MANY PERSONS SEE BUT FEW OBSERVE

ONE IS WORK OF EYES, OTHER PRODUCT OF EYES AND BRAIN.

At the Congregational church Sunday evening, the pastor, Rev. E. Clarence Oakley, preached to a large congregation on "The Eyes." Among other things he said:
"The eye is a marvelous magician: it catches up a pencil of light, that is meaningless, having neither form nor color, and by its strange powerful analysis dissects it into a picture of beauty and glory. The trip from the bit of scenery out there on the landscape to the picture thrown upon the screen of the soul is an infinite journey. There is a great difference between eyes: Some eyes see nothing in a world that is full of sights; other eyes see everything. The difference is not so much in the eye as in the man behind the eye. The difference is between mere seeing and observing. Seeing is the work of the eye; observing is the product of the eye and the alert mind back of it. The prophets discovered what they did, not because God forced upon them his revelations of truth, but because they had prying minds. They were called Seers, because they were seeing ones. It is the duty of every man to look beneath the surface of things. There is an outside of things and an inside. The man with a trained spiritual eye looks not on the appearance of things, but peers within. He fathoms the meaning of the universe."

The congregation were delighted with the fine music rendered by Miss Alicia McElroy of Portland. She played a selection called "The Story," and one hearing it could almost feel the spiritual meaning of the tale, the pathetic lament of unhappiness, the first glimmerings of faith, and the final outburst of Christian triumph. At the close of the service she played in an exquisite manner the Bach-Gounod "Ave Marie." Miss McElroy is a violinist of considerable power; her playing is so sweet and appealing. She may always be sure of a cordial welcome in Oregon City.

Out of Sight.

"Out of Sight, out of mind." Is an old saying which applies with special force to a sore, burn or wound that's been treated with Bucklen's Arnica Salve. It's out of sight, out of mind and out of existence. Piles too and chilblains disappear under its healing influence. Guaranteed by Howell & Jones, druggists, 25c.

Gives More Light Gem High Efficiency Electric Lamp.

This new line of high candle-power lamps signalizes an important development in the use of electric light, and marks a notable advance in the betterment of illumination. The actual gain is 20 per cent better efficiency than is at present obtained from the highest efficiency incandescent lamps.

High Efficiency Lamp with Distributing Holophane Reflector.

Appreciating the great gain in lighting secured by the use of proper reflectors, there has been designed for use with the new lamps a special line of Holophane Pagoda shades, which, when used with the new lamps form a brilliant and highly effective lighting combination. Two kinds of reflectors are provided, the distributing or "D" form which is shown above, and which is recommended where wide areas are to be illuminated, and the concentrating or "C" form of reflector which is admirably adapted for use in show-window lighting or wherever a concentration of light is desirable.

The GEM lamp with its Holophane Glass reflector forms a brilliant lighting combination and merits the attention of store keepers and all those interested in the improvement of lighting facilities.

On exhibition at the Company's office 609 Main Street. Call telephone 1081 for information.
