BROTHERHOOD HOLD MEETING.
George Hinman, of China, Gives an Excellent Address.

The third monthly meeting of the Brotherhood of the Congregational church was held in the church parlors last Wednesday evening, E. T. Avison, president, presiding. A splendid banquet was served at 6:30 by the Ladies' Aid Society of the church and from 50 to 60 men, who had their eating appetites with them, did their best to eat the ladies out of provisions, but as usual failed, as the supply seemed unlimited.

During the banquet and after the Patterson Brothers gave musical selections on the dulcinar and violin. This musical combination was quite a novelty, and was greatly appreciated, as was evidenced by the hearty applause given each number. Encores were very much in demand. After the banquet George W. Hinman, of Foo Chow, China, gave an excellent address on "Political Conditions in China." Mr. Hinman is the representative of the First Congregational church of Portland, in China. Following his address some time was spent in asking and answering questions about China and the Chinese. This part of the evening was very interesting, and Mr. Hinman won his way to the hearts of all present by his urbanity and manliness, and it was certainly a great treat to hear him.

Two new members were voted in to the Brotherhood, bringing the total membership up to 55. After votes of thanks to the speaker and the ladies, the meeting dispersed, all agreeing that this was the best yet.

Low priced things are not always cheap. Low prices are sometimes dearly bought. There's such a thing as "extravagant economy"—which means saving on the price at the cost of quality. We sell good, wholesome qualities in all our manufactured food products just as low as it is possible to sell them. We won't sell the other kind at any price. Foods that come directly out of the ground can be pretty accurately judged by any housewife. But the hands of man get a chance to adulterate and deceive in manufactured goods, and in these you must depend upon us to select for you. We can guarantee the following to be unexcelled in quality and extra low in price:
