TAFT AND SHERMAN.
Ohio and New York provide the Republican party this year with candidates for President and Vice-president of the United States. Ohio, the mother of presidents, has again been successful in placing in the field her candidate, who was so heavily backed by the administration, headed and guided by Theodore Roosevelt, that opposition was futile. Even the "loud noise," otherwise known as J. Bourne, Jr., subsided at last and has taken steamer for Europe, where he will spend the Summer without coming back to Oregon to line up the State-ment No. 1 legislators for George Chamberlain.

Some grumbling has been heard about Mr. Taft by those who wanted Roosevelt, Hughes, et al., but it is believed that the Republican national ticket will be generally supported by Republicans, even in Oregon, which has a Republican majority, (according to the registration books), of about 30,000, yet persists in electing Democratic governors and United States senators. Of course, we all wanted Theodore, but next to him, what is the matter with the President's own personal choice. If there is anything the matter with William H. Taft, would Roosevelt be for him with all of his acknowledged forceful vigor? Certainly not. Mr. Taft is a big man, physically and mentally. He has done great things. His political and public record is first-class, not only at home, but abroad and in our insular possessions. He sometimes talks too freely and puts his foot in his mouth, but this will not cost him many votes. Aside from Roosevelt, he is the best man we could have nominated. He is safe and sane, and the country needs such men at the helm. Here in Oregon it is different.

Mr. Taft's running mate ranks high in business affairs. He is a successful politician and has long been a power in the national house of representatives. He is probably the ablest parliamentarian in that body of famous men. He comes from a state that has so many votes in the electoral college that it will be felt in November.

Against this man Taft, comes William J. Bryan, who will try for the third and last time to become President on the Democratic ticket.

Around the courthouse there will be little change on the first of July. William H. Mattoon succeeds Thomas B. Killen as a county commissioner, but the clerk, sheriff, recorder, school superintendent, treasurer and surveyor have been re-elected and Assessor-Elect Jack does not succeed Mr. Nelson until January. The county officers will profit to the extent of six months salary because of the passage of the new law, changing the time of biennial elections from June to November, and the men who commence a new term in July will hold until January, 1911, with the exception of school superintendent and assessor, who are elected for four years.

1908 will register the greatest crop of cherries and berries that Oregon has ever produced. Quality is magnificent, quantity almost unlimited, and while humanity is enjoying this fruit the maturing hay crop insures a big increase in the dairy output, which has been greatly benefitted by as good Spring pastures as were ever known in this section. Residents of the Northwest should take pains to see that their Eastern country friends are made familiar with the unequalled conditions which make dairying so profitable here.

Secretary C. H. Marsh, of the Pendleton Commercial Association is enthusiastic over the future of his city and Umatilla County, and advises that his soliciting committee will not cease their efforts until they have secured $8000 to give publicity to the resources and advantages of the County.

It is only natural that Wall Street just now should pay more attention to politics than to anything else. However, there have been some current developments of consequence, but the most important helpful elements and the prospects are bright indeed, emanate from the crop situation. One estimate has it that this year's farm products will probably go up to the stupendous total of an eight billion dollar value. This forecast is the official calculation of the statistician of the national department of Agriculture.

Last week the annual conference of the United Brethren Church was held at Oregon City and for five days delegates from all parts of Western Oregon and Western Washington were visitors here. Had it not been for the newspapers, however, the public would have been none the wiser. This may seem trivial to some, but is only another argument for the establishment of a Commercial Club, where guests of the city may be made welcome.

Judge McBride is to be congratulated on the soundness of his decision in dissolving the temporary injunction restraining the Hawley Pulp & Paper Company from proceeding with work that will mean millions of dollars to Oregon City.

The month of weddings and graduations will soon be succeeded by the month of fireworks and vacations.

A Mistaken Idea
Some people have an idea that in order to have a bank account they must have a large sum to deposit, that the bank does not care to be bothered by small accounts.
This, however, is not true of the Bank of Oregon City, which welcomes new accounts, whether of $1.00, or $1000, and the same courtesy and service is accorded the small depositor as those in more fortunate circumstances.
It is our object and wish to serve the public in financial matters in a manner that shall be satisfactory to all—old or young, rich or poor.
We want your banking business and will be pleased to have you open an account with us.

ABOLISH RURAL DELIVERY.
Postoffice Department Says Good Roads Must Be Kept Up.
Not only Clackamas County, but other portions of the country as well, may lose a part of its rural free delivery system this winter, unless the roads are placed in good condition for travel during the rainy weather. The postoffice department is conducting a campaign for good roads and several months ago obtained from Postmaster Boudin a statement of the condition of the roads in Clackamas County, showing just what portions are in first-class shape, covered with plank or crushed rock, and also the parts that are in need of repair. Upon receipt of this report, the department sent circular letters to the road supervisors calling their attention to the fact that portions of the roads should be placed in order before winter, and intimating that in case of neglect, the rural service might be discontinued in certain districts where the roads were not up to the standard.

At the home of the bride's parents, Judge and Mrs. Charles Thompson, of Stafford, last Wednesday, Miss Ruby Thompson was united in marriage to William Koellmerer, Rev. Leiseman officiating. The affair was attended by members of the two families, a bountiful wedding dinner was served and many handsome gifts were received by the newly wedded pair. Miss Constance Thompson, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and George Koellmerer, a brother of the groom, was best man. Mr. and Mrs. Koellmerer will make their home in Stafford, where he has a fine farm.

Ten homing pigeons are traveling toward Oakland, Cal., as fast as their wings can carry them. They were released at 4:10 Monday morning by B. F. McBain, who received them last Friday by Wells Fargo express from their owners, Dr. Kemby and W. W. White, of Oakland. The birds were eager to depart and mounted to a height of probably 1000 feet, they were out of sight in a minute. Mr. McBain hopes the pigeons will reach Oakland in time to break the record between Oregon City and Oakland, which is five days. He has had birds fly 200 miles in three hours and 47 minutes, and as the air line distance from Oregon City to Oakland is about 500, the birds should have no difficulty under favorable conditions, in making the trip in record time.

Rose Society Officers,
The annual meeting of the Clackamas County Rose and Carnation Society was held Saturday and the following officers were re-elected: Mrs. George A. Harding, president; Mrs. J. W. Norris, vice-president; Mrs. Rosina Fouts, secretary; Mrs. Frank T. Barlow, treasurer. The society adjourned to meet the first Saturday in October. Votes of thanks were tendered to all those who assisted to make the recent Rose Show a success.
