ON TRIAL.
It is apparent that the system of choosing United States Senators at popular primaries and binding the state legislatures to abide by the choice is going to receive a severe test this winter. Not only in Oregon is there talk of electing some other man Senator than the one who was successful in the primaries, but also in Kansas, in Missouri and in Illinois.

Everywhere the same arguments are heard—that the direct primary system of choosing United States Senators is invalid on the ground that the laws providing for it would not be upheld by the courts, because they provide a different way of naming Senators than laid down in the Constitution; that frauds vitiated the results of the primaries; that the party voters clearly did not mean to instruct for the candidate victorious at the primaries, because the other party or the other faction of the party was successful in the primaries.

In Oregon it is urged that the Republican nomination for Senator was the result of Democratic votes deliberately cast at the Republican primary in order to force the Republican party to put up a weak man for the office. Then, in this week candidate named, the Democrats were easily successful at the polls. Therefore it is urged that the Republican legislators, who are pledged to abide by the results of the popular election, violate their pledge, and elect, not the Republican who was successful at the primaries, but his defeated opponent.

The reasoning by which a reversal of the expressed will of the people is justified is far fetched. Probably the participation of Democrats in the Republican primaries is greatly exaggerated, and the motive of those who did participate is very likely misrepresented. Nor does it appear certain that if the other Republican candidate had won, the result at the polls would have been different. Governor Chamberlain, the successful Democratic candidate, has repeatedly defeated Republican candidates in the Republican state of Oregon, and probably would have won in any event. If the situation is anomalous, the proper thing to do is not to break the law, but to repeal it.

In Oregon the popularly chosen candidate for Senator is of a different party from the majority of the Legislature. In Kansas and Missouri he is of a different faction of the same party from the majority of the Legislature. That is urged as just as good an excuse as exists in Oregon for violating the will of the people expressed in the primary law. Frauds are alleged. If the election were to be held over again, the public is told that the result would be different; therefore the legislators are advised to let the defeated candidate's friends interpret for them the second thought of the electorate. In the Kansas Legislature, out of 118 members only 36, if not bound by the result of the primary, would be supporters of Bristow. The others are urged to "obey the federal Constitution" and vote according to their "consciences." In Missouri the Folk legislators outnumber the Stone legislators two to one. In Illinois the outcome of the Senate primary is regarded as not necessarily binding upon the legislature, and in North Dakota also the contest is to be carried into the legislature.

Probably such contests are inevitable, for the system is new and the custom is not yet established of abiding by the results of the primaries. But it is to be observed that the direct primary system was created in response to a demand by the people. Violation of it will probably be hazardous for the party that is responsible and extremely dangerous to the individual legislators who are persuaded by the kind of arguments we have rehearsed to break their pledge to their constituents. Probably the talk of ignoring the primary results will come to nothing. If it avails and the primary system fails to secure to the people the right of selecting their Senators, a new impetus will be given to the movement for a constitutional amendment providing for the election of Senators by popular vote.—New York Tribune.

Many a base insinuation and idle gossip may be treated with dignified silence, thereby letting the character be its own vindicator. To take up a stone to throw at every barking dog is usually a waste of time.

It is the duty and privilege of every person to do all the good he can in passing through this world. How extensive that good may not one can tell, but it is sure to enlarge by practice.

SOCIETY

The annual Fair of St. John's Church will be held this week, opening Wednesday noon and lasting four days, closing next Saturday evening with a clever farce, entitled "A Great Catastrophe." Many local celebrities are in the cast. The fair is being held in the McLaughlin institute building, and Wednesday evening Archbishop Christie delivered an address and the Oregon City band rendered selections. There were special programmes on Thursday and Friday evenings. A large number of attractive booths have been arranged.

The marriage of George Swafford to Miss Lela Lone Dorsett was solemnized at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in Baker City, the home of the bride. Mr. Swafford is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Swafford and spent his boyhood in Oregon City. He is at present manager of a drug store at Condon, Gilliam County, where he will take his bride. Mrs. Swafford and Miss Nellie Swafford left Tuesday for Baker City to attend the wedding ceremony, and the latter was one of the bridesmaids.

Miss Edith Cheney entertained the Gypsies at her home on Saturday evening. Several musical selections were rendered during the evening, and refreshments were served. The next meeting of the club will be at the home of Miss Helen Daulton, of the West Side. Following were present Saturday evening: Miss Marjorie Canfield, Miss Helen Daulton, Miss Zida Goldsmith, Miss Aimee Bollaek, Miss Ivah Gordon, Miss Ethel Cheney, Miss Laura Avison, Miss Emily O'Malley, Miss Bess Kelly, Miss Clara Barclay Pratt.

The annual fair given by ladies of St. Paul's Guild of the Episcopal church on Saturday evening, was one of the most successful fairs given by them. The King's Daughters also had a market booth and fancy articles. A hot supper was served from 5 to 7, and many of the Oregon City people took advantage of this. The net proceeds amounted to about $140.

The Derthick Club met at the home of Mrs. Leslie L. Porter, of the West Side, Friday afternoon. The afternoon was devoted to the study of Wagner's opera "Lohengrin." Goeber's story of the opera was read by Mrs. E. T. Avison, and notes relating to Wagner's work and the opera of Lohengrin were given by Mrs. Charles Caulfield and Mrs. S. O. Dillman. The music from the opera was an especially interesting feature of the afternoon's entertainment. Mrs. R. C. Ganong sang "Elsa's Dream" with the piano accompaniment by Miss Martha Frances Draper. Two ably rendered piano solos, "The Swan Song" by Mrs. Walter A. Dimick, and the ever popular "Bridal March" by Mrs. Ann F. Hayes, completed the programme. The next meeting of the club will be Friday afternoon, December 18, at the home of Mrs. R. R. McAlpin at Gladstone. Wagner's opera, "Tristan and Isolde," will be the subject for the afternoon. An interesting programme is being arranged.

The Order of the American Boys gave a basket social and entertainment at the hall at Willamette last Friday night. There was a large attendance, and the musical and literary programme rendered was well received. Following the programme the baskets containing lunches were disposed of, and the proceeds amounted to $16.50. Many of the young people, who were fortunate enough to be invited to the home of Miss Margaret Lynd, who resided at Willamette, enjoyed an oyster supper at the close of the programme. Many from this city attended the social.

The birthday anniversary of Miss Clara Fields was celebrated on Thursday evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Fields. The evening was pleasantly spent in games, guessing contests and music. In the guessing contests the prizes were awarded to Florence Grace, Marie Ross, Edmond Bollaek, Joe Justin and Kent Moody. The house was prettily decorated with ferns, sprays of ivy and cut flowers. Mrs. Fields was assisted in the entertainment of the guests by Miss Dollie Pratt and Miss Florence McFarland. Miss Fields was the recipient of many beautiful birthday gifts. During the evening refreshments were served.

Oregon City Assembly, No. 7, Initiated Artisans, Thursday night held their semi-annual election, with the following result: Mrs. Emma Thomas, master artisan; Mrs. Charles E. Burns, Jr., superintendent; Mrs. Minnie Donovan, inspector; Mrs. F. H. Cooper, secretary; J. A. Tufts, treasurer; Mrs. Pauline Schwartz, senior conductor; Mrs. Ben Linn, master of ceremonies; Mrs. Mary Harvey, junior conductor; Oscar Woodfin, musician.

The Woman's Club held an unusually interesting meeting Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George A. Harding, the feature being a paper on "Social Psychology," by Miss Mary S. Barlow, of Portland. The paper was full of interest, and was instructive and helpful. Rev. T. F. Bowen.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Dimick and family returned the latter part of last week from New Jersey, and are now staying at the home of Ray Cooper. Mr. Dimick was formerly chief dispatcher of the O. W. P. car line but left for New Jersey last fall.

Tom Livingston has moved into his new house in the Quincy addition. Mr. Livingston is an engineer at the shingle mill here.

P. T. Davis, of the Davis and Webster mill at Estacada, left Thursday morning for that place. It is the intention of the company to commence operations at once.

The shingle mill has closed and will not open until the first of March. A new machine and dry kiln are being put in.

The first grand ball of the season will be given by the Milwaukee Volunteer Fire Department at the City Hall Saturday evening, December 12. Everybody come. A good time assured.

Milwaukee School Notes. Harry Riddle has left school and intends making his home at Salem. Bertha Blair and Albert Miller are new pupils in the fifth grade this week. Roland Dimick and Junior are new pupils in the third grade. Lela Taylor has returned to school after being absent several days on account of illness. After an absence of a week on ac-

Mrs. Eva Emery Dye and Mrs. Geo. C. Brownell made short talks along with the reading of the paper. Several new members were received and others proposed for membership, showing that the club is a growing institution. The next meeting will be held Wednesday afternoon, December 30. This will be guest day and the programme will be in charge of Mrs. R. C. Ganong.

The Fountain Hose Company is arranging for its sixth annual ball, which will take place Friday, December 24 in Armory Hall. The annual dance of this organization of volunteer firemen is always held on Christmas eve. Fox's orchestra, of Portland, will furnish music for the occasion. The committee in charge of the affair is William Peters, Roy Woodward, George Woodward, Harry Wilson, Al Cannon, C. Montgomery, Louis Nobel and Harry Soller.

Licensed to Marry. County Clerk Greenman Friday afternoon issued a marriage license to Ethel E. Anderson and Worthy E. Edwards. License to marry has been granted to J. F. Wachtman and Sophie Meyer.

STONE. Farmers have been plowing hereabouts trying to finish their plowing while the land is dry and in good order. Young Mr. Byers was plowing on the 7th of December and expected to finish up for the present and take a rest.

Frank Hattan has been plowing with three horses on one plow on land that he disked before the fall rains set in. If good tillage will make a crop the above certainly will tell the tillage story.

The fall sown vetch and oats look fine and the frosty nights don't look like the growing forces at present. The Mumpower & Lillie sawmill has at last got up steam, especially the Lillie half. W. E. Mumpower is the saw man for Mr. Lillie. Grant Mumpower and D. T. Griffith are handling saw logs for Mr. Lillie. They load the logs on a logging wagon.

There have been two young men preaching up at Logan. One is of Irish descent and the other English.

The two young men came here and procured the school house to preach in and preached two or three times in the school house and the board of directors closed the school house against them. The school house is always been used for Sunday School and preaching. If this action is a pattern for others why not close the house against all religious exercises.

The young men applied for the church house and they preached till Saturday evening, the 5th, in the church. Several of our people expressed themselves as to the kind of church these young men belonged to, and that was the Joe Smithites, or Mormons, but they deny this charge so far as preaching in the church house and they preached till Saturday evening, the 5th, in the church.
