MARKET DAY NEXT WEEK

THE BUSINESS MEN JOIN TO BRING THOUSANDS TO
OREGON CITY.

DATE SATURDAY JUNE 6

Public Wedding, Horse Show and
Many Other Attractive Features
Will Bring Hosts of People
From Country.

Oregon City is to have a Market Day, and plans have been laid through the efforts of Max Zimmermann, whose stout life is going from town to town and booming for the local merchants. Mr. Zimmermann is a very successful man, too, as scores of newspaper clippings in his possession will testify. He was here this week and interested many of the business men, who made a personal canvass of the city. It is projected to hold the Market Day in Oregon City, Saturday, June 6, and it is stated by many other attractive features where the Market Day celebration was pulled off, that the interest and attendance from the farming districts is better than a fourth of July. The custom is for the business men to advertise attractive bargains and do everything possible to interest the farmers and city people as well. Mr. Zimmermann, for his part, has a horse show and other features that are calculated to bring the crowds pouring into the city.

NOTICE!

The names of all those that have subscribed to the market day fund will be published in full in our next issue in order to let the farmers know who are and who are not the ones who are putting up the money to establish the regular monthly market. Farmers, look for the Red Boost cards. Nuf sed.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS CLOSE.

Commencement Exercises in This City June 16.

The commencement exercises of the Barclay High School will take place at the Shively Theatre Tuesday evening, June 16, and the programme is now being arranged for the occasion. Superintendent Frank Rigler, of the Portland public schools, has been invited to deliver the address to the class, and Rev. T. F. Bowen, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church will give the invocation. The valedictorian is Miss Laura Ekern, who has the highest class standing, and the next in rank is Miss Bertha Anna Wourms, who will give the salutatory. There will also be orations by Miss Elizabeth Cooper, Miss Edna Kinney, Wallace Caulfield and Raymond Olson. The graduates this year are:

Edna Willard Kinney, Helen Bessie Wilcox, Bertha Anna Wourms, Laura Ekern, Wallace B. Caulfield, Raymond F. Olson, Sedonia Shaw, Margaret Elizabeth Lynd, Walter W. Hart, Elizabeth Jane Cooper, Lionel D. Gordon, Keith Rowland.

Rev. R. C. Blackwell, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, will deliver an educational sermon Sunday, June 14. The city schools will close Friday, June 12.

Warner Grange at the Fair.

At the meeting of Warner Grange held last Saturday James Hyton, W. A. Dodge, George Lazelle, William Gardner, Mrs. Lazelle, Miss Wilchart and Miss Robinson were appointed to take full charge of the matter of having Warner Grange represented at the county fair by an exhibit. From the exhibit made by this Grange last fall and from the personnel of the committee, those who attend the fair at Canby next September may rest assured that Warner Grange's exhibit will be worth investigation and will make the other granges work early and late to beat.

PROHIBITION OR NOT IN CLACKAMAS COUNTY

WET AND DRY FORCES MAKING VIGOROUS CAMPAIGN IN LAST FEW DAYS.

The fight in the coming election in Clackamas County is fast centering around the question of Prohibition. The Drys are bringing every gun into play. At Gladstone Saturday night in the New Tabernacle of the Christian Church a mass meeting was held and F. J. McHenry filled the platform. He is a good entertainer and spoke to an appreciative house. Gladstone and vicinity seem to be strong for the Drys.

The Drys appeared Sunday at Oak Grove and Milwaukie. Rev. John M. Linden from the First Baptist Church in Oregon City spoke at both the school house in Oak Grove and at the Evangelical Church in Milwaukie, on "Why I Oppose the Liquor Business" or "Personal Experience with all the earmarks of booze." The pastors of the Oregon City Churches are leading the Drys. It is hard to tell how Clackamas will go in the coming election. Indications are that it will be a close call either way.

Harmony seems to lean toward the Wets.

Milwaukie will undoubtedly go wet. She does not feel that she can afford to do away with her street lamps. The majority in that vicinity feel that to go dry would set the progress of Milwaukie back about ten years.

Both the Wets and the Drys are flooding the County with posters and reading matter, each claiming that prosperity can only be insured by voting their way. While they meet each other on equal ground in the matter of reading matter the Wets are making no attempt to cope with the Drys in the matter of mass meetings. They have other cards up their sleeves.

The G. A. R., escorted by Company "G" of the Oregon National Guard and accompanied by the Woman's Relief Corps attended the First Baptist Church Sunday morning and listened to an inspiring and instructive sermon by the pastor, Rev. J. M. Linden. The music was exceptionally fine. The decorations in keeping with the occasion have never been equaled.

The citizens and soldiers of Clackamas went in a body to the Congregational church Sunday to hear an interesting and instructive sermon by Rev. G. W. Riggs, pastor.

WHOLE REPUBLICAN TICKET WILL BE ELECTED MONDAY

Every Indication Points to Sweeping Victory For Cake and all of the Nominees of the Grand Old Party.

Close observers who have been in nearly every precinct in Clackamas County have no hesitation in saying that the entire Republican state and county ticket will carry the county by pluralities ranging from 250 to 1300. The attempt made by the Democrats to accomplish the election of their candidates for sheriff, assessor and commissioner has fallen flat, and it is freely predicted that the Republicans will make a clean sweep. The disposition of the members of the majority party to vote their ticket straight seems to be general and the fact that this is a presidential year is impelling the Republicans to cast their ballots without a scratch, endorsing Theodore Roosevelt and his Republican policies.

The banner Republican rally of the campaign was held Tuesday night at Sandy and 200 enthusiastic people gathered in Casper Junker's hall and listened to speeches that were full of vigor for the grand old party and its principles. The meeting was preceded by a Prohibition talk by F. J. McHenry, who spoke out of doors to a fair sized crowd. The candidates for county offices on the Republican ticket were nearly all present and the demonstration they received augurs well for a large majority for the entire ticket next Monday.

The candidates went to Damascus Wednesday night and Thursday night they went to Beaver Creek, closing the campaign this evening at Milwaukie. The local band has been engaged for the rally and a fine large time is anticipated.

The corner of Eighth and Main streets was a lively scene Tuesday night when Hon. T. J. Cleeton, formerly prosecuting attorney for the fifth judicial district, and C. N. McArthur, candidate for joint Representative from Multnomah and Clackamas Counties, addressed the voters in behalf of the state and county ticket. There was a large crowd surrounding the speakers, and the Park Band furnished music. Mr. Cleeton was the main speaker and he put forward many forcible arguments for the election of H. M. Cake, Republican candidate for United States senator. He replied vigorously to the speech made here by Governor Chamberlain on May 22, comparing the characters of the two men, weighing the unexcelled energy and probational industry of the Republican candidate against the political career and expectations of Chamberlain. He placed the industrial and business experience of Mr. Cake along side of the work of the Governor, showing how the latter had gone from one office to another on the shoulders of the Republican party while carrying the Democratic flag, seeking higher positions while drawing the salary of the lower office, while Cake had served the public in the nonpartisan office of President of the Portland Board of Trade. Mr. Cleeton pointed to the clean record of Cake and asserted that he had never held political offices. He set forth the ability of the Democratic candidate to fool the people, stating that he had won Republican votes in past elections while proclaiming the doctrine that the office of Governor was a nonpartisan office. Mr. Cleeton also discussed other issues of the campaign that are now before the voters.

Mr. McArthur lauded the principles of the Republican party, urging the voters to see to it that Republicans only represent the State of Oregon at the National capital. He talked in favor of the appropriation for the University of Oregon and laid down the policies that he would follow if elected.

CHAMBERLAIN TALKS HERE.

Governor Speaks in Oregon City and Canby.

Governor George E. Chamberlain spoke for an hour and a half to a well filled house at Canby Friday, laying special stress on what he would do for Oregon if elected. He appealed to the independent voter, cautioned the people to stand by Statement Number 1 and explained the policy that governed his acts of pardoning during the last six years. A. King Wilson, of Portland, followed the Governor with a short talk on Statement Number One.

A large delegation met the governor at the four-thirty train in Oregon

City. He addressed a large crowd at the opera house, re-iterating all that he had said in the afternoon, also emphasizing his views on the Reclamation Service. He made a special point of his recent work in compelling the Portland General Electric to pay the State a portion of the money collected from toll through the Oregon City Locks. In speaking of his pardons during his term of office as Governor, he said that the majority of those pardoned were men who were either dying or whose term of service had nearly expired. He lays great stress on comparisons that can be drawn from the appropriations that have been obtained for States by Democratic and semi-Democratic representations in Congress, citing Texas and Mississippi among other states.

ROSE SHOW WILL BE HELD JUNE 12 AND 13

SECOND ANNUAL FESTIVAL OF BEAUTIFUL FLOWERS AT OREGON CITY.

The second annual Rose Show in Oregon City will be held Friday and Saturday, June 12 and 13 in Willamette High Hall. This was determined at a meeting of the Oregon City Rose and Carnation Society last night. The show will be held afternoon and evening, and on Saturday afternoon Prof. A. R. Stauffer, of the Portland High School, will make an address on "The Growth and Cultivation of Wild Flowers." There will be a short program Saturday evening and possibly on Friday evening.

The members of the local society are making extensive preparations for the show and how to increase their membership of 55 to 100 before the date of the annual event. The Society has adopted an attractive badge, which Mrs. T. A. Pope designed.

The strawberry growers of Canby, through the agency of R. S. Coe, C. J. Roth and others, have kindly offered to make a generous exhibit of berries that are famed for their fine appearance and luscious taste. It is likely that growers from other parts of the county will also exhibit, and the berry display will be a great feature of the show.

The business men and public spirited citizens of Oregon City have been very generous in their offerings of prizes, and about 60 have been obtained. There will be four prizes for wild flowers, a few for exhibits of carnations and the remainder for roses. Strawberries, ice cream and cake will be served at all times during the Rose Show.

INTEREST IN ROSES.

Pupils of Schools Study the Beautiful Flowers.

The pupils of Miss Edith Karr's room in the Barclay school held an interesting program Monday. It was "Rose Day," the purpose being to cultivate the love of the flower among the children and to teach them points of interest. Beautiful flowers were brought to the building by the pupils, and the baskets were lined with moss and filled with choice roses that were very attractive. There was a short program, a song about the roses, a reading, and then a study about the
