PIONEER EXPRESS SOLD BY FOUNDER

CLARK N. GREENMAN TRANSFERS BUSINESS HE STARTED 42 YEARS AGO.

A deal was made Friday morning which will transfer the business of Clark N. Greenman, the Pioneer express man to E. F. Grisez.

Clark Nelson Greenman entered the transfer business in Oregon City in June, 1865, when this city was only a small village, built along the river bank. Only a few residences at that time were built on the hill, and but few beyond the Congregational church. The business section was scattered along Main street as far as the Red front, but was principally located near the woolen mills. Mr. Greenman's business did not take him more than twice a week on the hill in the Seventh street district and then only when some one moved his household goods to that section to make his home.

Mr. Greenman retires after 42 years of active business life. When seen Friday morning, Mr. Greenman said that he would not give up yet, but as he was getting past 75 years of age, he thought that his time for retiring from active business had come. "It will take me years to realize the fact that I have nothing in the world to do and that I have not a single horse or wagon to my name."

Mr. Greenman came to Oregon City in January, 1854, just 53 years ago. Before going into the express business he traveled and prospected for several years. He will retire from active business and Bert Greenman will stay about a month with the new owner, long enough to show him the run of things. Bert will then return to the hatchery work, being an expert in that line. He was employed for six or seven years at the Clackamas hatchery some years ago.

The transfer of the business includes four spring wagons, two sand and rock wagons, one low truck wagon, eight horses and harness. The new proprietor began work Friday morning. He came to Oregon City from the northern part of California.

OGLE MINERS COME OUT ON SNOW SHOES

HEAVY FALL OF THE BEAUTIFUL ATTENDS THEIR JOURNEY —MINE NEWS.

Three miners were in Oregon City Friday morning from the Ogle mountain district. They are D. J. Thorne, C. H. Smith and Bob Sherer. The trip was made out by the way of Gates and Albany on the Corvallis & Eastern and then to Oregon City by the Southern Pacific.

The miners had to travel on snow shoes to Gates, a distance of about 15 miles. Snow fell all the time they were traveling and the first part of the trip was made through four feet of snow.

Mr. Thorne has a claim adjoining the Ogle mountain mines, in which he owns a half interest and Chambers Howell and Mr. Olsen of the electric plant own the other half. They have done a good deal of work on their claim and Mr. Thorne believes it to be as good as the Fairclough and Harless mines.

Mr. Thorne may return to the mines in a short time. The came out to get supplies. He also spoke of the work of the Ogle mines and said the large gang of miners were working fast as possible and that the 10-stamp mill was kept busy night and day. The efforts of the men are being centered upon widening the space where the tunnel strikes the 15 foot ledge. The ore is keeping up to the standard and gives indications of being much richer.

The men came out through Gates as that route seems to be easier to travel at this time of the year. But when the subject of the proposed road through Red Rock mountain and Molalla was brought up Mr. Thorne became enthusiastic and said that was the only way out of the mining district.

All the miners favor the opening up of the new road by the way of Molalla as so much time is being wasted by the change of trains and train connections. The new road if built will be an easy one and travel to the mines would be assured the year round.

Mr. Thorne left town for his home at Maple Lane Friday morning.

Butte, Mont., mail carriers will resign because they can't live on $600 a year. Congressmen who recently voted to increase their own pay to more than 12 times the carriers pay, cannot be expected to pay any attention to such kicks.

Alleged evidence in a safe at Colorado Springs, against the miners' federation officials in jail in Idaho was destroyed by Pettybone's "hellfire," a new liquid explosive.

Indiana senate passed a 2 cent railway fare bill, Thursday, and a 2 1/2 cent fare bill passed Alabama legislature and will be signed by governor.

COUNTY CALLS WARRANTS SOON

INDEBTEDNESS WILL BE PAID NEXT WEEK SAYS DEPUTY TREASURER.

Cash Business at Court House During January—Increase in Recorder's Fees—Tax Roll Complete.

Friday, February 1, was pay day at the court house, and all the officials were in good humor. Outside of this the official business center of the county seat was very quiet.

The recorder's fees during month of January show quite a substantial increase over January of last year. For January, 1907, the recorder's fees amount to $359.55, while a year ago the fees amounted to only $348.75.

The receipts of the county clerk's office for January are $471, and had the circuit judge been able to have completed his work during the last month those receipts would have been swollen more than $100.

February 1, is the beginning of the strenuous work for the occupants of the sheriff's office as the tax roll has been completed and was handed over to the sheriff, Friday morning. The taxes are now payable. The fees in the office of the sheriff have been very small during the last month and only amount to $16.40.

The amount of cash on hand in the treasury is not as large as that of the same month last year. The balance on hand the first of February, 1907, is $11,155.44 and $1,237.63 was paid out. The deputy treasurer, Miss Padlock, stated that she had pleasing news for the people of the county as a call for county warrants was to be made next week. County Treasurer Padlock will be able to attend to his duties the first of the week.

SOLONS ARE BUSY BEES SAYS U'REN

W. S. U'Ren returned Saturday evening from Salem where he has been working in the interest of some of the measures, which he has had introduced before the legislature. When asked as to the work of the house and senate, Mr. U'Ren said that the present legislature had been working hard and in fact much harder than many of the previous sessions. If it had not been delayed by the bawble of the printing which delayed the work nearly a week, many of the bills and measures would have now been passed or rejected. At it is now, a great many of these bills are ready for the third reading and will be acted upon this week.

Mr. U'Ren will return to Salem Tuesday morning unless he is kept by the high water.

VEGETABLES FEW AND HIGH PRICED

Death of Cabbages and Carrots—Potatoes Retailing at $1.35 a Sack.

The market has practically taken no jumps during the last week, yet there is quite a change in the potato market, and the local merchants say it is very hard to get potatoes and that those that can be bought in the market have come up 10 and 15 cents per sack. They are now selling at $1.20 to $1.35 a sack.

All garden truck is scarce and Monday the local market was shy of cabbage, rutabagas, carrots, parsnips, beets, etc. They are still quoted at the same price of 75 cents a sack, but the merchants are unable to secure much. There was practically a famine of garden truck in the market Monday.

WOULD A FISH WARDEN BE—IF?

It looks as though the upper Columbia men who are after Master Fish Warden Van Dusen's scalp, will get it all right. He is accused of nearly everything except knowing his business. F. A. Seufert of The Dalles says in establishing the hatchery at Ontario, they allege, the Master Warden used poor judgment, since demonstrated by the inability of the hatchery to secure salmon for propagation, resulting practically in idleness. The operation of the hatchery on the McKenzie, it is represented, has proved a failure as to the successful distribution of the fish that are propagated there. This station is doing more hatchery work than any other in Columbia waters, but, asks Mr. Seufert, how can they reach the sea to grow into adult fish when on their journey down stream they have to pass through the power wheels of the factories at Oregon City? "What would you give for a salmon," says he, "that is chewed up by those wheels, or for a million salmon?"

J. U. Campbell, the well known Oregon City attorney, is alleged to be willing to accept the job of Master fish warden, and H. A. Webster of this county, the present deputy warden, is an active candidate for Van Dusen's place.

house beginning at 1:30 and 7:30 p. m.

HUBBY INQUIRED INTO HER DOINGS.

Elizabeth J. Middlebrook as plaintiff has brought suit for divorce in the circuit court of Clackamas county against Jesse L. Middlebrook.

The unhappy couple were married on June 6, 1897, at Auburn, New York. Their married life was never a happy one and five years ago the defendant began to treat her in a cruel manner and accuse her of improper conduct and from time to time inquired into her doings from her friends and relatives and did everything that would be humiliating and degrading to her. Finally the two moved from Seattle to Portland but he continued to persecute the plaintiff. He was so jealous and at time became so angry that she was forced to leave him. She now comes before the court and prays for a decree dissolving the bonds of matrimony between herself and husband and also for the costs of the action.

WILL TAKE 30,000 FEET PER MINUTE

WARD WEBBER WOULD FILL BIG CANAL FROM CLACKAMAS RIVER.

Ward P. Webber, having property on the south fork of the Clackamas river, has filed in the county clerk's office notice for appropriation of 20,000 miners' inches of the waters of the south fork of the Clackamas river.

Said appropriation being in volume a continuous flow of 30,000 cubic feet of water per minute. The exact place of the land is through the center of section 6, 5 south, 5 east.

The waters he wishes to appropriate are to be used for the development of mineral resources and to furnish electric power and energy of light and other purposes.

The name of the canal in and through which it is proposed to take and conduct the waters is to be the "South Fork Canal."

The point of diversion of the waters of the south fork of the Clackamas to this canal is located on the west bank of the south fork where the stream is crossed by the division line running east and west through center of section 6, 5 south, 5 east. The waters appropriated after having been used, will be discharged into the Clackamas.

Three reservoirs are to be constructed for the holding of waters for the purpose set forth.

Jury, swayed by sentiment, returned verdict of not guilty in trial of Chester Thompson for murder of Judge Meade Emory of Seattle. The aged father of young Thompson made an impassioned speech to clear his son, falling exhausted at its close while judge and jury wept in sympathy with him.

The United States senate has passed a bill increasing the pension of all Indian war survivors from $8 to $10 per month.

John R. Kelso, justice of the peace of Milwaukie district No. 3, was in Oregon City on business, Monday.
