NEW ERA

The Fourth of July was a quiet day in our burg, a great many staying at home. A few gallons of booze landed in Doernbecher's Camp in the afternoon and trouble was soon brewing. One man was beating another unmercifully when a friend stepped up and told him to stop. A slap in the face was the answer and behold in the twinkling of an eye a clock came down on his head and business was to a close for awhile. A modern way of settling a clock.

The farmers are very busy with their hay; that is, those that have not finished.

Of course you are coming to the Spiritualist camp-meeting next Sunday and enjoy a day's recreation in the beautiful grove and hear the interesting lectures from the rostrum.

Messrs. Dunton, Dunton and Burkoyne are lengthening out the Tabernacle and hope to have it finished before camp-meeting begins.

Attorney Frank Senn, of Portland, spent the Fourth at the Bradth farm. Jack Slaughter returned on the 3rd from Meadowbrook, where he had been engaged working on the county roads.

Charles Slyter, formerly of this place, is mail clerk on the Cottage Grove local.

William Brown, of Fife, Ore., is visiting his brothers, Robert J. and Geo. F., this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Dustin drove up to Donald on the Portland and Salem electric line Sunday, viewing the country.

Arthur Seaton, of Canby, was visiting here Monday.

Mrs. Anna Penmann Wright is visiting her mother on the farm.

Lester Leland, formerly of this place, passed through Sunday morning.

Mr. Anthony bruised his left hand very badly Monday night in placing wood in the furnace of Doernbecher's Mill.

The ice cream and strawberry social given by the ladies of the W. C. T. U. last Wednesday evening was well patronized and a pleasant time was had by all, excepting a couple of small boys threw a lighted firecracker in at the window and when it exploded it burned a hole in Helen Spulak's dress. Mr. Dunton leaped through the window and led the thoughtless kids in by the nap of the neck.

SOCIETY.

Miss Edna Daulton, whose marriage to Mortimer D. Latourette is to take place Wednesday evening, July 29, at her home in West Oregon City, was the hostess Wednesday night at a lawn party, the guests being the members of the Gypsies. She was assisted by her sisters, Miss Helen Daulton and Miss Bess Daulton. The spacious lawn of the Daulton home was prettily decorated with Japanese lanterns and the evening was pleasantly spent in out door games. Delicious refreshments were served at a late hour.

The recital given by the pupils of Miss Byl was very well attended. Mrs. Robinson, of Seaside, gave several solos on the piano, which were very enjoyable. Mrs. Florence Dyer Perry sang two numbers, "Cradle Song," by Kate Vannah, "Tiddle and I," given by request and sung with a violin obligato, was enjoyed by all. Mrs. Perry is a pupil of Miss Kathleen Lawler, of this city.—Evening Telegram. Mrs. Perry is the oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Dyer, of Oswego, and the sister of Mrs. David E. Jones, Jr., of Greenwood.

While the attendance was not large at the military ball of Company G, Third Regiment, Oregon National Guard, last Saturday, those who participated in the affair enjoyed a pleasant evening. The music was exceptional and dancing was indulged in until a late hour in the spacious armory of the Company. The members of the National Guard were in full uniform and the brass buttons and blue regalia added much to the attractiveness of the event.

The wedding of Frank W. Beard, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Beard, to Miss Myrtle E. Darling, daughter of John Darling, of Maple Lane, took place Wednesday evening at the Presbyterian church parsonage, Rev. J. R. Landsborough officiating. The ceremony was a very quiet affair, only immediate relatives attending, and it was followed by a reception at the home of Mr. Beard.

Druggists Go To Coast.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde G. Huntley and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Harding left Tuesday morning for Long Beach, Wash., to attend the annual convention of the State Pharmaceutical Association, which will be in session until Friday. They missed the 7 o'clock car, and as the steamer T. J. Potter was scheduled to leave Ash Street dock at 8:30 there were two excited men in Oregon City. Mr. Harding phoned to Portland for an automobile to connect with the 7:38 car at the east end of the Madison bridge and Mr. Huntley wired John M. Laue to hold the steamer until the party could reach the dock. Mr. Huntley is president of the state association, and Mr. Harding is local agent for the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company, and their failure to keep tab on the interurban schedule out of Oregon City was probably greeted with uproarious merriment upon their arrival in Portland to join their fellow pill mixers.
