With Multnomah and Clackamas saloons closed on Sunday, it doesn't leave very many places in the Willamette Valley where liquor can be bought on the first day of the week.

The President seems determined to aid people desirous of building new homes on the frontier as against land grabbers for speculation purposes, and the best citizens will back him up in this policy.

Property owners should note the changes in the slashing law. To secure permits to burn large tracts it is first necessary that a state fire warden be appointed in your district, which appointment is made by the president of the board of forestry on recommendation of the property owners of the district affected.

An Oregon man has just been jailed for stealing a whole railroad train. It seems a pity to bottle up such a promising amateur. He might have gone further and settled in Wall street where he would have learned how to steal a whole railroad and not get pinched for it either.

WARE KISSING BUG.

Mrs. Lulu M. Reynolds of Portland has a mania for kissing the body of her dead paramour. At the first sight of the lifeless features of "Professor Herbert," she threw herself passionately on the body, thereby revealing the guilty love which she had before denied. The following day she went to the undertaker's where she went through the kissing performance again, and clung to her dead lover until the latter's widow ordered her removed from the room. Now is it the "unwritten law" that a man is permitted to hunt without a license in defense of his honor entrusted to the keeping of a woman like that?

Advertising that Brought Results.

One of the delegates to the Oregon Development League in Portland last week told how Corvallis spent but $300 advertising in Eastern agricultural papers of large circulation and received over 6,000 replies, with the result that several hundred new people located in Benton county. This is a plan that would be a success in any Oregon town, because it reaches the people we are after. Thrifty farmers who will buy small-sized places and farm them thoroughly are wanted, and when we get them the other classes of population will come as needed. Advertising in high class magazines is expensive, and reaches for the most part people who are not looking for new locations, but buy magazines for entertainment and recreation. The Corvallis experiment was a practical test of the efficacy of printer's ink, used with good judgment.

A Real Wonderland.

South Dakota, with its rich silver mines, bonanza farms, wide ranges and strange natural formations, is a veritable wonderland. At Mound City in the home of Mrs. E. D. Clapp, a wonderful case of healing has lately occurred. Her son seemed near death with lung and throat trouble. "Exhausting coughing spells occurred every five minutes," writes Mrs. Clapp, "when I began giving him Dr. King's New Discovery, the great medicine that saved his life and completely cured him." Guaranteed for coughs and colds, throat and lung troubles, by Howell & Jones, druggists. 50c and $1. Trial bottle free.

Landsborough performed the ceremony in the presence of a small company of relatives. The bride wore a traveling suit of gray. This wedding is the happy culmination of a school days' friendship. After the wedding supper Mr. and Mrs. Rowland left for a short honeymoon in Portland, and upon their return will go at once to housekeeping at 210 Monroe street. An out of town guest was the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Whittington, from eastern Oregon.

In Honor Vancouver Visitors.

Mrs. Arthur C. Warner very delightfully entertained Saturday afternoon, in honor of her guests, Mrs. Frederic Prass Stauffer and daughter, Miss Margaret Stauffer, of Vancouver, Wash. The house throughout was a veritable fairy bower of bloom and foliage. The living room was in pink roses, the parlors in marguerites and blue corn flowers, the dining room in red and in the reception hall the red rambler was most artistically arranged. Mrs. Warner served delicious refreshments: In progressive whist, the principal amusement of the afternoon, Miss Marjorie Caulfield was the winner of first prize while the consolation fell to Mrs. S. The hall was beautifully decorated in scarlet rambler, wildwood blossoms and other flowers. Mrs. C. W. Evans, worthy matron, received the guests upon their arrival and also superintended the serving. The numbers of the program were all enjoyed. Miss Louise Walker delighted the company with a piano solo, Miss Mazie Foster of Portland sang a beautiful solo, Miss Gussie Humphreys read a character sketch that was very much appreciated. Mr. Charles Miller and Mrs. Clark Ganong rendered vocal solos that were well received. Mrs. W. E. Scott gave a dramatic reading that was very entertaining and Mr. Charles M. Stow violinist, with Miss Edna Daulton accompanist, pleasingly rendered several selections. The banquet that followed the program was a splendid spread. Worthy Patron Eugene Hedges and Dr. W. E. Carl acted as toast masters and were responded to by Rev. P. K. Hammond, Miss Ivah Gordon and Miss Edna Daulton with the violin and piano played softly through the banquet. This reception closed the meetings of the chapter until in September.

Miss Willa Harris was pleasantly surprised at her home on Twelfth and Main streets Tuesday evening by a number of friends. The affair came as a complete surprise to Miss Harris. Mr. and Mrs. Schrader Surprised.

A number of friends and neighbors surprised Mr. and Mrs. Emil Schrader at their residence, 302 Monroe street, Tuesday evening. The party was a farewell party, as Mr. and Mrs. Schrader leave Thursday for southern Oregon. While there was light, many enjoyable games were played on the spacious lawn in front of the residence, after which the guests repaired to the house where with games and music the evening was enjoyably spent. Tempting refreshments were served.

A FAMOUS NEWSPAPER MAN.

William E. Curtis, the famous correspondent of the Chicago-Record Herald, writes a two-column letter for his paper every day in the year without intermission. His powers of sustained work are as great a marvel as his faculty of always making his matter interesting.

Probably no other newspaper correspondent in the country is read so regularly and eagerly by so many thousands of men and women as Mr. Curtis. Mr. Curtis has traveled several times around the world, visited every country under the sun, and written a larger number of brilliant and interesting letters of travel than were ever before produced by a single hand. Many of these have later been reprinted in book form. One of his latest expeditions for the Chicago Record-Herald was through Mexico, resulting in a series of letters as entertaining as those he wrote a few years ago from India, Turkey and the Holy Land. His forthcoming letters from Ireland, Russia and Germany will rival in importance and interest any of his previous contributions.

Beginning his career in Chicago as a reporter in 1872, Mr. Curtis rapidly rose to be managing editor. He resigned that position to accept a government appointment as secretary of the South American commission. So brilliantly did he perform the duties of that office that James G. Blaine, Secretary of State placed him at the head of the Bureau of American Republics. At the world's fair in Chicago he distinguished himself as the executive head of the Latin-American department. He is a member of almost every learned society in Washington and of many in Europe. It is not strange that the Record-Herald prints Mr. Curtis' letter every day in the first column of the front page, and that nothing but a California earthquake can displace it from that station of honor.

Every Man His Own Doctor.

The average man cannot afford to employ a physician for every slight ailment or injury that may occur in his family, nor can he afford to neglect them, so slight an injury as the scratch of a pin has been known to cause the loss of a limb. Hence every man must from necessity be his own doctor for this class of ailments. Success often depends upon prompt treatment, which can only be had when suitable medicines are kept at hand. Chamberlain's Remedies have been in the market for many years and enjoy a good reputation. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy for bowel complaints.
