sandwiches and Beer Constitute F. of A. Refreshments Objected to by W. O. W.

Court Robin Hood No. 3, Foresters of America, met Tuesday evening in the Woodman Hall for a regular meeting. A very interesting session was held and one candidate took the lonesome trip through the deep, dark forest.

Court Robin Hood is one of the lodges of this city that believes in social sessions and once in a while they partake of the flowing refreshment in a temperate manner. But on this account the Woodmen have issued an edict on the lodge that the using of liquid refreshments must be stopped in their hall. There was a strong discussion and as the result the Foresters appointed a committee to transfer the lodge regalia from the present lodge room to Knapp's Hall.

The edict will not only place a ban on the Foresters of America, but on many of the lodges that hold their sessions in the Woodmen hall. It is well known by many in this city that all the lodges of this city have their social gatherings from time to time, and that these always end with a banquet. The Woodmen were somewhat surprised when the Foresters decided to move for they had not looked forward to this act. Several other lodges may also take steps to hunt other quarters as their home.

The meeting of Court Robin Hood No. 3, will be hereafter held on every Thursday evening in Knapp's hall. The change of halls has made necessary the change of date from Tuesday to Thursday.

HORSE THIEF GETS BUSY NEAR RISLEY'S

A horse was stolen on Tuesday evening from the barn of Ed. Roethe, who lives beyond Jennings Lodge. The matter was reported to the officials of this city early Wednesday morning and Chief of Police Burns got busy right away. Roethe is offering a reward of $25 for the return of the animal. Chief Burns has posted reward signs in town.

BEAVER CREEK.

Many farmers are busy picking out frozen potatoes. John Bohlander took a load of hogs to market this week. Emerson Spatz is enjoying the good old home during cold days. W. Parry and O. Lyman are cutting wood for Bill Young. John Westburger is cutting wood for Mr. Kinzman. About one-third the grain and two-thirds of the potatoes have been destroyed by the recent heavy frosts. Several of the Beaver Creek young folks attended the debating society at Shubel Saturday night. A. Thomas is busy buying oats and hay. Daniel Jones left this week for Wardner, Idaho. Three prominent young ladies, while being escorted to church by a prominent young man Sunday night, fell into an under-pond washout about ten feet deep, near the county road. After hard scrambling and calling for help they were gotten out. Thomas Bros. are busy cutting wood. Ericson Bros. called on W. C. Martin, Sunday.

E. church. B. Sullivan's brother came out to visit for a short time. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stromgreen were in town Friday, on business.

"BUNCH" DID NOT SUIT HIM

PETTED DOG RATHER THAN ENTAIN HER FRIENDS AND RELATIVES.

Circuit Court to Resume Work Thursday—Many Unhappy Couples Will Learn Their Fate This Week.

Anna Wisnan has entered a suit for divorce from W. A. Wisnan. The two were married in Oregon City on September 3, 1894. In the complaint the woman tells of her troubles and how her husband treated her. He never wanted to be seen with her on the streets and often said he did not want people to know that she was his wife. He would never accompany her on visits to her friends and her relatives, saying that he did not like the "bunch."

He would not aid her in entertaining friends who called at their home and would rather play with the dog. The plaintiff prays for a decree dissolving the bonds of matrimony.

The docket of the circuit court will be resumed Thursday and the many unhappy couples that have been waiting the decision of the court for a decree of divorce, will learn what is to be their fate.

Among the divorce suits that are to be brought up are: The Klaetsch vs. Klaetsch; Schilling vs. Schilling; and the Leo Peterson vs. Charlotte Peterson.

The rest of this week is to be taken up hearing the many different controversies and it is thought will finish the work here for some time.

J. E. Springer has brought suit for divorce against Lenora G. Springer. They were married in Marshalltown, Iowa, in March, 1905, and the cause of the complaint is desertion. The defendant deserted the plaintiff on June 20th, 1905, at Spokane, Wash. Dimick & Dimick are attorneys for the plaintiff.

In order to make the county building still a quieter place, the two occupants of the county jail—Selken and Richards—have been given their liberty. Trembath on Thursday evening took out Richards, the negro cook of the St. Paul house, who was serving a ten day sentence for assault and battery. Friday morning Justice of the Peace Stipp remitted the fine of Selken and he was turned loose. Selken was serving a 20-day sentence for larceny as bailie. It is said that he did not like his lodgings and that at times he became terribly lonesome, and the justice took pity on him.

The treasurer's office is also undergoing a bit of repose. The deputy treasurer, Miss Paddock, Friday morning stated that Thursday was the first day since she has been in the office that not a cent had been paid out, although quite a sum had been taken in.

Electricians were at the courthouse Friday morning looking over the building with a view of rewiring the whole building. When the court house was built gas fittings were put in and later was wired for electricity. But now it is said that the company that carries the insurance is objecting to the present state of the wiring of the building and that the rates must be raised. The building may be rewired in a few days.

LOGAN GIRLS MUST BE FAMOUS COOKS

BASKETS AT SOCIAL BRING $4.00 AND $5.00 EACH—STORK GENEROUS AT SARVER HOME.

Logan, Jan. 29.—This portion of the universe is in the clutches of the la grippe. Everybody and his dog has it. Friday night was night to be remembered by the Logan young folks. Anyhow the young men who had to pay as high as four and five dollars for his best girl's basket will remember it. There was a large attendance. After an interesting program the basket auction began. Carl Fallert was auctioneer. The committee in charge realized about $40 for their efforts. After the conclusion of these entertaining features, dancing was indulged in until a late hour. Frank Riehoff was home a few days on a visit, while he nursed the grip. Take off hats to B. O. Sarver now. The stork was over generous in leaving twin boys at the Sarver home. All doing well. Frank and Dave Parth of Boring, visited their parents here over Sunday.

FINE NEW BUILDING FOR MAIN STREET

J. WALLACE COLE CLOSSES DEAL WITH MULTNOMAH LODGE —PRICE $4,500.

The closing of the deal between J. Wallace Cole of this city and Multnomah lodge means much to Oregon City. Mr. Cole will erect a new building in the place of the O. K. barber shop and the Frissell bowling alleys. The building is to be a modern two-story brick.

The deal transferred to the new owner a frontage of 21 feet and the price paid was $4500. This will leave Multnomah lodge a large lot on which to build their temple. Multnomah lodge has now decided to build a three and a half story building. Judge Thomas F. Ryan went to Salem Wednesday to look over the plans of the Elk's Temple recently built there and also look over the work of the architect. The half block north of the bridge will be the best block in the city—the Barclay building, Cole building and Masonic temple.

CLACKAMAS YOUTH FIRST AT PACIFIC

WILLIAM GWYNN WILL REPRESENT HIS COLLEGE IN ORATORICAL CONTEST.

The different colleges throughout the state have held their tryouts for the coming state oratorical contest in March. Some of the results of these tryouts are especially interesting to the people of Oregon City, as some of the former residents have figured prominently and others will represent the institutions they are attending.

At the University of Oregon Francis V. Galloway, well known in this city, was selected to represent his college at the contest at McMinnville in March.

William A. Gwynn was selected at Pacific University. Mr. Gwynn is also well known in the southern part of Clackamas county and by many residents of Oregon City. He is an especially forceful speaker.
