NEWS OF THE COUNTY

BEAVER CREEK.

The regular November weather has showed up at last. Most of the farmers around here have their fall crop sowed. Thanksgiving passed away very quietly in our neighborhood. There was a large crowd at the masquerade Thursday night. Mrs. J. Batie, Misses Blodwen Thomas, Mary and Sara Parry visited the Beaver Creek school Wednesday and had a nice time. Our central operator is back again from her week's vacation. Charlie Steinfel has gone to Portland to work. Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Harris visited Griffith Bros., of Clarkes, last Sunday. Miss Tena Blum visited friends at Beaver Creek Thursday. Miss Gladys and Robert Snodgrass were Beaver Creek school visitors Wednesday. Mabel Clark called on Mrs. Babcock one day this week. Benny Fisher has gone to Eastern Oregon, where his brothers are.

ELLIOTT PRAIRIE.

Thanksgiving passed very quietly around here this year. There is quite a sensation of dread in this community at present, on the account of the appearance of a coyote which several of the farmers have seen in their pastures. None has been seen here for nearly twenty years. B. F. Casto has purchased Mr. Anderson's hired man's house, which he will move to his chosen spot, where he will watch for the rest of his life. Moses Hostettler is instructing a vocal musical class at the Zion Church. There are about fifty students. They will give an exhibition Christmas Eve. Mrs. A. Todd and daughter Edith called on Mrs. Arthur Schneider Tuesday afternoon. Miss Etta and Edna Stanton and others were at Nixon Blair's Sunday afternoon, for the purpose of selecting and practicing songs for the programme which will be rendered at Elliott Prairie church Christmas night. Milo Blair, who has been spending a few days at home, left Sunday to resume his studies in the Portland High school. Ivan Brownville helped Brown butcher Monday. The Chass Bros. dance Saturday night was a failure. Only eight stags were present, so they enjoyed a stag dance. Mary A. Yoder visited Nellie Blaser Sunday. O. E. Todd was a visitor at Blair's Sunday. J. F. W. is not married yet. All are wondering what he is waiting for. "The boys" are ready. Ben Sorenson has left for Denmark. We think he has gone in search of a wife. The Whisky Hill debating and literary society organized Friday evening, December 4. This has been a successful society here for the past two winters and we wish all to take an interest in this and make it the same. Bud Kent was a visitor at Todd's Sunday. Arthur Todd returned last Friday to Oakland, Cal., where he will resume his work. He has been home since his father's death.

OSWEGO.

Fred Lehman has sold his home on Fourth street and D avenue to T. Polard, of Hazella. Willie Walters, who is in the employ of the O. R. & N., is visiting his mother, Mrs. J. Lemery. Mrs. George Thomas returned home this week from her visit to Woodburn. Mrs. Jessie Martin is very sick at the hospital in Portland. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Thomas and Mrs. E. P. Clay are spending a few weeks at St. Martin's Springs. Miss Prosser is on the sick list. Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Moross have moved into their new home on Third street. A. Coon is building a new home on Fifth street. A birthday party was given in honor of Miss Isa Austin on her 15th birthday. Those present were: Miss Lella Henninger, Miss Arva Todd, Miss Tuelie Todd, Miss Gladys Yates, Miss Bertha Elston, Miss Ruth Erickson, Thomas Elston, Eugene Waldorf, Charles Eldraun, Albert Rosentreter, Orce Jones and Willie Austin. Mrs. W. M. Gray and her daughter, Margaret Gray, were the guests of Mrs. H. L. Gill, of Woodburn, last week. A large number attended the dance given by the Degrees of Honor Lodge Wednesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. H. Le Maire moved from Oswego to Portland last week. Mrs. Martha E. Ball died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. D. Curtis, in Portland, on Wednesday. Mrs. Ball was born in Ohio and came to Oregon about 17 years ago. The remains were interred at the Oswego cemetery on Friday. She is survived by the following children: John Ball, of Oswego; Arthur and Richard Ball and Mrs. D. Curtis of Portland.

MULINO.

Cold and frosty weather prevails in this part of the country at present. Albert and Elmer Erickson went to Portland Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. George Mallatt arrived here Saturday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Mallatt's brother, Freeman Austin. A. C. Low, Bert Wallace and Lewis Churchill are hauling prunes to Canby for the Clark drier. Larsen's have been sawing wood with their gasoline wood saw for several of the Mullinots this last week. A ripple of excitement was caused Saturday evening by a fire burning out at Mr. Wallace's. Mr. Carlson has started his grubbing machine and is making the stumps fly. Several of the Mullinots attended the basket social at Molalla Saturday night. Mr. Bruner spent a few days in Portland last week. Mr. Myers' fine driving horse died last week. Mr. Ogle was in Mulino Saturday giving music lessons to several of Mulino's fair daughters. Mr. Daniels and family were called to Salem Friday by the serious illness of Mrs. Gibson, daughter of Mrs. Danjels.

SUNNYSIDE AND ROCK CREEK.

Born, on Sunday morning, December 6, to Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Ott, a son.

Mother and child doing well. Mrs. Lillian Hunter was visiting in Portland with her daughters several days last week. Harris Deardorff came down from eastern Oregon about a week ago to sign the deed and straighten up matters pertaining to the place, and is visiting among friends and relatives. Grandpa Johnson and Geo. Ellis enjoyed a visit from Miss Mable Culbertson last week. The meeting at Damascus is still going on and are well attended. Mrs. Young is quite poorly again, but hope she will be better soon. Mrs. Delsie Hunter was visiting at Joe Deardorff's Monday. Christmas is nearly here but we don't hear of any large Christmas trees in vogue. Some families will have private trees for the family. Mr. Osterback is happy since he got his deed and has put a nice new door in his house, and is working like a trooper.

TEAZEL CREEK.

The weather has been so foggy for a few days that one would think of the saying of the fog and the butcher, knife, consequently there are several cases of lagrippe. Mrs. Quinn and daughter are the victims this week. We hope the Russellville correspondent will continue the interesting letters of his trip as we feel there are more items of interest back of what he has already written, as your correspondent enjoys travel and meeting with old friends there enjoyed reading of his enjoyment. Our community was sadly shocked last Thursday when we learned of the untimely death of Freeman Austin, an early resident of Molalla, having been born and raised near that place. His body was laid to rest in the Clackamas County cemetery, Rev. J. H. Quinn officiating.

CLARKES.

We are having some rain after the recent fog. A good many are suffering with colds in this burg. H. Wallace butchered two hogs and a large beef one day last week. Mr. and Mrs. H. Wallace and the school teacher spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Bullard. Everybody is getting ready for Christmas, especially the little folks. Quite a number attended the dance at Beaver Creek last week and all report a good time. A number of farmers have their fall plowing and sowing done. I see by last week's paper a man in Clarkes was plowing his clover for the church. Some scribes can write queer things can't they. Will Wallace, who has been working for F. Jaggard, has returned home.

CLARKES.

The Elder of the Evangelical church was out in Clarkes last Sunday night with W. H. Wetzelauer and left for Oregon City Monday. Mrs. Scherrulle went on a visit last Wednesday to Oregon City for a few days. Miss Maggie Sullivan is intending to go to school in Timber Grove. Mr. Stromgreen was in town last week on business. The German M. E. Church want to have a little Christmas tree. W. H. Bottemiller bought a new heating stove lately. Mr. Letchise is helping Mrs. Ringgo butcher hogs. Sam Elmer spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. Linder. Mr. Scherrulle sold some prunes to Dix Bros. last Monday. Mrs. Ringo was butchering hogs on Monday. Charles and Jake Grossmiller were in Timber Grove last Sunday to visit Haars. There was a meeting of the grange last Saturday in Grange Hall. Mrs. Scherrulle came home on Monday from Oregon City. Miss Mary Sullivan is staying in Oregon City now. Mr. Carel Stromgreen is having a breaking-out in his face and arms. It appears like the effects of poison oak or eczema. Joe Wallace is on the sick list. Alex. Scherrulle and his father were bathing for a few days. Alex. said it is a fine job. The item in a former issue stating that Captain Branson was intending to stay in the East was an error. The Bransons are intending to return here in the spring.

REDLAND.

C. C. Miller of Viola intends to move to Silverton soon, to work in a sawmill. Millard Adams of Macksburg visited friends here one day this week. A. Kirchem went to Idaho Saturday on a surveying expedition to be gone ten or twelve days. The barn on Shank's place, across the road from the Courtright place, burned down, supposedly set on fire by tramps. Little Evelyn Mortimore is visiting her sister Olive at Allen's (born to Mr. and Mrs. H. Mattoon, a daughter, December 2. Congratulations. Mr. Simpson has a new telephone put in this week. W. H. Brown is having a bad time with his hand, as blood poison has set in, and is getting along as well as he can, under Dr. Mount's care.

CARUS.

The fine weather has disappeared and Old Oregon rain and mud in exchange. The Carus has a number of fine stiches, but he would have a stiff finger. Mrs. R. G. Caseday is very feeble at present. Mrs. H. O. Inakeep is visiting in Portland. Miss Flora Stewart, who is attending Barclay High school, was visiting at home Saturday and Sunday.

STAFFORD.

As we remarked in our items last week, the new moon brought ideal weather for Thanksgiving, and family parties met at many of the old homes, to partake of the good cheer and discuss topics personal or national. Last Saturday Mr. Aerni split his left index finger through a part of the knuckle—a very bad cut. He was taken to Portland for medical help, where the doctor took a number of stitches, but told him he would have a stiff finger. He returned home Monday evening and was seen Tuesday sowing grain. Mrs. Holton went home with her brother Arden on Sunday, expecting to be absent about a week. Mr. Weddle, of Jefferson, is visiting at Mr. Weddle's. Mr. Weddle's wife, who died two years ago, was Mrs. Weed's daughter. Mrs. Powell visited at the Delkar's on Tuesday. December 8, Fred Koellmeier, a man respected by friends and neighbors and favored by a family of grown children, passed away at St. Vincent's hospital and was brought home and buried by the side of his wife, who died about two years ago. The funeral occurred on Monday afternoon. Mr. Koellmeier was an honest, upright man, whose word was as good as his bond to all who knew him well, and many will miss his kindly face. After a season of beautiful weather, rain began to fall on Monday, and about a third of an inch fell and still threatening.

We have been looking at the picture of a recent foot-ball team, and the query arises: "Why should each and every one of them look so hump shouldered? Is it because of the many hurts they got, and how is it going to benefit any or all of them if they should win the championship of the world and go through life crippled?" There is a Latin saying about a sound mind in a sound body, and how can a student do justice to his studies when suffering in body from recent hurts in a savage foot-ball game. I expect hisses, but I trust you will lose no subscribers by this frank expression of opinion. I believe in athletics, but not to such an extent as to endanger life and limb. We hear over the phone there is a surprise party for some one in the neighborhood hatching, but have not heard who is the lucky one yet. Such gatherings are becoming quite common in Stafford during the last year, as we have a fine set of young people growing up in our midst.
