CANBY AND SOUTHERN CLACKAMAS

CANBY.
Born, Wednesday, December 9, to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hitchman, of Oregon City, a son. Mr. and Mrs. Hitchman are well known in this city, where they resided for some time.

Miss Samson, who recently purchased property here and has erected a neat cottage, is moving from the farm at Needy, and will make her future home here.

Mrs. W. C. Clark visited her old friend, Dr. Weaver, of Hubbard, Saturday of last week.

Charles Brewer had the misfortune to cut about one-third of his thumb nail off last week, cutting through the joint.

Blaine White, who has been associated with his brother, G. W. White, in the livery business here for the past two and one-half years, has disposed of his interest to George Scheer, and the firm is now White & Scheer. A two passenger automobile has just been added to the equipment of White & Scheer, and these gentlemen expect to in the near future add a four passenger automobile. Blaine White, since disposing of his stable here, is engaged in handling larger teams, and has the large barn near the school house. Mr. Scheer, who has been connected with the White Bros. livery stable for the past two years, is well known here.

George Clarip, one of the prosperous young farmers of Clackamas, was in Canby on business Wednesday. Mr. Clarke, who with his brother have purchased their father's farm at Clackamas, the latter now residing at Milwaukie, have recently hauled 20 tons of Italian prunes, and 10 tons of Petit prunes. The farm owned by these young men is one of the best kept farms in the county. They are contemplating planting walnut trees between the prune trees, and all of the available soil will be utilized. Clarke Brothers are the kind of farmers that Clackamas county needs, and from the appearance of their place, shows the interest they take in making a farm valuable and profitable.

L. C. Mize, traveling salesman, has been visiting with his family in this city during the week.

C. H. Giger, who resides near Glad Tidings, has sold his farm to Fred Luckt, a recent arrival from Manfred, North Dakota.

Herbert Myers and Otto Krueger went to Portland on Saturday, returning on Sunday evening's train.

Mr. and Mrs. Zartor and daughter were Portland visitors Tuesday and returned to Canby Wednesday.

The Ladies' Aid Society met at the home of Mrs. Andrew Kocher Wednesday afternoon. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Mitts.

The handsome home of Joseph Fellows has been completed, and Mr. Fellows moved his family the first of the week. Mr. Fellows says that the reason he moved on Sunday was that it was so foggy and did not think the people near by could see the furniture being hauled. Before the job of moving was completed the fog had arisen, and left Mr. Fellows and assistants in plain view. He says the next time he moves he will take a day off from the store and rest on Sunday.

R. S. Coe, Jr., of Portland, came to Canby on Sunday, where he spent the day with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Coe. He was accompanied home by his wife and two children, who have been making a two weeks' visit here.

A social dance will be given at the city hall in Canby on Saturday evening, December 19. An oyster supper will be served at the Hanna confectionery store, the price of the supper being 50 cents per couple, and the tickets for the hall will be 75 cents.

The Epworth League meets on Friday evening at the home of Rev. W. J. Weber. Each member attending will represent some book, and one of the features of the evening will be a guessing contest. After the business meeting a social time will follow.

Stamps given free with every order of cabinets and one button free with every order of stamps. Also special prices on enlargements until January 1, 1909, only. C. W. DAMM, Canby, Oregon.

The musical entertainment given in the city hall on Monday evening by the DeVoss family under the auspices of Rev. W. J. Weber, was a very successful affair. The hall was well filled with an appreciative audience. The musical programme was exceptionally good, and the little tots who appeared, brought forth much applause. The selections by the orchestra were classical, and those attending speak in the highest praise of the entertainment.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Eccles have moved into their new cottage. The house is up-to-date, and with its modern conveniences is one of the most attractive little homes of Canby. The interior was planned by Mrs. Eccles, and her plans were carried out by the contractor, Mr. Dedace.

Mr. and Mrs. James Evans have gone to Portland where they will visit with their daughter, Mrs. Burgoyne, for a few days. Mr. Evans' health has improved somewhat within the past few days, and his many friends here hope for a speedy recovery.

The M. E. church and Christian church will unite in their Christmas exercises on Christmas eve. The entertainment will be given in the M. E. church, and a special programme of music and recitations is being prepared. A Christmas tree will also be one of the features. Last year the school children held Christmas exercises, but it has been decided to unite with the churches on that night.

Rev. C. O. Rosing and family, who recently arrived from San Francisco, to make their home here, have taken the house vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Eccles. Rev. Rosing has been called here to assist Rev. H. Roghin in his church work, as the field is too large for one pastor to cover, and by Rev. Rosing's assistance, the good work can be carried on to a better advantage. Rev. Rosing will have charge of the Canby Norwegian Lutheran church, and will hold services in Barlow, Needy, Woodburn, and other places.

Services will be held at Needy next Sunday morning, and at Barlow at 3 o'clock and on the following Sunday at Canby. All are invited to attend these services.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Suter, who have been conducting the City Hotel for the past two years, have sold out to Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Keys, who recently arrived here from Plains, Western Kansas. Mr. and Mrs. Keys are delighted with the climate of Oregon. They spare no pains to give the people of Canby a first class hotel and will make good home cooking a specialty. Mr. and Mrs. Suter have gone to Portland to make their home.

Mrs. R. S. Coe will leave on Friday for Portland, where she will spend a few days with relatives.

On Tuesday evening the Rebekah lodge will initiate three new members, and following the business session a supper will be served. The Rebekah lodge has taken six new members at recent meetings, and is one of the fast growing lodges of Canby. At the meeting following this there will be an installation of officers.

The well on William Cantwell's place has been undergoing extensive repairs. Mr. Cantwell has been assisted in the work by J. W. Leiser and G. H. Fellers. The well is 42 feet deep, and is brick lined. The first three feet is solid concrete, and the brick wall extends from the concrete to the platform of the well. A pump will be installed the latter part of the week. The water of this well is excellent, and there is always an abundance the year round.

Mrs. John Heinz and Mrs. Frank Brush, of Mackaburg, are visiting with Mrs. Holtzman.

Mrs. Mary Hougham is having her property cleared, and many of the young fir trees have been cut down.

The Gold Medal contest held at the M. E. church on Friday evening drew a large and enthusiastic audience. The excellent work of the young people who took an active part in the programme was admired by all. Royce Brown, who was the only boy contesting for the medal, gave as his subject "A Boy On Prohibition." The manner in which young Brown recited this section showed that he had given his subject careful study, and was awarded the gold medal at the conclusion of the programme.

The others who took part in the contest, and who did well, were Mabel Chase, Florence Knight, Frances Spender, and Christie Zec. Royce Brown is now eligible to compete for the grand gold medal. Florence Knight won second place. At the contest last year Royce Brown was awarded one of the silver medals at the first contest held here. The gold medal was presented by E. C. Brown, of Carus, who acted as one of the judges. Each of the contestants was awarded souvenir books. During the evening eighteen persons, mostly young men, signed the temperance pledge. At the silver medal contest held last year, Miss Ora Snell, A. Chase, J. K. Gribble, Albert Gribble and Wm. Vorpahl.

In politics Mr. Mack was first a Whig, afterwards a staunch Republican, in religion an agnostic. His belief can best be described by a favorite quotation: "Bound to no creeds, and to no sects confined. This world's my home, my brethren all mankind. Love truth, do good, be just and fair with all. Stand for the right, although the heavens fall."

Mr. Mack was an indefatigable worker against saloons, gambling and all kindred vices.

To Mr. and Mrs. Mack were born the following children: Mrs. Estella Mosherberger, of Woodburn, Or.; Victor L. of Aurora; Arthur L. of Stayton; Oscar E., who died at Walla Walla, Wash., in 1848; Laurence V., who died at Canby in 1900; Byron L., of Douglas, Wyoming; Cecil C., and Ramon W., of Big Sandy, Montana; Morley T., Roscoe and Mrs. Ola M. Gurley of Canby.

Kenedy's Laxative Cough Syrup stops the cough and drives the cold from the system. Children like it. Sold by Jones Drug Co.

The first of a series of sermons will begin at the M. E. church on Sunday evening by the pastor, Rev. Weber. The subject for that evening will be "The Land of the Koran," and will be handsomely illustrated with 95 views. The pastor will hold services at Carus on Sunday morning, and at Central Point in the afternoon.

The city election has passed, and the candidates who were chosen by the people of Canby are all well known men, who have always taken an active interest in the city of Canby. The election took place in the city hall, and the polls were open from 9 to 6 o'clock. In the selection of the city clerk and the treasurer, general satisfaction is manifested. The following is the ticket elected: Citizens-Treasurer, L. D. Walker, councilmen, J. A. Graham, Charles N. Watt, W. H. Bair; Good Government League-Charles T. Bates.

Mrs. Arthur Mack and daughter, Etta Engel, of Stayton, who were called here by the death of Mr. Mack's father, the late William O. Mack, left Wednesday afternoon for Portland, where they will visit with friends and relatives for a few days before returning to their home. Mr. Mack accompanied them to this city to attend the funeral of his father, and returned to Stayton Wednesday morning. Mr. Mack formerly resided at Mackaburg, and they are well known in Canby and vicinity.

A Kocher, the hardware dealer, went to Salem on a business trip Wednesday.

William O. Mack—Of German-Irish descent, was born in Harpersfield, New York, on December 7, 1820, and was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Abner Mack and cousin to Queen Victoria. Mr. Mack went to Brownsville, Pa., when a young man, and there married Louisa M. Graham in 1845. From there they moved to Nunda, Ill., where they lived until 1852, when they became imbued with the Oregon fever and started with wife and children across the plains with ox teams, arriving here in fall of same year, having been six months on the road, and enduring all the trials and hardships then incident to such a trip. They settled on a homestead where the town of Mackaburg now is. There they built the first house, afterward a school house, one of the first in Clackamas County, where he taught the first school. They lived there till 1878, when they removed to Canby. Louis M. Mack died at Canby in 1895, two weeks after passing the 50th wedding anniversary. About a year after her death he was stricken with paralysis and has been almost entirely helpless ever since.

Mr. Mack was a man of unusual intellectually—a fluent writer and great reader. He lived the life of a recluse, seldom going away from his home, but making all welcome who came within its portals. Very plain and unassuming in dress and manner, thoroughly despising shams, toadyism, ostentation or display of any kind, and to emphasize the fact made repeated requests that when his time came to die, his interment should be without ceremony of any kind, save the reading of "Thanatopsis," a favorite poem.

Being a staunch Union man, immediately after the battle of Ft. Sumpter he raised the Stars and Stripes, the said flag being made by his wife and eldest daughter, and to prevent its being torn from the staff by Southern sympathizers stood guard at night with a loaded gun. The interment was in Canby cemetery. George Ogle, a personal friend of Mr. Mack's, read the biography of the deceased, and "Thanatopsis" was read by request by the deceased's nephew, Prof. H. L. Mack, superintendent of Benton County schools.

The pall bearers were old time friends, who were Wm. Knight, A. L. Snell, A. Chase, J. K. Gribble, Albert Gribble and Wm. Vorpahl.

On Sunday morning the thermometer registered 25 degrees above zero. The coldest weather of the winter thus far.

Conrad Tauscher is able to work at the mill after having his leg badly lacerated several weeks ago.

BARLOW.

The United Lutheran Ladies' Aid Society will have an auction sale in Columbia Hall Friday evening, December 18. All kinds of fancy work will be sold and many useful articles. Nearly all of the articles will make nice Christmas gifts. Refreshments will be served. All are cordially invited.

Misses Cora Howe and Alma Rymer returned home from Portland Monday.

The Busy Bee Sewing Society met at the home of Miss Laura Rymeron Thursday evening, December 3.

Great excitement was caused here last Thursday by H. Hanson being lost. Mr. Hanson went into the woods Thursday afternoon after a tree to set in his yard. He got turned around and became bewildered and lost. As he did not return in the evening a party of about thirty men went to look for him. They could find no trace of the missing man and all returned about 10:30 o'clock to resume the search the next morning. They hunted until noon and while they were in for dinner Ezra Hurst, who lives about two miles west of town, brought him home. Mr. Hanson is an old gentleman and he said he wandered around all night. He was much fatigued and badly scratched by the underbrush.
