"GOOD THINGS TO EAT."

Washington Pie.

Beat together one egg, one cup of sugar and one tablespoon of butter until light and smooth; then add one-half cup of cream, one tablespoon each of ginger and cinnamon, one-half teaspoon of baking powder, two scant cups of flour. Bake in pie without upper crust and serve with a clear sauce.

Sugar Cookies.

Four cups of flour.
Two cups of soft A sugar.
One egg.
Two-thirds cup of shortening, butter and lard mixed.
One pint of sour cream.
One teaspoon of soda.
Pinch of salt.
Roll medium thin, bake in quick oven.

Golden Pudding.

Beat the yolks of three eggs light, add to them one rounding tablespoonful of butter, half a cupful of sugar, three-quarters of a cupful of milk, a few grains of salt, half a teaspoonful of lemon extract, three drops of nutmeg, one rounding teaspoonful of baking powder, with flour to make a batter as for a plain cake. Bake until smooth add a cup of chopped and floured dates or raisins, place in buttered mold and steam about one hour. For snow sauce heat one cupful of sugar and a teaspoonful of cornstarch, mixed with milk, salt to taste, and when cool stir in lightly the beaten whites of three eggs. Flavor with vanilla and serve either hot or cold.

To Remove Whitewash.

To remove lime spots or whitewash from window glass, window casings, etc., rub the spots with a cloth well saturated with strong cider vinegar.

Sweet Buns.

One-half cup of granulated sugar.
One-half cup of lard.
Stir together.
One-half cup witch yeast.
One teaspoon salt.
One cup of warm water.
Thicken and mix stiff right away. Mix in the evening and let raise over night. In the morning make in small biscuits, place in bread pan about one and one-half inches apart and let raise two and a half hours. Bake in a moderate oven one-half hour.

Toad in the Hole.

Roll one-half pound of sausage or chopped beef into six balls and place in a greased baking dish. Make a batter of two eggs, two tablespoonfuls of flour and one-half pint of sweet milk; pour over the meat, place in a moderately hot oven and bake one hour. Serve with gravy.

Gingerbread.

One cup of Orleans molasses.
One egg.
One cup of buttermilk.
One-half cup of granulated sugar.
Two-thirds cup of butter and lard mixed.
One-half teaspoon of ginger.
One large teaspoon of soda dissolved in a little hot water.
Pinch of salt and flour enough to make a stiff batter. Bake in loaf in moderate oven.

Rice Flour.

Rice flour deserves to be better known than it is by the average housekeeper. It comes put up in packages similar to corn starch. A few tablespoonfuls in the wheat griddle cakes does wonders for them in making them tender, the rice man said. Delicious griddle cakes are made with three-quarters rice flour and one-quarter wheat flour, a little salt and yeast, used exactly as in buckwheat cakes.

Mock Mince Pie.

Twelve crackers, rolled fine.
Two cups of sugar.
Two-thirds cup of molasses.
Three cups of boiling water.
One tablespoon of cinnamon.
One cup of seeded raisins.
Lump of butter the size of an egg.
Vinegar enough to suit taste.
Cook the mixture a little, then place in pie with top crust and bake. One pint of canned cherries may be added to the mixture if desired. This, many think, improves the flavor of the pie.

Salmon Cakes.

Take equal parts of salmon and cracker crumbs, salt and pepper to taste. Dampen with milk. Mold into cakes and fry in hot butter and lard.

Sponge Cake.

Two cups of soft A sugar.
Four eggs.
Take the whites of two eggs for icing.
One-half cup of cold water.
Three teaspoonfuls of baking powder.
One teaspoonful of vanilla.
Fill with cocoanut or bananas.

Orange Honey.

Juice of three oranges and grated rind of one.
One small cup of granulated sugar.
One tablespoon of butter, and well beaten yolks of two eggs.
Cook over a slow fire, stirring constantly, until thick as honey. Let cool before using.

Lemon Butter.

Two grated lemons.
One-half pound of butter.
One pound of sugar.
Two eggs.
Stir all together and cook from five to ten minutes, stirring all the time while cooking.

Lumbago Liniment.

Two ounces turpentine.
Two ounces coal oil.
Two ounces gum camphor.
Mix in a bottle and shake well.
Bathe afflicted part near a hot stove. It will give prompt relief.

To Treat Rusty Nail Puncture.

Make a poultice of raw onions and fat bacon, equal parts, chopped fine. Apply to wound and if very painful change three or four times a day.

Plum Jelly.

Wash and put some ripe plums in a double boiler, cover and cook slowly without stirring two or three hours. Pour them on a sieve to drain off all the juice without disturbing the plums. Strain the juice through flannel and measure it. Allow for every pint one pound of sugar. Place the liquid and sugar over the fire and boil until a drop put on a plate will retain the shape of a bead without spreading. Fill the jelly into small jars and cover when cold. It will take about twenty to twenty-five minutes' cooking.

Feminine Ideas of Happiness.

To be married.
To be single again.
A twenty-inch waist.
A No. 2 shoe.
A place where there is neither dish-washing nor darning of stockings.
A patent automatic maidservant who can be made to do what her mistress wishes.
An uninhabited isle to which you could retire for a month, out of reach of voices and faces.
Twelve new French gowns.
To be three inches taller.
To be three inches shorter.
To have a Grecian nose.
Naturally curly hair, perfectly weatherproof.
And to be made love to at least once every day.

Elsie—Grandma, did you ever have a garden? Grandma—Not that I know of, dear. Elsie—Well, then, whose garden was ma pokin' in when she found me under the cabbage leaf? —Brooklyn Life.

In a two months' test in Minnesota the railroads under the 2-cent rate increased their passenger traffic receipts $150,000, all the lines except one sharing in the gain. The stopping of passes is in itself a big lift.

The Oddfellows' Lodge, of Ridgefield, Wash., has let a contract for erection of a $2000 lodge hall, which will be built on its lot on Main street. The hall will contain all the latest appliances for an up-to-date lodge-room. The cornerstone was laid about September 10.

A boy, 14 years old, in Dubuque, Ia., was sent to a barn after some empty barrels. He kicked them out doors one after another to be loaded on a dray, but as he kicked the last one an old satchel rolled out, and in the satchel was found $400 in greenbacks.

One advertiser in the Chicago Daily News paid that paper $177,777.64 last year and is pleased with the investment. And still some people say it doesn't pay to advertise.

Buy Hair at Auction?

At any rate, you seem to be getting rid of it on auction-sale principles: "going, going, g-o-n-e!" Stop the auction with Ayer's Hair Vigor. It certainly checks falling hair; no mistake about this. It acts as a regular medicine; makes the scalp healthy. Then you must have healthy hair, for it's nature's way.

CALLING IN PARIS.

The Concierge is a Peculiar Institution in Several Ways.

You leave your card at the door of the person to whom you desire to present yourself, and there it is taken in charge by that peculiarly French functionary, the concierge, says Professor Barrett Wendell in Scribner's. At least in Paris, the greater part of French people live in large houses containing a number of apartments with a common entrance and staircase. Close to the entrance door, on the level of the street, are some stuffy little rooms inhabited by the concierge, or porter, with his family. Their duty, among other things, is to keep strict watch on whoever goes in or out, and at least one of them, often the porter's wife or half grown daughter, is always at hand.

The chief peculiarity of their temperament seems to be insatiable appetite. At whatever hour of day or evening you call on a concierge you are sure to find somebody eating or just risen from table, and the atmosphere inhabited by this bustling personage seems immortally laden with the fumes of something recently boiled.

No matter whether you call on a friend who lives in some unpretentious out of the way place or on one who inhabits something like a palace, the concierge is always about the same. You can detect little difference between those in charge of important doors and of insignificant. They are as like as house flies. Of course there are private houses in Paris, with regular domestic servants such as you would find anywhere, but these, grand or simple, are so unusual that you remember the concierge as everywhere standing between you and further human intercourse.

In response to your card, which the concierge duly sees delivered, comes a card, often with a note, in return. If, as is generally the case, this acknowledgment of your existence contains an intimation of when your French acquaintance may be found at home, either habitual or for your special benefit, you make your second visit at this appointed time and thus enter into real personal relations.

Otherwise, your intercourse has limited itself to a polite exchange of cards. Generally speaking, you never expect or attempt to see French people socially except when they have asked you to one of their regular days of reception or have made a definite appointment. To call on a person at any other time—to do more than leave your card with the concierge—would be an intrusive pretense to intimacy.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

You can waste a good deal of time telling how reliable you are.

You never say a man won't listen to reason if he agrees with you.

A boy is liberally abused if he isn't polite, but how many say "Thank you" to a boy?

No one seems to have as hard a time earning money as the woman who marries for it.

The average man's idea of religious liberty is the privilege of staying home from church.

Having good judgment and being "a fool for luck" are frequently the story of a single financial success told by different parties.

"How poor are they who have no patience! What wound did ever heal but by degrees?" Who is the author of the above? It is not important whether you can remember the author if you can soberly accept the lesson taught—Atchison Globe.

The Value of Diamonds.

The value of the diamond is at so much per carat, and up to a certain limit the value per carat increases as the size of the stone increases. When a carat diamond is quoted at $125, a diamond weighing a half a carat is counted at the rate of $75 per carat, three-quarter carat diamonds at $100 per carat, one and one-quarter carat diamonds at $140 per carat, one and one-half carat diamonds at $150 per carat, one and three-quarter carat diamonds at $180 per carat, and two carat stones at $200 per carat. Stones weighing more than two carats sell at about the same rate as that quoted for two carat stones, and do not increase as rapidly owing to the more limited demand for the larger sized stones.—New York Herald.

To Calculate Longevity.

"Bacon took a deep interest in longevity and its earmarks," said a physician, "and Bacon's signs of long life and of short life are as true today as they ever were. You won't live long, Bacon pointed out, if you have soft, fine hair, a fine skin, quick growth, large head, early corpulence, short neck, small mouth, brittle and separated teeth and fat ears. Your life, barring accidents, will be very lengthy if you have slow growth, coarse hair, a rough skin, deep wrinkles in the forehead, firm flesh, a large mouth, wide nostrils, strong teeth set close together and a hard, gristly ear."

Dogs That Worry.

If you have ever seen a dog that has lost its master in a London street you will wonder whether even the lower animals have not the elements of worry to disturb them. But the man worries about many other things than bones or masters, and the dog bayer suffers from insomnia through fear of a future life or the state of his banking account.—Reader.
