

FARMERS RECEIVE 21c FOR BUTTER FAT

LOGAN CREAM SELLERS IN HIGH
GLEE OVER HIGH SUM-MER PRICES.

Logan, June 14—Miss Elsie Fallert is at home to remain for the summer. Mrs. S. F. Scripture and Mrs. H. E. Straight of Oregon City visited Mrs. Robbins one day this week.

Creamery patrons received 21 cents a pound for butter fat for May. The company received word that their large cream vat or ripener that was ordered from New York had arrived, and will go after it immediately, as it is almost impossible to care for so large an amount of cream without something of the kind. People must consume more butter now than formerly at this season of the year, for heretofore this was considered the dull month in butter markets, and the price was generally the lowest at this season, and did not show any marked raise until about the first of August. With the prices advancing now what will it be next winter? Eggs also are keeping up in price, hens that pretend to have any dignity about them refuse to lay 16 cents any more.

H. S. Anderson bought a cream separator and will be one more on the list of creamery patrons.

The article in the Oregonian of June 13, "Does it pay to live thus?" by C. E. Cline, ought to be read by all "heads of families," especially the rural ones. Not long since a man who milks cows and whose wife manufactures the butter for market was asked why he did not sell the cream as he could get as much for the cream at his own door, as he does for the butter, not to speak of tired hands and backaches of the wife with the work, care, etc., etc., all he would say was "Nothing in it, nothing in it." We only trust said article will be read by such as he and they will ponder and think a little. We wonder, too, if they ever recall to mind a "vow" to love, comfort and cherish" given at the altar, and if they ever think that being false to it, is in any way like perjury?

GATES AT CROSSINGS.

An important action of council, Friday night, was the appointment of a committee to prepare an ordinance requiring the Southern Pacific to put in crossing gates at Tenth and Moss streets. The committee consists of the Mayor, Councilmen Anderson, Knapp and Logus.

The Tenth street crossing at the foot of Slinger hill is very dangerous and every little while there is an accident. The gates should be put in for the plans of the company for an overhead crossing will not be carried out for a year at least and perhaps never.

The matter was brought up by Mayor Caulfield in the following message and recommendations:

I desire to call your honorable body's attention at this time, to a matter of great importance to the welfare of the city. I refer to the grade crossing over the Southern Pacific company's track, at the foot of what is commonly called Slinger hill on Tenth street.

The element of danger at this point to the travelling public has long been recognized by everyone who is at all familiar with the situation.

The railroad company has had its attention drawn to the situation a number of times by suits for damages and claims settled on account of accidents at this crossing.

The crossing at Moss street is as dangerous as the other, but on account of there being less travel at that point the risk to life is not quite so great.

The Southern Pacific company has been making an effort, in good faith I am sure, to remedy the situation by building an overhead crossing for teams over the Slinger hill road. To carry out their plans it is necessary to secure some private property in the block between Ninth and Tenth streets. Up to this time the railroad company has been unable to agree on satisfactory terms with some of the property owners. While I am sure that the company is sincere in its efforts in this direction, it is a well known fact that large corporations move slowly in such matters and at best it may be a long time before their plans will be carried out.

In the meantime the menace to life and the business interests of the town is growing greater every day. Where a few years ago only a small number of trains passed through our city daily now it is almost a continuous procession all day and night. The growth of the country and town has also increased the team travel greatly. The time has arrived, in fact is overdue, when the city should take necessary measures to protect the lives of those whose business makes it necessary to cross the railroad at the points referred to.

The usual method employed to make safe such crossings is to compel the railroad company to place gates on the same and maintain a gatekeeper to care for them. I am informed that there is no question of the city's right and power to enforce such a measure. Such gates are now maintained on some of the main streets in East Portland where they cross the Southern Pacific track, and are common throughout the East.

I would recommend at this time that the council take immediate action to have a proper ordinance prepared and introduced at as early a date as possible to bring about the establishment of the safeguard referred to on both Tenth and Moss streets. We cannot afford to delay the matter longer and take chances of having a repetition of some of the shocking accidents that have already happened on the crossings referred to. E. G. Caulfield, Mayor.

SALOONS PAY MORE.

The council passed the ordinance raising the saloon license to $500 a year and also the one requiring saloons to close from 12 p. m. to 5 a. m.

The vote was unanimous on the license ordinance, with Rands absent, but on the closing ordinance, Knapp was excused from voting. A substitute changing the hour from 12 p. m. to 1 a. m., was lost and the original ordinance passed with seven affirmative votes.

The ordinance establishing the grade of Water street, and that regulating telephone and telegraph poles also passed.

E. R. Williams reported that he could only secure $100 a month subscriptions for sprinkling, and after deducting the charge for water it would not pay to operate the cart. Some merchants prefer to have their stocks ruined by dust to paying a fair price for sprinkling.

The Masons were granted permission to use Main street to put building materials on and the alley in block 6 for a small railway to haul materials on from the river bank.

J. H. Walker asked permission to plant rose bushes on the street between the walk and curb in front of his house, and for the protection for same from the telephone company's poles. Referred.

Bid of Heft & Co. to furnish rough and sized lumber for a year at $12 per M, accepted.

Plans, specifications and estimate of Ninth street extension improvement accepted, and time and manner ordinance read and ordered published. Ordinance for culvert from J. Q. Adams to Center street near Sixth read and ordered published.

City engineer to get figures on cost of brick, etc., for relaying of street pavement from O. W. P. tracks to Home Tel Co. Trench.

HONEYMOON SHORT FOR THIS COUPLE

Daisy E. Schikora, through a Portland law firm, has instituted divorce proceedings against F. R. Schikora. The two were made one in Oregon City, Sept. 15, 1906, and the plaintiff alleges that shortly after the nuptials her husband began using violent, obscene and threatening language to her, and even went so far as to strike her. Next he began to accuse her of keeping company with questionable men, and would make "awful" threats to her. He is also said to have a very ungovernable temper, and that when he "flies off the handle" there is sure to be something doing. During one of these outbursts, plaintiff alleges that he assaulted her with a razor and threatened to end her life. As she considers him dangerous to live with she prays the court to dissolve the bonds existing between them, and to permit her to resume her maiden name, Daisy E. Flower.

CARRIERS PROTEST "PENNY NUISANCE"

RURAL POSTMEN TO DISCUSS
ANNOYANCE SATURDAY NIGHT MEETING.

The Clackamas County Rural Letter Carriers association held a meeting Saturday evening in the hall of Hill House company No. 3, on J. Q. Adams street. There were several important questions discussed.

The people who receive the benefits of the rural service do not all seem to appreciate Uncle Sam's kindness, for instead of placing stamps on their letters they simply put enough pennies in the box to cover the postage. The mail carriers are then compelled to take stamps and stamp each letter, an operation which is always performed at a loss of much time, as there are a large number of people on the rural routes, and nearly all have the "penny habit."

The members of the association will also discuss the road improvement question and try to induce the residents of the rural districts to use a log drag on the roads, as this simple operation will leave the roads in fine condition to withstand the winter rains.

After the business meeting the members will enjoy a banquet.

OFFICIAL JAMESTOWN EXPOSITION HYMN.

Written by W. A. Peigram, of Baltimore.

Oh God of Nations, by Thy guiding hand

Were our forefathers led to this blest shore,

When they were seeking for some friendly land

Where they Thy praise, from fervent hearts might pour

In deep libations. They had naught to fear

From persecution's rack or bitter strife,

Or gross exactions, often hard to bear.

Which compassed all their daily round of life.

Their first famed act on bleak Cape Henry's shore

Was planting of the Cross, with grateful mien,

Then with loud voice, above the ocean's roar,

Proclaimed their faith in what was yet unseen,

Yet well they knew had surely been decreed

And in his own good time would be declared,

By Him who helped them in their hour of need,

Who neither fostering error nor guidance spared.

Cheered by blest hope, sheet-anchor of the soul,

They struggled on, impelled by conscious right,

Strong in that Faith, which did their acts control,

And gave them power, when it was lost in sight,

On Jamestown Isle they did new altars raise,

Crude at the first, but with high purpose bent,

And there again with heartsome hymns of praise

They worshipped Thee, O God, with one consent,

So thus, 'tis seen, it needs not to be proved,

That in this glorious land, where they were free,

Their first thought was of Him, whom well they loved,

So now, great God, on this our nation's day,

We give Thee homage by our voices begun;

We still would learn of Thee to watch and pray,

Lest, losing Thy loved care, we be undone,

We praise Thee for the gifts Thy love bestows

On this our country, with unsparing hand;

Though undeserved, it thus most truly shows

Thy watchful care o'er this God-favored land

On which blest liberty first saw the light,

Where it was cradled, as the world records,

Where our forefathers' faith is "lost in sight,"

Where Thou art "King of Kings and Lord of Lords!"

WIRES CUT HORSES.

Yesterday C. E. Nash of Oregon City who has been up to Fossil buying horses, brought a band of nineteen head into the Dalles. Three of them were, however, in bad condition, requiring the attention of a veterinary. Mr. Nash explained that in passing the place of Robert Caseberg, at Horseshoe Bend, in Sherman county, yesterday, about 10:30, five of his horses collided with a loose barbed wire, one of them being so badly injured that he had to shoot it and left it on G. F. Guntner's place and another broke its shoulder. Three others were brought on to town and attended to here. Mr. Nash estimates his damage at $300 and says he will bring damage against the owner of the fence.—The Dalles Chronicle.

SOLD BY SHERIFF.

At the door of the court house Saturday noon, Sheriff Beattie sold a tract of land upon which a mortgage had been foreclosed. The property, the NW of NE of section 6, 2s 5e, was purchased by Mrs. Minnie Lee. The mortgage embraced 80 acres of land, but the sale of 40 acres netted enough to satisfy the mortgage and costs, and still leave $19.70.

OREGON CITY MAN WINS FIRST HONORS

The many friends of Charles Williams Robison of this city will be pleased to learn that he was graduated from Portland Academy, Friday night, with great honors, his oration, "John Brown," carrying first honors and winning him the prize of $30. Earlier in the year Mr. Robison was chosen class orator by his classmates. He has not decided which school he will enter next year, but says that in all probability he will attend Williams college in Massachusetts. William Dolph, well known in this city, carried off second honors in the oratorical contest.

$5000 CASH IN PRIZES

Portland Commercial Club
Makes Offer for Descriptive
Articles on Oregon

WILL ADVERTISE STATE

Must Appear in Newspaper Printed
Outside of Washington or Oregon—
Eighty Prizes Are Offered.

Portland, June 17—There is no section of the United States that offers the descriptive writer the opportunities presented by the Pacific Northwest, and Portland and Oregon are especially rich in the variety of attractive and substantial features.

To encourage visitors to include Portland and Oregon in their itinerary and become better advised, and also to be able to tell others, the Portland Commercial Club offers $5000.00 in prizes for articles on Portland, Oregon and this section of the United States as follows:

First prize	$1000 00
Second prize	500 00
Third prize	250 00
Fourth prize	200 00
Fifth prize	175 00
Sixth prize	150 00
Seventh prize	125 00
Eighth prize	110 00
Ninth prize	100 00
Tenth prize	90 00
Ten prizes of $75.00 each	750 00
Ten prizes of $50.00 each	500 00
Ten prizes of $25.00 each	250 00
Twenty prizes of $15.00 each	300 00
Twenty prizes of $10 each	200 00
Three judges to be named by Hon. Geo. E. Chamberlain, Governor of Oregon	300 00
Grand Total	$5000 00

In order to be eligible for competition, these articles must appear in a regular edition of some newspaper or other publication dated on or before December 31, 1907, printed outside of Oregon and Washington, said publication (complete) to be in the hands of the judges not later than February 1, 1908. These articles must be sealed and addressed to Prize Contest, Care Portland Commercial Club, Portland, Oregon.

They will be opened by the judges. Prizes will be awarded strictly on the merits of the articles. Contestants can treat any phase of the subject that appeals to them—natural resources, scenery, irrigation, agriculture and horticulture, timber, dairying, history, educational and religious advantages, climate, social conditions, etc., or in a more comprehensive vein. The judges will be absolutely untrammelled in making their decisions.

This offer is made, not so much with a view of having the country "boomed" in the common acceptance of that term, as to have the people of the country become more familiar with this portion of the United States and give expression to their views in such articles as will be acceptable to papers throughout the entire continent.

The contest is open to every resident of Oregon also, the only condition being that the article is published in a paper printed outside of Oregon and Washington.
