THE DREAMLAND.

Captain Shaw of the strawberry growers of Clackamas county surely felt repaid for their earnest work when they saw the splendid fruition of their labor. All true artists work for the love of working, but they are nevertheless gratified when that work shows tangible, beautiful results.

The beauty of the magnificent show in Willamette hall is due to the women, Mrs. George A. Harding in charge and the willing, helpful corps who have so ably assisted her in making a display of roses that cannot be surpassed in quality on the American continent.

Every worker deserves the highest praise for this most successful affair. It gives an idea of the interest that would be taken in a county fair properly conducted.

Nothing in the last year has reflected more credit on Oregon City and Clackamas county.

SPLENDID OFFER.

In the language of the street, Clackamas county is lucky, and the lucky deserve the fair.

There is probably not another county on the coast where a fair grounds of 75 acres, conveniently located on steam and electric lines, with all the principal buildings ready made, is offered rent free for the exhibition of the products of the county.

With such a magnificent offer the people of the county can blame no one but themselves if this opportunity to establish a Clackamas county fair is not embraced.

A county fair with agricultural, horticultural, floral, live stock, domestic, needlework, art and county school exhibits would be a great attraction and draw hundreds of outsiders to our county, besides giving an incentive to better work and furnishing a week of pleasure to our own people.

The offer made by Secretary Cross of the Willamette Valley Chautauqua assembly is a splendid one, and solves the principal difficulty in starting a county fair—the expense of site and buildings.

The result of the Estacada election was not a surprise to those in touch with the situation there. The main reason many believed Reed would win was the supposition that the O. W. P. was backing him. This it seems was a mistake. Advices from Estacada say the company was not active in behalf of either candidate; further that the company is not asking for a change in the site of the bridge over the Clackamas. It is immaterial to the company where the bridge is located; it has simply offered to haul the gravel free if the people desire a new road built.

This is the month, girls. You may now become June brides—every one of you. And you may not.

When the crops need rain it rains in the Willamette valley, the garden spot of the earth.

Thisovich is Awfulsky.

Frank Strychalsky has filed divorce proceedings against Emma Strychalsky, charging desertion. He states they were married April 22, 1895, in Milwaukee, Wis., and that there are two children. During the month of July the plaintiff says that his better half left his bed and board, and refused to live with him. Previous to this, he alleges, he was cursed by her, and that in the presence of company she coupled such endearing phrases as "You d— old wretch, I don't want to live with you any longer" and she frequently informed him of her independence by saying, "I can get along very well without you." Since then he has moved to Portland, Oregon, but she still refuses to join him so he asks the court to grant him a decree of divorce.

ROB OSWEGO MAN.

George Safford, the Oswego saloon-keeper, reports that $600 of his money was stolen Saturday night from a shack near his place of business that he used for a hiding place.

EXCURSION ON IONE.

The tickets for the excursion on the steamboat Ione to Camas, June 23, have been placed on sale. The number is limited to 125, just enough for the ball club and the "rooters."

Miss Edith Roberts is a new clerk at the L. Adams store.

PUPILS ARE PROMOTED

Names of Oregon City Students Who Pass Eighth Grade Test

SCHOOLS FINE RECORD

After Many Failures Other Places, State Questions Answered By All But Three at the Eastham.

Examinations were completed, on Thursday, in all the grades at the Barclay and Eastham schools and the teachers devoted Thursday and Friday to the making out of report cards, which were given out Friday at 1 o'clock. In determining the average grade for promotion the class standing was counted as two-thirds and the examinations as one-third. This grading of class standing has caused pupils to take greater interest in their daily work.

The board has passed a regulation permitting pupils who have not failed in more than two studies to take the examination on those studies before entering the fall term of school. This will enable pupils who have failed in not more than two studies to make up their grades and go on with the class.

Next Wednesday the teachers will be elected for the coming year. Several of the teachers have not applied for another term.

The eighth grade pupils have been given cards of promotion which entitle them to enter any high school in the state. There will be no exercises in this grade excepting the presenting of these diplomas, showing their successful passing of the examinations as prepared by Superintendent W. C. McKee and the principal of the Eastham building, Mrs. Emilie Shaw. The examination questions as sent out by the state for the eighth grade, were given to eighth grade of the Eastham, after a great number of failures throughout the state, as a trial test, and there were only three who failed in the Oregon City school, which shows their work compares in a very favorable light with other schools of the state. Following are the names of those completing the eighth grade:

Girls:

Andrews, Zeta.
Brightbill, Madge.
Brown, Margaret.

CREATE ONE NEW DISTRICT; DENY ONE

At the meeting of the district boundary board, Thursday, a new district was created in the vicinity of Molalla, from the districts of Molalla No. 6, Samson No. 25 and Dryland No. 74. There are people in the locality living several miles from any schoolhouse. The schoolhouse in the Samson district is already crowded and the people of that district do not feel like building an addition to their building.

The board denied the petition of the people of Highland for a division of that district. It was intended to take the south end of the Highland district No. 33, and create a new district, but the notice did not define the boundaries in accordance with law, only giving the division line between the two portions. Attorney W. S. U'Ren for the remonstrators, said that the boundaries, properly described, should be a line around the proposed district.

The University of Oregon Law school at Portland is graduating a class of about 40 students this week, among them two Oregon City boys, Virgil Clark and Will B. Shibley. The latter is president of the class. They have successfully completed the two years' course and next week will go to Salem, where they will take the bar examination before the supreme court.

MANY CHANGES IN SCHOOL TEXTBOOKS

ONLY FOUR OF BOOKS NOW IN USE HAVE BEEN RETAINED.

All but four books now in use in the common schools of Oregon have been changed by the State Text-Book commission and new text books will be substituted at the beginning of the new school year. The fourth and fifth Cyr readers, the Thomas elementary history and the Reed speller are the books retained.

Civil government has been dropped entirely as a separate subject and will hereafter be taught in connection with history. The mental arithmetic has also been dropped and the mental exercises will be given with the aid of the books on written arithmetic. In the place of the two subjects dropped an important one has been added, that of elementary agriculture. This addition has been made in response to a very general demand.

The principal changes are the substitution of Wheeler's readers up to the third book for the Cyr readers; the adoption of Smith's arithmetic in the place of Wentworth's; the adoption of Buehler's grammars in the place of Reed & Kellogg's; the adoption of the Natural geographies in the place of Frye's, and Doub's United States history in the place of Thomas' advanced history.

Cost of Books Compared.

The total cost of the books used in the schools under the list in force up to the present time was $9.89, this list not including the book on nature study. The prices on those newly adopted, not including the nature study, aggregate $9.14, or a reduction of 66 cents. If nature study be included the new list will cost $9.89, or an increase of 9 cents in the cost of all the books a child must use in his eight years' of schooling.

Since the new work on nature study is a practical treatise on elementary agriculture, it is probable that the book will come into common use, in which event the eight year course will require 25 books, whereas 27 books are now in use. Without the nature study, the entire list will include 24 books, of which number seven are copy books for penmanship. To exchange an entire set of old books for an entire set of new ones on the same subject will require the payment of $4.51. On an average the exchange price is about one-half the retail prices. The book companies take in exchange almost any book that has leaves, although badly worn.

SPRINGWATER 'PHONE FOR OREGON CITY

The Springwater division of the Clear Creek Mutual Telephone Co. have their phones in and will be ready to attach to the line coming into Oregon City this week. They are talking among themselves in the neighborhood now.

A. M. Shibley was in Oregon City Thursday, going up from Portland, where he has been all week attending to business matters. Mr. Shibley attended the dedication of the new Methodist church at Estacada, Sunday. The program was all good, he says, but his highest praises are for the splendid dinner prepared by the ladies of the church and the informal social time enjoyed during dinner.

DENY LIQUOR LICENSE.

The county court denied the application for license to sell liquor in less quantities than one gallon in Eagle Creek precinct. The applicant was a Portland man and the remonstrators showed there were an insufficient number of names on the petition.

Miss Thibert Married.

Miss Albina Thibert, who taught in the West Oregon City school during the last year, is reported to have been married Monday to a real estate man of Vancouver, Wash. The wedding occurred at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Thibert, at Cloverdale, Wash.
