DR. KING'S NEW DISCOVERY

FOR COUGHS AND COLDS AND ALL THROAT AND LUNG PHEUMONIA AND CONSUMPTION

'Two years ago a severe cold settled on my lungs and so completely prostrated me that I was unable to work and scarcely able to stand. I then was advised to try Dr. King's New Discovery, and after using one bottle I went back to work, as well as I ever was.' W. J. ATKINS, Banner Springs, Tenn.

But he never forgot the circumstances that led to his misfortune and never ceased to wish for an interview with the informer. One day after Baker had taken his new position a woman with a little boy got on his train. When he asked her for her ticket she began a pitiful moaning, and at the same time the child began to cry, but the ticket was not forthcoming. "Ticket!" said Baker sharply. "I haven't any ticket," the woman walled. "My husband has fust died and left me without money. I'm going to the poorhouse."

"Pay your fare or get off," said Baker resolutely.

When the train came to a full stop he took the woman by the back of her dress and hustled her off on to solld ground. Then he turned upon her and rained blows upon her with the rapidity of a Gatling gun. That his feet should not be idle he kept them at work kicking

The car windows were thrown up and a score of passengers had their heads out the windows, crying "Stop "Don't let the bound kill a woman!" "Won't some e e put an end to this barbarity?" and many other remarks of similar intent. But a promischous crowd is never apt to do knight errantry work unless some bold spirit steps forth to take the lead. So Baker pounded with no other interference than words. Finally he gave a jerk on the would be deadhead's dress that tore it from neck to skirt, leaving Again the blows fell on the spotter But there had been a change of sympathy. It had passed from the spotter to the conductor. The cries were now "Lay it on, conductor," "Give it to "Hit him sgain!"

When Baker was satisfied he called to the trainman to put the child down beside its "parent," signaled the engineer to go on and Jumped on the As it pulled away the passengers shouted derisively at the spotter and when he was out of hearing clustered around the conductor, vying with each other for an opportunity to
