MOUNTAIN VIEW.

Our Sunday school was very small last Sunday; account the rain. Rev. J. R. Landborough was seen in our midst Tuesday. Will Everhart, of Molalla, was seen in our burg a couple days this week. Mr. Weldner is quite sick with an attack of pneumonia. The heavy wind and rain of Saturday evening and Sunday put some of the local telephones out of commission. We are having lots of rain after a long, dry fall. Tuesday evening it cleared up and there was a heavy frost, then more rain again. Mr. Wood and family, of Vancouver, have rented Mr. Grubb's house and moved into it last week. Miss Josie Curran started to work in the loom mill this week. Mrs. Maggie Curran, of the Superior saw mill neighborhood, came to town Tuesday. She is now at her mother's home, Mrs. Wickham, who is reported seriously ill. F. M. Darling has his new wind mill up and a running, with the tank full of water. Mrs. Cook, who has been nursing at Canemah, returned home last Thursday. Mrs. Mary Kinder and twin babies, of Portland, were visiting her mother, Mrs. Edgewood, last week. Miss Haytle Betke, of Onwego, was visiting Miss Mabel Francis on Friday of last week. Miss Mabel Francis is able to be about the house on crutches. Mr. Hall has a fine pair of cole black broncos which he is breaking to drive. Chas. Ely is out on a hunting expedition this week. Miss Maud Griffin, who has been in California the past two years, came home on Monday of this week.

OSWEGO.

We have had almost enough rain this week to do us the whole winter through. Willie Austin is on the sick list, a sufferer from grip, but he is reported improving. Mrs. Monk is also suffering from grip, and she too is reported as better. The pipe foundry has shut down and it will cause no little worry to those employed there. Quite a number, both old and young, are having a time with the mumps. Those that have had them in the past are happy now. Little David Nelson has been sick with typhoid fever for three weeks, but is now improving.

CLARKES.

We have stormy weather and plenty of rain at present. Some wells were dry but they will soon fill up now. Farmers are starting to plow now. W. H. Bottemiller sowed some vetch in his orchard the other day. Albert Durst came back to Clarkes again but is going to leave before long. His brother-in-law came with him for a short time. O. S. Martin and family left last Monday for Oregon City. Mrs. Tom Grace has dressed nine geese for market; they are for Thanksgiving. B. Sullivan is ill. He went to Oregon City and is sick at the Electric Hotel. P. Schiewa went to town last Monday on business. Mrs. Peter Davidson last her puppy the other day and they have not found him yet. She was visiting Mrs. Stromgreen. Mr. Fisher, from Portland, is building Ben Marshall's new house. Elmer Lee has moved into his new house. J. J. Jones is working for Carl Stromgreen. He is going to clear land. W. G. Kleinsmith was digging his potatoes on his place in Timber Grove the other day.

BEAVER CREEK.

The recent heavy rains were quite refreshing. Most of the Beaver Creek telephone system is out of order on account of being buttoned up. Abraham Thomas and Emmott Hughes returned from Pioneersville, Idaho, this week.

J. F. Steudem is spending a few weeks at home at present. Wm. Martin and Wells Hughes have started in the wood business. W. E. Jones had an unusual performance while killing a beef this week. Wm. Becker and his frau agreed to divide, half and half, and quit. Fred and Henry Henrich are busy clearing and plowing. A. Thomas lost some more of his sheep last week, being killed by dogs. Wm. and Maud Daniels made a business trip to town this week. Wm. Thomas and his bride, after returning home Wednesday; received a lively charivari from about fifty friends. Jacob Weedner is down with pneumonia. Jacob Herrmann returned from Idaho this week. Miss Nellie Moshko left for Portland this week, where she will spend Thanksgiving with her sister.

MARKETING POULTRY.

The Farmer Should Pay More Attention to That Part of His Work. If they could only be made to realize it, the farmer and his wife would find it every bit as much to their advantage to attain a reputation for furnishing the best eggs and chickens as well as the best milk and butter, says Turf, Farm and Home. There is always room at the top, you know, and that is certainly true with regard to poultry products of a superior quality. The farm that has a reputation for furnishing superior milk and butter experiences no difficulty in disposing of the product, usually at a premium above the ordinary market prices. The same is equally true of first class poultry and eggs, because it is worth something to a customer to know to an absolute certainty that his eggs are going to be fresh laid and that he need not procure an ax with which to carve the chicken that he has bought. In view of the enormous profits of bucksters at most seasons of the year, the farmer, unless his location is very remote, can usually dispose of his poultry product to the best advantage by selling direct to private customers in a nearby town. These customers can readily be obtained by offering in the first place only the very highest grade products and then keeping all goods up to this standard. It will be found that once a reputation for selling strictly high class poultry and eggs is established it can be lost only through neglect and inattention to business. Private customers thus secured and assured of securing only the best at all times will be perfectly willing to pay the highest market prices.

Prize White Wyandotte Cockerel. It is possible that the world at some time has produced a more beautiful fowl than the one herewith illustrated, but if so, his portrait has never been published. This particular bird was first as cockerel at the Madison Square Garden show in New York city this year. This is the premier poultry exhibition of America, and it requires quality to win there in any class. In the case of the beautiful White Wyandotte cockerel herewith illustrated, however, there was a good deal of quality to spare.

Influence of Soil on Color. The soil will to a considerable extent influence the color of the legs and beak. Birds running on good grass land and fed freely on yellow corn will usually have yellow legs and beak. If of the yellow legged variety. Birds from the same strain running on sandy, dry soil, even on the same range, or ranging on dry alkali soils, will frequently have light colored legs and beak. Feeding corn is a great help toward getting desired color in beaks and legs, but a good run on fresh grass land and opportunity to run in the grass when the dew is on it will do more to put a rich color into the legs than anything else.

Foot Abscess in Fowls. To cure foot abscess open same with a sharp knife and remove the horny substance. Cleanse thoroughly with hydrogen dioxide, then apply an ointment made by mixing one part finely powdered iodiform with twenty parts pure vaseline. Bind up the foot in soft gauze and keep the bird suspended in a sling or cloth hammock until the foot heals. Daily cleansing and dressing with the ointment will be necessary.

As to Roasters. For roasting, a young fowl about full grown, but still soft meat, is used, and to roast satisfactorily it must be moderately fat. Roasters are roughly classed as "small roasters" and "large roasters." The greatest demand is for small roasters, weighing four or five pounds each, though the demand for large roasters, weighing eight or nine pounds each, is steadily increasing. Yellow skin and yellow legs are more generally demanded than a white skin and dark legs.

Lice in Summer. At no season of the year do lice trouble hens more than this. They seem to thrive in warm weather. Therefore we must use every effort to help the hens out. They will do a great deal for themselves by digging in the dirt and dust, but it requires some insect powder or kerosene to rid the fowls of their most troublesome enemies. Free Range For Chicks. Fortunate are the little free range chicks at this season. They romp all day, getting the exercise and variety of food needed to grow bone, muscle and feathers. For quick growth, free grass range is just the thing.

SUMMONS.

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for Clackamas County. A. D. Perkins, Plaintiff, vs. Eva H. Perkins, Defendant. In the name of the State of Oregon, You, Eva H. Perkins, are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you herein, on or before Saturday, the 21st day of December, 1907, that day being six weeks from the first publication of the summons herein, and if you fail to appear and answer herein, plaintiff will appeal to the Court for relief prayed for in the complaint and filed herein, to which reference is hereby made, and more particularly as follows: For a decree dissolving the bonds of matrimony now existing between the plaintiff and defendant on the ground of defendant's wilful desertion and abandonment of the plaintiff for the period of more than one year continuously, immediately prior to the commencement of this action, and for such other and further relief as may be met in the premises. This summons is served upon you by publication thereof for not less than six weeks in the 'Oregon City Enterprise' published at Oregon City in the County of Clackamas, State of Oregon, the place where said suit was filed and is pending and is published by order of Honorable Grant B. Dimick, Judge of the County Court for the County of Clackamas, which order is dated the 23rd day of October, 1907, and is made upon the application of the attorney for the plaintiff herein. The date of the first publication of this summons is Friday, the eighth day of November, 1907, and the date of the last publication of this summons is Friday, the 20th day of December, 1907.
