ENTERPRISE READERS ARE INVITED TO CONTRIBUTE AGRICULTURAL, HORTICULTURAL, LIVESTOCK, POULTRY, DAIRY OR "BIG CROP" ITEMS FOR THIS DEPARTMENT.

The sun blazes over the mountain hills. The song-birds greet it with lifting trill; The restless cattle begin to stir. Add wings of roosters to flap and whirl.

The farmer hears all these things that tell His time to rise, and he needs no bell. And Mrs. Farmer—she hears them, too. Her breakfast calls and there's work to do.

Rise grass is waving, the flagging heads On sunny hillside, in quiet glades. The blade that must ere that sunset glow Lay all the way to the horizon.

So back and forth, as the sun mounts high, still you will find the mower ply. Across the fields do the mowers ply. And back and forth till the west grows red, still you will find the mower ply. And the weary farmer seeks his bed.

very much finer and sweeter condition than it shipped with decaying foods and evil-smelling fluids.

With the Live Stock. Cattle feeding is likely to prove a profitable business next year for the man of (Continued)

Every little while we hear of stock being killed in the pasture during a thunderstorm, by being struck by lightning. This danger can be entirely eliminated by attaching a wire to one end of the wire on the post. This affords a perfect ground by which the electrical charge passes harmlessly to the earth.

A pile of green feed daily stored in a clover pasture will make it fit to butcher before cold weather comes.

The best time to farm horses is in warm weather; the best way, a little grain with the pasture; the best breed, the horse that will eat the most grass, make the most gain and have most lean mixed with the fat.

The rooster is half the flock. Keep on fighting the army of lice. Disinfect the premises once a week. The prices are good for raising turkeys. Separate the growing turkeys from the pullets.

It will pay to clean up droppings each morning. Never leave a dead fowl lie around the buildings.

Birds' houses are doubly dangerous during hot weather.

The price for dressed ducks is not so high as last month.

The most profitable business available is the stylish ones.

This is a good time to dispose of the old stock that is not needed for the season. During the hot weather special care should be taken not to overcrowd nor overfeed.

To keep them from getting the colic, needs a little more feed than in a draft.

Locate the windmill in a draft.

When the clouds look threatening, it is time to look after the little turkeys that are running with the hens.

Use wire netting about the yard of the little chicks will keep out rats unless they dig under it. Better put a cement floor under the enclosure.

Partly broken eggs are better than a dose of strychnine for hens. It is sure to get them to eat. Limberneck is now believed to be caused by that kind of poison.

You can not blame a hungry cat for destroying birds' nests and picking up a young chicken once in a while. Feed the cats extra well, and they will not be apt to form these bad habits.

In setting a hen late in the season, when the weather is warm, it is well either to make the nest on the ground, or to put a pod in the bottom of it, so that there may be some degree of coolness and moisture.

The best way to "stink" a fowl for 24 hours before killing, and give neither "bite nor sup." They will then be quite empty, and will kill and truss up in a

A thorough cleaning and brushing after each day's work will save a horse as much wear as keeping the horse in condition to do the work.

Never leave the stable door open to cool a horse, unless you want him to get congested. Blanket him and open the window.

Do not get too busy to churn every time the cream is ready.

Keep dairy milk in a dry place. Churn it with a rubber damper and let it stand for 24 hours before using.

Do not let your dairy horse drink during July and August. Heavy losses are always sustained by not keeping the herd well fed through the dry season.

This is a season of the year that the horse is liable to get "perfectly quiet" and "perfectly dead" and let the horse be run in a pasture like a dog to it that he is given no opportunity to show anybody.

When lambs are from three to four months old they should be weaned.

Put in a crop of rutabagas for use next winter. Nothing better for sheep in winter. A little rutabaga at the right time, and the trouble is over. A little rutabaga and the lamb is lost.

Sometimes a good mother will not let the lamb get nourishment on account of a sore teat or udder.

We damb our sheep's noses good with lime oil at sheep-shearing time, and never have any trouble with grub in the head.

A beginner in the sheep business should start with a small flock, not more than twenty-five. The number can be increased as knowledge is gained by experience.

Canby and Southern Clackamas

CANBY. The ground for the new race track and the County Fair ground at Canby was covered with fitting ceremonies last Monday morning. A delegation of Oregon City men was met at the depot at 9:30 by the band and a large number of citizens. The Mayor had declared a holiday, and the business men almost without exception closed their stores between 7 and 11 A. M. As soon as the train arrived the march for the County Fair grounds was taken up. The Canby band led with old glory flying in the wind. They were followed by carriages and people on foot. Mayor Miller of Canby, who presided over the meeting, and the president of the fair association, Geo. Lazelle, Mr. Lazelle was elected speaker with a few appropriate remarks. Mayor Miller gave a brief outline of what must be done in the future.

County School Superintendent Gary explained the reason why there have been no County fairs for so long, pointing out the fact that the old fair ground had been completed. In behalf of the County Fair Association, he offered the following plan: To build a new fair ground, 33 acres for the best letter written to some friend about the coming county fair, $3,000 for the building of the fair grounds, and to be sent to the County School Superintendent, who will turn them over to a committee and when read will forward them to the person to whom they were addressed.

County Commissioner Lewellen, A. E. Wells and other speakers also spoke a few words.

County Judge Dimick was the principal orator of the day. He commended the people on their choice of location for the fair, commending on the necessity for increasing the size of the county in the institution, and that everyone do his best to see that the first year was begun on a high and laid a firm basis for the future. He also commended the prohibition of gambling at the race track.

At the meeting of the directors of the county fair, the Canby fair ground was chosen. It was decided to build a pavilion 60x100 and 20 feet high, also a shell house and a building for the horses. Harry Barker was elected president of the fair construction with power to buy the lumber and hire the workmen. Mr. Coe is to have charge of the building of the pavilion and the shell house. Mr. W. J. Council of Harmony, will look after the building of the race track. Mr. O. W. White, wife and daughter, of Clackamas is visiting with his brother, L. H. Wang.

Miss Lillian Wang, is spending her summer vacation with her parents. Miss Wang has a position with the Goodyear Rubber Co. in Portland.

The development leader for the week ending July 23, 1938, was the Canby fair ground. Monday night from Soho where they played Sunday. The score was 11 to 7. Hubbard came to Canby for the second time, but the team had gone to the camp meeting at New Era on some other night.

ELLA SHAYER DEAD. Daughter of Late County Sheriff a Victim of Tuberculosis.

News of people of Oregon City are mourning the death of Miss Ella Shayer, who died at her home in Gladstone, Monday afternoon at her home in Gladstone. She was 26 years of age. She had been a sufferer from tuberculosis for several years, and was believed to be improving when she had a sinking spell Thursday and died suddenly. Miss Shayer came to Oregon City from Miss Shayer was a daughter of the late John R. Shayer, who was elected sheriff a few months before the expiration of his term of office. Mr. Shayer was killed by Outlaw Frank Smith, the murderer of Hanlon, at Woodburn. The family moved to Portland two years ago and Miss Shayer had been in charge of the company at the Davis street dock. The funeral was held Saturday afternoon from 314 Adams Avenue, where the family resides. Miss Shayer was especially well known in court-house circles, having served as deputy in the office of her father, and later as a clerk in Assessor Nelson's office. She was possessed of a charming disposition, a sunny temperament, and her untimely death is mourned.

NEW ERA DANCES. Dances will be given at New Era hall Saturday, July 25, and Saturday, August 1. The hall has been enlarged to 50 feet and a good 12-piece orchestra has been provided. Supper will be served at the hotel and refreshment stands around the grounds. Good order and a good time are assured. Entertainment is cordially invited to attend.
