

OUR FARMERS' PAGE.

ENTERPRISE READERS ARE INVITED TO CONTRIBUTE AGRICULTURAL, HORTICULTURAL, LIVESTOCK, POULTRY, DAIRY OR "BIG CROP" ITEMS FOR THIS DEPARTMENT.

Once he called her "darling," shorten the row by grinding the hoe. Now they're married he never calls her anything but "Sag!"

When in doubt, set another hen. Shorten the row by grinding the hoe. Rainbows can never be seen in bungees. Men who pay as they go, usually do not go very often.

He who fears the storms spends many idle days in port. Hot? Yes, but it's good weather for corn, so cheer up.

The earth worm considers the plow a harrowing calamity.

It is well to plan the work, but be sure you can work the plan.

Open your heart to the sorrow of every man who comes to talk to you about his troubles.

Why is the careless boy like a hen? Because he can seldom find anything where he laid it yesterday.

Error is a great deal worse than ignorance. It is better to know nothing than to know what isn't true.

Make that boy a working partner. That is, give him some interest, however small, in the rewards of intelligent husbandry.

Pay as you go. More than one ship has been sunk by the nibbling of a rat. Let no store-bill rat nibble at the bottom of your home craft.

A man will wait on a bank four hours for a fish that doesn't intend to bite; but he won't wait five minutes for his wife to get ready for church.

There isn't any music for a good farmer in a rattling wagon. He knows every time he drives such a wagon that he is just shaking the money right out of his own pocket.

Tighten things up, and save the wear and tear on the wagon and on your own nerves at the same time.

A farm is worth twice as much as it is worth in dollars and cents.

Slowly and steadily all day long accomplishes more than hurry and worry for a short time and then quit. One gets less tired for the same work accomplished.

If there are any vacancies in the corn field, fill them with beans or something that can be turned to account. Keep every foot of your farm growing something that will help.

Now don't find fault with your wife because she doesn't keep pie baked all the time. Anyway, too much pie is not healthy. An Indiana man died after eating seven pies.

Stir the earth. Remember that as agitation is the death of all political wrongs so is it death to weeds. Man never devised a more useful implement than the hoe in its various forms.

Your greatest aid in the harvest is your faithful team. See to it that your horses are not pestered by flies, and that that they are properly fed and watered. They have well earned humane treatment.

Don't be afraid of overdoing the cultivation of the corn crop. When there is a lull in other work, if the stalks are not so high that there is danger of knocking them over, run the cultivator through the field once more.

If you want nice bright hay that the cattle will eat up clean, and that will do them the most good, don't wait till the blossoms have dropped off and the stalk is dry and hard; cut your grass when it is crisp and juicy.

You are not done with your summer's work unless you have cut the brush and stuff from the corners of the fence. Perhaps you have some that will cut a little grass. Save it all, you will need it before next spring.

We have usually succeeded best in having our hay baled as soon as the stalks are out of the sweat; then we sell at once. After this time the hay shrinks a good deal, and more waste must be cut from the outside of the stacks.

When the day is particularly hot and trying and things seem to go at cross purposes, think of something pleasant. Just draw a mental picture of the after-harvest outing that you and your good wife and your boys and girls are going to have. Remember that love sweetens labor.

If a farmer is not better than other men, it is his own fault, for he lives closer to the heart of Nature. He hears the voice of God every day, in sweet communion with the trees, the brooks, the sky. He beholds the glory God has painted; he sniffs fragrance from heaven. How can he help being good?

It is an ill wind that blows nobody good," and the hard times have eased the demand on the labor market, so that it is now possible to get workers, and the farmer and his wife may be able to find some one to help, if it is only long enough to tide over the extra work that harvest makes in field and house.

Those whose work afield requires their early rising, enjoy the most beautiful part of the day. The picture of day-break illuminating the eastern sky and the sun breaking through the mists of dawn, is one never to be forgotten, and it is one so illusive that painters have tried in vain adequately to put it on canvas.

A tub or a barrel often drops down for want of a hoop. If everybody knew how easy it is to make a hoop from a wire, perhaps a piece of waste telegraph wire often seen by the roadside, the wire would not wait. Simply bend the wire around a tub to measure it, remove it, and twist it fast. Then drive it on like a hoop; drive it fast. It will not break, and being galvanized will last indefinitely.

ORCHARD AND GARDEN.

If the trees set last spring need water, pull the soil away from around the roots, pour in a pailful and let it soak down, and then replace the earth. Don't apply water to the surface.

When picking blackberries, get them out of the sun as soon as possible or they will turn red in spots and not be so salable. Hurry them into the crates and then into a cool cellar until time for shipping or selling. Fill the boxes full and pack neatly in clean packages. If you want a fancy price, make the crates look attractive.

Don't let up on the cultivating. Besides keeping down weeds, cultivation at this season will conserve moisture, and this is of vital importance to the growing crops. If the weather is dry, don't be afraid to use the cultivator and hoe. They will prevent the moisture from getting away by evaporation.

The best time to sack grapes is when the berries are quite small—larger than small peas. Ordinarily two-pound paper sacks can be used. The mouth of each sack should be snugly wrapped around the stem of the bunch, and secured held in place by pinning or tying. The tie should be tight, but, of course, not too tight. The sacks protect the grapes from insects and insect enemies, including wasps, birds, etc. and the bunches thus protected are apt to be finer and more perfect.

CONCERN ALLEGED BANKRUPT.

Petition Against Pacific Mail Order Company in Federal Court.

The Columbia Milling Company, the Honeyman Hardware Company and the Portland Seed Company joined in a petition to Judge Wolverton, in the United States Court, asking that the Pacific Mail Order Company, of Portland, be adjudged bankrupt. The petitioners hold claims aggregating $1,359.92 against the alleged bankrupt concern which is charged with having committed an act of bankruptcy last May, when it executed a chattel mortgage to C. T. Tooze, of Gladstone, covering 23 buggies of the value of $1,504.70 to secure the claim of Tooze against the company for $1000. This transaction, it is charged, was made to protect Tooze at the expense of the other creditors.

Charles Heilborn & Company, consisting of Charles and Alma Heilborn, of Astoria, filed in the Federal Court a voluntary petition in bankruptcy. They report liabilities aggregating $16,181.24, with assets of $20,096.68.

Mr. Ginther Takes Exceptions.

SHUBEL, Or., July 12.—(Editor of the Enterprise.)—In your last issue appeared an editorial headed, "Shame of the Socialists," which reflects little credit upon its author, whether it be due to a lack of knowledge of the facts, or whether an effort is being made to sling mud upon the rapidly growing Socialist party. It says in the long run to be fair and courteous to all, be it an individual or a number of individuals having like faith. It is known throughout the United States and throughout other parts of the globe that the Socialist party of the United States in convention assembled in the month of May, 1908, nominated for the office of president, a man whose character is beyond reproach, pure, upright, honest, loving and brave. A man who has risked his life and has given his best years to help uplift unfortunate toiling men and women. This noble and illustrious man is Eugene V. Debs. As a constructive statesman he has no equal. Can it be possible you were so absorbed with the excitement of our own local campaign just passed that you had forgotten so small an item? As for this man Preston, convicted murderer, being nominated for president, may after all be a good upright honest man. Before we condemn, let us discover the reason for the rash acts of men, you point with horror at this man of whom you know as little as I do. Perhaps one of the world's best men have died in prison pens. But let it be understood that this man Preston is not the nominee of the Socialist party for any office. The Socialist Party, numbering a few thousand men, have made this man their nominee. And let me say right here, the Socialist Labor Party has no more connection with the Socialist Party than the Republican or Democratic Party. They are simply a small number of men who have their own determined views and of course are entitled to them. So far as criminals are concerned, if this man Preston should be elected, he would not be the first criminal to fill the presidential chair, harsh as it may sound.

Quantity Making and Quantity Selling
Cause the Savings in Which You Share

The above are factors, when combined virtually mean from factory to the least possible advance over actual cost price.

First—The makers, W. W. Kimball Co., with their immense seven finely equipped factories, covering over 100 acres—about double the capacity of any other in their line in the world—quantity producing—over 60,000 pianos and organs yearly—and with a large capital and a ready sale and demand for their products, the cost of manufacture and sale is reduced to the minimum—estimated at least one-fourth less than any other—and in this you share in buying a Kimball.

Second—The Sellers—Eilers Piano House—with ample capital and 40 well-organized stores located at different points in the Northwest and on the Pacific Coast—under one management—of general offices—one buying center—thereby reducing the fixed general expense to the very lowest possible amount. We mention particularly this in buying an article, be it a suit of clothes, a wagon, carriage, or a piano, in fact anything, the cost and a certain proportion of all expenses to the time you buy must be included in the price—therefore if in manufacturing the cost can be lessened without sacrificing quality and durability, and then the cost of selling be made the lowest—which can only be accomplished through selling large numbers of instruments at about same expense others sell a few—then and only then has one firm an advantage over another. The Great Eilers Organization of 40 stores not only accomplishes all the savings mentioned above, but still another important item of economy—that of Quantity Buying. Two thousand, sometimes three thousand pianos, are bought at one time—this is especially true of the Kimball Factories, and the great saving in shipping the pianos by carloads with out boxes—"in harness," thereby saving about $25 in freight, besides cost of boxing.

So in the purchase and freighting we economize still further—more savings for our patrons—because we give these savings back to our customers in a seasonable price when they purchase, and why not? By so doing we do not lessen our yearly earnings on our capital invested—we merely do more business to make up for it, and naturally a better class of business, because of the careful, dependable store; one that has their customers' interests at heart and gives a full, big dollar's value for every dollar invested in a piano or any other musical instrument.

To accomplish the advantages explained above, the Eilers Piano House knew that Quantity Making, if combined with Quantity Selling, on progressive methods, would cause savings for their customers that would bring to their stores the largest business in their line in the West—and it has—more than double that of any other house on the Coast.

You can now share in the economy of this great organization—if you need a piano—and will call at the store or write us. Cut out the coupon below and send same to us by next mail, as we have something special to offer you—but the time is limited. Mail coupon today.
