Mr. Blair being one of the members of the board of road viewers. Mr. Blair is one of Hubbard's well known farmers.

SOCIETY

Dr. and Mrs. Hugh S. Mount returned Monday from a sojourn of several months in New York City. Monday night about 15 of his friends proceeded to the Ganong ranch above Canemah and gave the doctor and his bride a good old fashioned charivari, and the sound of guns, tin cans, cow bells and whistles alarmed the residents of Canemah. The members of the party did not get empty handed, and after the first loud blasts they were invited in and spent a merry evening.

Last Sunday's Oregonian has the following of interest to Oregon City people, as Mr. Walls formerly resided here:

A very pretty wedding was that on Wednesday evening of Miss Gertrude Ballin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Ballin, of 614 East Oak street, to Ray Brandon Walls. Rev. A. B. Minkler performed the ceremony. The bride was charming in a gown of white embroidered silk and carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums. The bridal party entered to the strains of "Lohengrin," played by Mrs. C. H. Clement. Miss Bailey, of Spokane, Wash., who was the maid of honor, wore a gown of yellow mull over yellow silk and carried yellow chrysanthemums. Arthur Wager was best man. The rooms were beautifully decorated in chrysanthemums and greens. Mr. and Mrs. Walls left for Tillamook, where they will reside.

"The Great Catastrophe" is the title of a two-act comedy to be given at McLaughlin hall on the last night of the fair, which is to be given by the ladies of St. John's Catholic church, December 12. The following is the cast of characters: "Jack Kennard," a faliant lover, Frank Lobergan; "Dennis Sullivan," who caused the catastrophe, Phillip Sinnott; "Ben Prap," an English Coachman with good expectations, Carl Moore; "Robert Drew," the old man himself, Dr. Clyde Mount; "Violet Drew," his daughter, Miss Cis Barclay Pratt; "Dorothea Printrose," a governess with nerve, Miss Martha Frances Draper; "Tilly Craig," a stage struck mad, Miss Kathryn Sinnott.

Oregon Lodge, No. 3, I. O. O. F., met on Thursday night, and the following officers were elected: Noble Grand, Harry M. Shaw; vice-grand, Hugh Matheson; treasurer, J. F. Clark; recording secretary, L. H. Feaster; financial secretary, H. W. Trembath. The officers will be installed the first meeting in January.

The marriage of Miss Margaret Goodfellow, and Dr. Louis A. Morris, was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Goodfellow, Wednesday night at 8:30 o'clock. Rev. T. F. Bowen, officiating. The wedding was a very quiet affair, only the immediate relatives being present. The bride, who was attired in Alice blue silk organdie, was attended by Miss Marjorie Caulfield. Frederick Nelson acted as best man. The house was prettily decorated with chrysanthemums and ferns. A luncheon was served, after which Dr. and Mrs. Morris left for their home on Ninth street. Miss Goodfellow is one of Oregon City's most popular young women, while Dr. Norris is well known as one of the leading dentists of the city. Dr. and Mrs. Morris have a host of friends, who extend to them their hearty congratulations and best wishes.

The Fraternal Brotherhood will organize a Uniform Rank and the charter is expected to reach here next Wednesday night. The company will start with 45 members, and its members are looking forward to their trip to the Alaska-Yukon exposition at Seattle, on July 19, 1909. The Fraternal Brotherhood initiated 31 members last Monday night, and they have established campaign headquarters in the Barclay building.

The Ladies Guild and Daughters of the King, of St. Paul's Church will hold their annual bazaar next Saturday at Willamette Hall. A choice selection of useful and fancy articles will be offered for sale. Supper will be served at 6:30. Tickets 25 cents each. The "Market" for the sale of edibles will be held at the same time and place.

Mrs. Charles W. Pope, who has been ill for the past three months, and who has been spending the past month with her mother, Mrs. John McQuinn, of Portland, returned to this city Sunday where she will remain for several days before going to Clatskanie, where she will visit with Miss Mary Conyers.

Mrs. Charles O. Albright and daughter, Miss Bessie, were in Oregon City on Saturday visiting with friends. Mrs. Albright is making a short visit with her sisters in Portland, and her daughter, who spent her Thanksgiving vacation in that city, is attending the Pacific University at Forest Grove.
