REPUBLICANS IN CLACKAMAS.

County election falls on Monday, the first day of June. This is the day that the Republicans of Clackamas County will go to the polls to the number of nearly four thousand and vote the ticket straight from top to bottom. We hear a great deal in these times of politics about non-partisanship, but from what source? Do we hear the good Republicans talking foolish fashion? Do we hear the disciple of Lincoln and Roosevelt arguing that non-partisanship is a virtue that we all should strive to become attached to? Or do these loud whippers come from men with Democratic sympathies?

Is George Chamberlain a better man than Harry Cake? Would Bob Beattie make a better sheriff than Dick Greaves? Does Ed Jack possess more qualifications to fill the Assessor's shoes than Harry Moody? Is there any good reason why any Republican should scratch William H. Mattoon and cast his ballot for J. W. Smith? These are the questions that Republicans must ask themselves before they go to the polls.

Be a Republican or register Independent. If you are a Republican be consistent. Vote the ticket. Don't scratch. Roll up the majorities. Every candidate on the ticket is well qualified for the position to which he aspires. The nominees were placed on the ticket by the rank and file of the Republican voters, with plenty of opportunity for mature judgment, and these nominees are entitled to the support of every true Republican.

We have had a few lessons in booting here in Clackamas and we earnestly trust they have not been ineffective. If you want to fill up the court house with Democrats, the opportunity is yours. But do not think that such action will tend to promote future harmony and success in Republican ranks. Oregon is a Republican state by many thousands. Clackamas is a Republican county by many hundreds. This second term gush sounds fine, coming from Democrats, but it has no place in the minds of Republicans when there is on the ticket good men, faithful in allegiance to their party and soliciting your votes.

CIVIC IMPROVEMENT.

Civic improvement may be termed by some to be a threadbare subject, but is one that is well worthy of consideration. Oregon has not reached the highest point of local pride in the improvement of her natural beauties, but once in a while a movement is started that does much toward educating our people to the love of the beautiful. One of these was the promulgation of a "Clean-up Day" by Mayor Carl and the results attained last Friday were very gratifying. Tons of rubbish from streets, alleys and back yards were cleaned up and taken away to the garbage dump. Every dray and express wagon in town was busy all through May Day, and the mayor received the congratulations of scores of people over the success of the plan.

Some day, and let us hope that it is not far distant, we shall have a monthly, instead of an annual "Clean-up Day" and after that we may attain such a degree of cleanliness that there will be no need for a day to be set aside. The city may make an appropriation for the preservation of our park blocks, roses will be planted along the pavements in the residence portion of the city and the unequalled beauty of Oregon City will be further enhanced through the efforts of every public spirited man and woman.

The President has once more struck the keynote of exact justice. In his latest special message to Congress he denounced the boycott and the black list. He deprecates the demagogic and the agitator. Then he says, "But his counterpart in evil is to be found in that particular kind of millionaire who is almost the least enviable and certainly is the least admirable, of all our citizens; a man of whom it has been well said that his face has grown hard and cruel while his body has grown soft; whose son is a fool and his daughter a foreign princess; whose nominal pleasures are at best those of tasteless and extravagant luxury, and whose real delight, whose real life work, is the accumulation and use of power in its most sordid and least elevating form."

Special news departments have been established by the Enterprise for Estacada, Milwaukie, Canby and their surrounding country. These communities are growing rapidly and are entitled to better service than they have been receiving. The reputation of the Enterprise as the leading newspaper of Clackamas County must be maintained at any cost, and for that reason we will have a representative in each of these towns one day each week. Residents of Canby, Milwaukie and Estacada cannot afford to be without the Enterprise.

The thoughtless observer will say that the President was beaten in his fight for four battleships. The thoughtful observer will realize otherwise. He will see that out of the fight has come a pledge by the Senate leaders to provide for two battleships every year until the navy is commensurate with the country's needs. The President would far rather have the Senate committed to a two battleship policy continuously than to have gained four ships this year.

Whiskey manufactured abroad and alleged to be misbranded under the American pure food law will hereafter be allowed to come into the country after which it will be subjected to the adjudication of the courts under that law according to a ruling which has been arranged recently among the departments of State, Justice, the Treasury and Agriculture. This new ruling is the result of an investigation of a complaint from London regarding it is possible to hold up such shipments of Scotch whiskey, and is a reversal of the former regulation which made it possible to hold up such shipments before they entered into the mbarckets of this country.

The President has said recently to friends, that the plutocrats and the powerful politicians thought they could prevent the nomination of a man in sympathy with his policies and he has "shown them a thing or two". Now they are saying they will make him take the nomination against his will and he believes he can still show them their mistake. He is absolutely confident that Mr. Taft will be nominated on the first ballot.

Women of Oregon City and Clackamas County are becoming interested in the Women's Column of The Enterprise. The column is edited by the members of the Women's Club and each contains mental food exclusively for women. We want to place the Enterprise into the hands of every woman in Clackamas County.
