

CHAUTAUQUA CONCERTS

Promise to be the Best Given at the Summer Gathering

MANY GOOD SOLOISTS

Singers From Other Cities Invited to Join the Chorus and Free Instruction Promised.

The three concerts to be given at the Chautauqua by Dr. R. A. Heritage, are said to combine more than usual interest this year. They will be given Wednesday evening, July 10; Saturday evening, July 13, and Saturday evening, July 20.

Dr. Heritage is a popular musical director and is sparing no pains to make these three concerts the best ever given in connection with Chautauqua. There will be several well-known soloists who will participate and the outlook for a pleasant series of enjoyable concerts is very flattering.

The program for Wednesday, July 10, follows:

I Feel Thy Angel Spirit... G. Hoffman
Mrs. Hinges and Dr. Heritage.
Honor and Arms, "Samson"... Handel
Dr. R. A. Heritage.

A Gipsy Maiden... Parker
Mrs. Hallie Parrish-Hinges.
Polonaise in A flat... Chopin
Mr. Arthur von Jessen.

Reading... Prof. W. Eugene Knox
When I am Near Thee... Abt
Mrs. Hinges and Dr. Heritage.

(a) Burst, Ye Apple Buds... Emery
(b) A Spring Song... Well
Mrs. Hallie Parrish-Hinges.

Lend Me Thine Aid, "Queen of Sheba"... Gounod
Dr. R. A. Heritage.

Rigoletto, Paraphrase for piano... Verdi-Liszt
Mr. Arthur von Jessen.

At the second concert, Saturday, July 13, a chorus will produce the rustic cantata, "The Months and Seasons." It is in four acts, in full costumes, given by 250 children from the public schools of Oregon City.

Argument—There are 12 soloists, one for each month. Three of these soloists represent a season and the entire chorus sings a chorus appropriate for each season. There are four tableaux: "Winter Sports," "Crowning the May Queen," "Harvesters and Gleaners," and "Thanksgiving." The chorus will also sing "The Soldiers Chorus" from Faust, "The Anvil Chorus" from Trovatore, with four anvils and eight strikers, the State Song, "The Oregon Grape," by Mrs. Eva Emery Dye.

Dr. Heritage has the children in training and it is expected that this will be one of the finest entertainments ever given on the Chautauqua platform.

The closing concert will be given Saturday, July 20, and will consist of about eight rousing choruses by the Chautauqua Choral Club, with solos, duets, and quartets by noted musicians from various parts of the country. Miss Johnson, of Chicago; Mr. von Jessen and Dr. Heritage will each give a number. The musical director has invited singers from Portland, Oregon City, Salem, Albany, Eugene, Corvallis, McMinnville, Forest Grove, Hillsboro, Astoria, The Dalles, Goldendale, Hood River, and in fact from everywhere within 200 miles of the Chautauqua, to come and take advantage of the free music classes and the half-rate on season tickets, and help to swell the chorus into the best ever heard at Gladstone.

G. A. R. DAY AT CHAUTAUQUA

Wednesday, July 17, is patriotic day at the Chautauqua, and the management has a splendid program for that occasion. In the afternoon Senator Elmer J. Burkett, of Nebraska, will speak on "The American Flag." In the evening Congressman Willis C. Hawley speaks on the topic, "Some Present Day American Problems." Members of the local G. A. R. post have taken up the matter and are planning for a barbecue on that day. "Patriotic Day" appeals to the old soldiers and they wish to see this event made a profitable occasion and will do all they can to make it so.

MOLALLA

Molalla, July 1—Fourth of July to the Enterprising Star and staff.

Not so much demand for ice this week, let no one get into the "cooler" Thursday.

The Molalla Band will toot at Oregon City on the Fourth.

B. F. Harless has had the typhoid fever for two weeks.

J. R. Cole's new barn is nearing completion.

Fred Schafer expects to have his new "donkey" at work in the timber this week. Rex Lewis, "driver" of the old "donkey," is getting her fixed up to stand alone on the Fourth or to outdo the new one.

The recent rains have retarded hark-making and been beneficial in settling the dust and aiding the growth of vegetation and we hope for more rain while it is coming.

C. H. B. Thomas and wife will go to Waitsburg, Wash., after the Fourth to operate a cook wagon during the harvest time.

Had the Molalla man not been afflicted with rheumatism in his right "harm," it would have taken several more Oregon City men to have marched him to jail as he feels and acts rather "byas skookum" when fire chuch kiatava's chock, chock down his neck. It seems as though he was getting ready for the Sunday closing by taking on board a liberal supply.

FALLS TO HIS DEATH

James Alexander, Employee at Willamette Paper Mills, Killed This Morning

WAS DESCENDING STAIRS

When His Feet Slipped, It is Supposed, Breaking His Neck—No One Witnessed the Accident.

James Alexander, an employee of the Willamette Pulp and Paper Co., fell a little before noon Tuesday, killing him almost instantly.

Alexander was walking along in the old grinder room of Mill A, and was seen to turn to descend the steps. He was by himself and that was the last seen of him until he was picked up unconscious on the cement floor of the room below. It is supposed death was caused by concussion of the brain from striking on the hard floor. It is not known whether he fell over the railing or under.

When the body was rescued, the neck had been broken and a gash cut in his throat.

Alexander was mustered out of the army April 15 and went to work in the paper mills April 29. Little or nothing is known of his personal affairs. But it is known that he has a sister, Mrs. Susan Cooke, residing in Houston, Texas, who is his only relative.

Dr. Sommer was summoned, but of course could do nothing. Coroner Holman was called to the scene and shortly afterward the body was removed to the morgue. An inquest will be held Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Cooke was wired concerning the accident and the body will be held pending her instructions.

ROOSEVELT MUST RUN

Gov. Cummins Says Necessary for Him to Carry Out His Own Reforms.

BIG STICK NECESSARY

To Keep Greedy Corporations Out Of The Plum Orchard When The Fruit Is Ripe.

Minneapolis, June 28—Governor A. B. Cummins, of Iowa, in an interview here today said:

"Theodore Roosevelt ought to, and I believe he will, be a candidate to operate a subpoena at his daughter's home in New York, but court authorities not informed of certainty of rumor.

One thing the Iowa executive settled for all time was the persistent report that he would be a candidate for the nomination as President on the Republican ticket at the next National convention.

"You may say for me that I positively am not and shall not be a candidate."

Asked if he would be a candidate for the United States Senate to succeed Allison, Governor Cummins virtually acknowledged the fact.

"People down our way say it is a conceded fact," he said, significantly. Of Roosevelt, Governor Cummins said:

"I have said before that I believed President Roosevelt should succeed himself, and I now will say for the first time that I believe he is the one man to carry out the great reforms he has inaugurated. I know he is sincere in his decision not to again accept, but I prophesy that the public demand from all sections of the Nation will be so strong that he will be made to see that it is his duty to serve the people for another four years. There is nothing in the idea that he should not accept because of the old-fogy idea that a man must quit when he has served two terms, and if there was, he could still take another term, for he will not have served two complete terms when his present term expires."

Asked as to what would be the great political issue for the campaign of 1908, the Governor said:

"The paramount issue, I apprehend, will be the fair and proper regulation of interstate commerce. I have great hopes that tariff revision will not be a political issue. It would seem likely that the platform adopted at the next National Republican Convention will contain a plank going unequivocally on record in favor of changing of the tariff schedules as they now exist. With our great party pledged to this principle, the decks are cleared for the next great problem."

WATER BOTHERS BACKWATER BUILDERS

The closing down of the woolen mills for the dinner hour, today, caused considerable trouble for those building the cement breakwater at the Lower Basin. When the water wheels ceased to turn the water in the temporary flume overflowed into the Lower Basin and backed up against the cement work, overflowing at one point where the workmen were tapping in the cement.

A temporary dam was quickly constructed and the work on the abutment proceeded. The loss was trifling and the delay only temporary.

PINKERTON DETECTIVE

Lays Bare the Secrets of that Noted Den of Spies and watches

GIVES HIS TESTIMONY

For Defense in Haywood Trial But Prosecution Endeavors to Make Capital Out of the Story.

Boise, Id., July 2—Morris Friedman, the young Russian stenographer who left the employ of the Pinkerton agency at Denver to write a book in which he published certain correspondence of the agency that passed through his hands, was again yesterday the principal figure at the Steunenberg murder trial. More than half of the court's day was occupied in reading to the jury copies of the documents which Mr. Friedman took from the Pinkerton records. These were chiefly the daily reports of secret agents operating as spies among the unions and union men at Cripple Creek, Victor, Globedale, Trinidad and Denver, and showed a complete surveillance of the Western Federation of Miners and the United Mineowners of America during the labor troubles in Colorado in 1903-5. Pinkerton men sat in the Federation Convention at Denver in 1904, reporting all proceedings. None of the reports or letters that were produced by Mr. Friedman and read to the jury by Clarence Darrow contained other than general reference to the collateral issues of the trial, but they were offered in substantiation of the counter claim of the defense that the Pinkerton agency conspired for the destruction of the Western Federation of Miners and the lives of its leaders.

Friedman's testimony was not objected to by the prosecution but on cross-examination he was attacked on the ground that he had played the Pinkertons false and had stolen the documents he produced. Friedman contended the methods of the Pinkerton agency fully justified what he did, and said that if he had known this trial was coming up, he would have taken more letters and reports.

Methods of Militia.

Another interesting witness was James L. Wallace, an attorney of Cripple Creek, who served with the militia first as a private and then as a lieutenant during the strike of 1903-4. He related several incidents as tending to show the misuse of the power of the militia by the mine-owners and gave the criminal records of some of the gunfighters imported by the mineowners, told of the working of the card system, recited the circumstances connected with the looting of the union stores and the newspaper office, and swore that he saw K. C. Sterling, chief detective for the mineowners, fire the first shot in the Victor riot the day the Independence station was blown up.

M. E. White, an organizer for the Western Federation, was the last witness and brought the trial partic-pants back to good humor with the drollest kind of a tale of his arrest by the militia with all the pomp and circumstance of war times, the activities of the vermin in the "bullpen" and his happy release by a brother Woodman of the World, who commanded the militia.
