

This is a Watch Ad

There are many things in our stock that we feel we should talk about, but when we look at that great big stock of Watches we decide to give you a little Watch talk.

Our Watch stock is unusual because of its size. More than 200 Watches of all sizes and qualities are shown. And because we bought so many the prices are unusual.

Then the stock is unusual because of the care with which it was selected. There isn't an unworthy timepiece in the lot.

There are cheap watches of course—$1.00 ones, but they are worth what they cost, and would please your boy right down to the ground.

For older people we have more expensive watches and every value unusual.

FARMING PAYS HERE.

Figures Show Farming Profitable in Willamette Valley.

Woodburn—If the true farming conditions of this section were more widely known in the East there would be thousands more coming to Oregon regardless of whether there are special railroad rates or full fare. Here is only a few instances of how farming in this vicinity pays, reference being made to recent sales of 1906 crops:

P. J. Anderson, ten acres of potatoes, sold for $1043.

Marlin Bergan, six acres of potatoes, sold for $750.

Bonzes Bros., one and three-fourths acres of potatoes, sold for $800.

Innumerable instances can be given of big profits being made by producers in potatoes, onions, hops, clover seed and other outputs, and the future looks so exceedingly bright that our farmers are preparing to increase their acreage. The markets are all that could be desired.

EXCITING RUNAWAY BUT NO ONE HURT.

A team driven by Wm. Hatton of Clear Creek frightened at escaping steam from the donkey engine at Masonic temple excavation, and run madly up Main street Thursday forenoon. The team was hitched to a dirt wagon and the bed poles made a poor footing but Hatton clung desperately to the reins, bracing his feet against the bolster.

The fine, big horses were mad with fright and ran at great speed, luckily missing the many other rigs on the street. At Fourth street, Hatton turned the horses toward the telephone pole at the Elkhorn livery corner. Crossing the tracks swung the wagon around and helped break the force of the collision. The horses were stopped and grabbed by bystanders. Neither Hatton nor team was hurt.

The team is a magnificent one but has formed a runaway habit. Hatton had another narrow escape with them only a few days ago, while plowing. The plow struck a root, the doubletrees broke and the team plunged forward. The inch and a quarter lines around Hatton's body fortunately parted and the team run like possessed of seven devils.

Mr. Hatton's brother Forsythe was killed in a runaway about a year ago while gathering cream for the Clear Creek creamery. A runaway dashed against Hatton's wagon overturning it and him down a high bank.

The county clerk's office is greatly improved by the addition of several new filing cases and a number of record-shelves. TOGETHER AT GREEN RIVER 54 YEARS AGO.

W. W. H. Samson was disappointed in not being able to attend the pioneer meeting at Champoeg Thursday, being detained by the funeral of George Smith, who was a school-boy friend and neighbor of his years ago.

Mr. Smith's parents at one time owned the Samson, Tracy and Weingard property where Peter Nehren now lives, on Main street, and left him considerable property at their death.

Mr. Samson says that he and Clark Greenman, George H. Himes, secretary of the association, and Hon. F. M. Kizer of Marion county, cousin of Mr. Samson, were together at Green River, Wyoming, on July 4, 1853, on their way across the plains. It was an exciting time and is doubtless well remembered by all four as the Indians, urged by the Mormons, were on the verge of an outbreak. Mr. Samson's father, who was a Methodist preacher, provided himself with a gun and all were prepared for an attack. The Mormons were operating a ferry and charged $5 for ferrying a wagon across the river.

Relief from Rheumatic Pains.

"I suffered with rheumatism for over two years," says Mr. Roland Curry, a patrolman, of Key West, Fla. "Sometimes it settled in my knees and lamed me so I could hardly walk, at other times it would be in my feet and hands so I was incapacitated for duty. One night when I was in severe pain and lame from it in my wife went to the drug store here and came back with a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I was rubbed with it and found the pain had nearly gone during the night. I kept on using it for a little more than two weeks and found that it drove the rheumatism away. I have not had any trouble from that disease for over three months." For sale by Howell & Jones.

DEATH'S DAILY HARVEST

George Smith, one of the pioneers of the state, died at the home of his sister Mrs. Emma Davidson at Seventh and Center streets, from an attack of paralysis, at 1 o'clock Wednesday morning. Mr. Smith had been suffering from paralysis for the last six months, and Sunday he met with a serious attack, from which he never rallied. Deceased was well known in this city, having crossed the plains in 1852, and resided in this county since. For many years he was janitor of the First Methodist church. He was 61 years of age. The funeral will be held at the residence of his sister Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. Rev. Lansborough of the Presbyterian church conducting the services. The remains will be interred in Mountain View cemetery.

John Jones, an Oregon pioneer who came from Kentucky and settled in Oregon City in 1852, died at his home in Dayton, Or., Saturday, of paralysis. He leaves a widow, three sons and five daughters. Though leaving here many years ago, old settlers remember Mr. Jones as a man of magnificent physique. He was a millwright by trade, and helped build one of the first sawmills in Oregon, at Eola. While living near that place, in 1862, his buildings were carried away by the high water in the Willamette, and he and his wife and child were rescued with difficulty from their floating house. Mr. Jones was engaged in the cattle business near Heppner for some time and then moved to Dayton where he resided for 23 years.

W. H. Woodhouse, an old resident of Stafford, died at his home Tuesday evening. He was 67 years of age, and is survived by his wife and five children: Frederick Woodhouse of Vancouver, Wash.; Mrs. Flora Smith, Mrs. Dora Walker, Mrs. May Harper and Al Woodhouse, all of Stafford. The funeral will be held Thursday morning, interment in Oswego cemetery.

The funeral of Henry Kenyan, the steward of the steamer "Ruth," who dropped dead of heart failure Tuesday morning, will be held in Dayton, Sunday afternoon. Though all funeral arrangements have not been made, it is thought probable that the services will be held under the auspices of the Masonic lodge of which he was a member. It is thought that the dead man has relatives living in the vicinity of Butteville.

William Settlemeier, a pioneer of 1849, died Wednesday afternoon at his home at Milwaukie of apoplexy. He was 75 year old. Death came unexpectedly, although Mr. Settlemeier had been ill for the last month. Mr. Settlemeier came to Milwaukie from Arlington, Or., where he settled after crossing the plains with his father in 1849. He leaves the following children: Mrs. S. P. Gould, Portsmouth; Mrs. Galbraith, Canyon City;

William A. Huntley, Jr., only son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Huntley, died at their home on Seventh street at 2 o'clock Thursday morning. He had been ill for twelve days with pneumonia, which turned into a well developed case of spinal meningitis and resulted in his death. William was a bright and sweetly dispositioned child, a general favorite with school-mates and teachers and idolized by his parents and little sister. No funeral arrangements have been made yet.

The body of Clarence V. Crawford, who died at Nashville on Mt. Scott line Wednesday, will be interred at Oregon City, Friday morning. The funeral services will be held at Finley's chapel before coming to Oregon City.

IMPROVED STREETS IF PUBLIC DOCK IS PLEDGED.

If the board of trade, business men and other shippers will pledge funds for a public dock at the foot of Eleventh street, the city will order the improvement of Moss and Eleventh streets from Main to Water so as to give access to the dock, even if next year's permanent street fund has to be drawn on to pay for the improvement. That in brief, was the recommendation made to the council, Wednesday night, by the special committee and the report was adopted by the council.

That pledges the city to the improvement provided the public dock is worth the cost to business men and other shippers.

We Advertise To Make You THINK

The old-fashioned "ethics" that a dentist should not advertise are dead, except with a few old fogies. Patronize an up-to-date dentist and keep your teeth up-to-date also. You have been promising yourself to have those unsightly teeth cleaned, the tartar removed, those bleeding and tender gums treated and the decayed teeth crowned or filled; but you have let them go knowing that the diseased condition of your mouth and teeth are causing that unpleasant breath and destroying your health. Why not have your mouth and teeth clean and healthy and able to do the work nature intended them to do. It would be a good investment which you will realize when you have lost both your teeth and your health. Nine tenths of all stomach troubles are caused by bad teeth and ulcerated gums. We do crown and bridge work without hurting you and our work is up to the standard of large cities. It is best. Call and see us. We are careful not to hurt you and guarantee to please you. No charge for examination or advice.
