FOR COUGHS AND COLDS

PREVENTS PNEUMONIA

I had the most debilitating cough a mortal was ever afflicted with, and my friends expected that when I left my bed it would surely be for my grave. Our doctor pronounced my case incurable, but thanks be to God, four bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery cured me so completely that I am all sound and well.—MRS. EVA UNCAPHER, Grovertown, Ind.

SCHOOLS AND THEIR RESULTS.

Rapid strides are being made along educational lines in Clackamas County. The annual institute of teachers that ended last Friday exceeded in point of interest any previous gathering of the kind. The attendance was larger and the introduction of two new departments was succeeded by keen appreciation. One of these was "the one-room school" which is the real bulwark of public education, and the other was the "high school." Much attention has lately been bestowed upon high school work in rural districts, and country residents are quick to see that their children have the advantages heretofore enjoyed only by students of the towns.

There are, perhaps, many people who are slow in their appreciation of high school development, but less than a decade will demonstrate the wisdom of this feature of educational growth. Children between the ages of 14 and 18 remain in school mainly for the pure love of study, and they are bound to absorb information that will be of incalculable value to them later in life. They will become better citizens and, what is a matter of supreme importance, the boys and girls will receive mind training that will enable them to take part, with intelligent understanding in affairs of government. Thinking men are daily coming into contact with illiterate beings upon whom a liberal country has conferred the power of the ballot, and the abuse and misuse of this power is manifest in many instances.

The benefits of so-called higher education may be a matter for open discussion, but the results of the public schools can hardly be questioned. More effective enforcement of the compulsory educational law is earnestly desired, and the time is not far distant when every boy and girl shall look forward to entrance into high schools after passing through the grammar grades.

DAN SHANNON—HIS METHODS.

Dan Shannon, the man who has probably made more enemies and created more discussion than any other evangelist who has ever struck Oregon City, departs next Monday for Corning, Cal., where he will tell the people of that sin-besotten community just how bad they are. Shannon fears God, but not man. He is no respecter of persons. His knocks are not of the tack-hammer variety, he is the anvil chorus himself.

Shannon's stay in Oregon City, covering a month, has been one of interest. He has preached and shrieked to thousands of people and he has made some converts. His contract is carried out, when the repentant sinners line up at the altar rail. He has abused members and organizations of the Episcopal and Congregational Churches, and has heaped reproaches upon the Saturday Club, composed of young women of the latter church, because they gave a skating party, "skating their way into Hell," is the way Shannon is said to have expressed it. Mr. Shannon has not spared the politicians. Last Sunday he placed State Senator Hedges on the grill for his utterances in the Nehren-Matthis damage suit. Mr. Hedges, however, though he is human and consequently prone to error, has lived in Oregon City for more years than Mr. Shannon has days and will probably live down the castigations of the evangelist.

After all, the visit of Dan Shannon to Oregon City can do no harm and may do some good. Some men cannot be reached with a feather. A club is required and this is where Dan shines. He is a regular Theodore Roosevelt of a man for that. He has no soft or gentle words for the evil doer. He says that some men give him a pain in the left hind leg, which language is more forcible than elegant.

Dan Shannon and Carrie Nation trot in the same class, but Dan is a four-time winner, compared with Carrie. His methods are unique and forcible, but he "gets there" and this is evidently what is required of him.

Five months ago The Enterprise inaugurated a special news service for the town of Canby. One day each week is spent in that place by a member of The Enterprise staff and the people are given several columns of real live local news, in addition to the general news of the whole county. The Enterprise is now planning to give this service by giving to Canby a New Year's edition. The town and surrounding country will be comprehensively written up and illustrated. This edition will be a fine number for the people of Canby to send to their Eastern friends. The price will be no more than for the regular issues—five cents per copy. We have reason to hope that Canby residents will meet us half way in our effort to give them a splendid newspaper and a special number that is sure to meet their approbation.

Two of the greatest displays of apples ever made in the Pacific Northwest are attractions for early in December. One will commence at Portland December 1st and continue for three days, when Spokane will take the center of the stage in this same character of entertainment from December 7th to 12th.

Goldendale, Washington, has given all the communities of the Pacific Coast a record in raising money for advertising purposes, by giving $2.00 for every man, woman and child within the city limits, or a total of $3,500, and this came in at the rate of $125 a minute.

SOCIETY

The recital of Miss Estie Miriam Block in the First Congregational Church Tuesday night was an unequalled success. Nearly every seat in the auditorium was taken, and the church was prettily decorated. Mrs. Nieta Barlow Lawrence, contralto, assisted Miss Block and came in for her share of the generous applause. Miss Martha Frances Draper was an able accompanist. The ushers were Miss Truchott, Miss Dolly Pratt, Miss Merl Keck, Miss Mabel Toomath, Miss Elizabeth Ross, Miss Anne Shannon and Miss Ethel Graves. Miss Block's execution of finished and her numbers were all skillfully executed. Mrs. Lawrence's encores were "When Song is Sweet," and "Old Black Joe." Both Miss Block and Mrs. Lawrence received beautiful flowers. The audience was cordial and Miss Block, who recently graduated from the Chicago University of Music, received warm congratulations on her success as a pianist.

Miss Block's Chopin numbers were exceptionally well rendered, showing complete mastery of the difficult technique. The MacDowell "Impromptu" was given for an encore in a dainty style, and brought out her temperament admirably.

Mrs. Lawrence's "Lascia Ch' io Pianga" (Handel) showed her artistic ability in the extreme, and she delighted her hearers in Tosti's "Good bye," but the full death of her numbers was reached when she gave "Old Black Joe," as an encore.

Oregon City people are glad to know that it possesses two such artists as Miss Block and Mrs. Lawrence.

The X. L. Club of Gladstone held its regular meeting at the Gladstone school house Friday night, and was well attended. Business of importance was transacted, and during the evening Dr. A. L. Beatie gave an excellent talk on "The Care of the Children's Teeth." Mrs. Allan Brown, of Jennings Lodge, gave several readings, one of her selections being from "The Idle Thoughts of an Idle Man."

A report was made at the business session of the club of having made $42.25 at the last social, also reported that five dozen chairs had been purchased for the assembly hall, and it was also voted upon to purchase a piano for the school building. Captains were chosen, who are Mrs. T. E. Gault and Mrs. A. Blount, who chose sides, and a membership contest will be started at once. There are already about 40 members belonging to the organization, and it is probable that a great deal of enthusiasm will be manifested during the contest. Resolutions and by-laws were adopted in which 25 cents will be charged for membership and the dues to be five cents per month.

The sixth birthday of Violet Downham was celebrated at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Evans. The party was held on Thursday afternoon, and the time was pleasantly spent in games, music, and a general good time. Mrs. Beaulieu was assisted by Miss Veta Kelly and Miss Maude Brooks, who took the children from this city. Many beautiful birthday gifts were presented to the little hostess. The house was prettily decorated with chrysanthemums and the tables correspondingly and a sumptuous birthday dinner served.

The Dertwick Club was entertained by Mrs. O. W. Eastham Friday afternoon. "Rienzi" by Richard Wagner, was the study. Mrs. H. Straight read an excellent article on "Wagner's Life and Works," and Mrs. Elmer A. Chapman read the story of the opera. "Rienzi." The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Leonard Pickens, November 20, and "Tannhauser" will be the subject for the afternoon.

Miss Margaret Goodfellow, whose wedding soon takes place, was tendered a rush by her many friends at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Goodfellow, Saturday evening. A book guessing contest in which Mrs. J. W. Cole was awarded the first prize, Mrs. T. P. Randall, the second prize, and Mrs. Harry Moody, the consolation prize, recitation by Miss Florence McFarland, accompanied by Miss Louise Walker on the piano, and a piano solo by Miss Florence Grace, were the principal features of the evening. Miss Goodfellow was presented with an array of beautiful and useful gifts. Among the presents was a beautiful set of glass dishes from a number of her friends. Those assisting Mrs. Goodfellow were Mrs. Thomas Warner, Mrs. J. W. Cole, Mrs. R. G. Pierce, Mrs. J. E. Sealey. Refreshments were served.

St. John's Young People's club gave an entertainment last Friday evening at McLaughlin hall. The following programme was rendered: Piano solo, Emma Quinn; recitation, Florence McFarland; piano duet, Kate Matthis and Veta Kelly. After the exercises games of what were played. The lady's prize was won by Miss Alice Shannon, and the gentleman's prize by Otto Pett. Refreshments were served and a good time was had by all present.

Tualatin Tent, Knights of the Macabees has decided to hold a nut social in Woodmen hall Monday evening, November 23. Members of the Macabees and their friends will be invited to the affair.

Sola Circle, Women of Woodcraft, spent a very enjoyable evening Friday and were entertained by a committee of five, consisting of Mrs. Rebecca Wilson, Mrs. Luella May, Mrs. Maud Spencer, Mrs. S. S. Walker and Mrs. Elmer Lanika. A whistling solo by Harold Swafford was appreciated, as was a song by Master Woodward. Refreshments were served. The programme was held after the meeting of the Circle. The decorations were on the Halloween order and were unique and beautifully arranged.

A very pleasant surprise party was tendered Mrs. Catherine Cavataio in honor of her 17th birthday at her home at 221 Jefferson street Friday night. The features of the evening were games, followed by refreshments. Many handsome presents were received by Miss Gawista, and a good time enjoyed by all.

The Pythian Sisters entertained the Knights of Pythias Tuesday night in a royal manner at the Woodmen hall, by giving an apron and necktie social. The early part of the evening was devoted to a well arranged programme, and the following: Trio, Mrs. William Green, R. E. Woodward, Roy Woodward; vocal solo, Frank Aldredge; recitation, Miss Bertha Wyman; vocal solo, Kenneth Woodward; instrumental solo, Miss Bertha Friedrichs. At the close of the programme Judge C. E. Hayes and E. T. Fields sold the neckties to the men, whose partners for supper were secured by matching these with the aprons worn by the ladies. An oyster supper was served, and the tables were prettily decorated for this occasion.

How is Your Digestion?
Mrs. Mary Dowling of No. 228 8th Ave., San Francisco, recommends a remedy for stomach trouble. She says: "Gratitude for the wonderful effect of Electric Bitters in a case of acute indigestion, prompts this testimonial. I am fully convinced that for stomach and liver troubles Electric Bitters is the best remedy on the market today." This great tonic and alternative medicine invigorates the system, purifies the blood and is especially helpful in all forms of female weakness. 50c. at Jones Drug Company.
